Mrs. Martin is the sister of Mr. Gay and this marks their first visit for twenty-six years. Mr. Martin and Mr. Bent are past bandmasters of the Victoria staff band.

Mrs. Bowerman Home From East

Mrs. William Bowerman and small son, John Hamilton, returned to their Medford home yesterday morning by train from New York City where they had spent the past four months. In New York, the Bowermans were guests of Mrs. Bowerman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Young, former Medford residents.

Mrs. Frohbach Visits Friends

A visitor in Medford today is Mrs. E. O. Frohbach of Ashland, a former resident of this city. This afternoon Mrs. Frohbach attended a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Hattie Allen on South Orange street. Other guests were Mrs. A. C. Hubbard and Mrs. John Butler. Bridge was enjoyed following the pleasant luncheon.

Eagles Members To Have Party

Eagles auxiliary drill team, captain and business manager, will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in club-rooms at 42 North Front street to practice.

Tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock the auxiliary will honor all members whose birthdays occur in September and October. A supper party with birthday cakes and gifts will be enjoyed. All members whose birthdays are not being observed are asked to bring dishes of fruit. Husbands are invited.

Planning Group Will Convene. The planning commission of the ladies' auxiliary of the First Baptist church will convene Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock for a covered dish luncheon at the home of Mrs. L. J. Knox, 221 Portland avenue. Each member is asked to bring a covered dish to the session.

Carnation Club Enjoys Meeting. Carnation club met recently at the home of Mrs. Estelle Bennett with Mrs. Susie Johnson and Mrs. Mary White assisting. A brief business session was followed by a memory test. Twenty-five members were present and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Bronchitis, acute or chronic, is an inflammatory condition of the mucous membranes lining the bronchial tubes. Even if other medicines have failed you may get relief now with Creomulsion. Chronic bronchitis can develop if your chest cold is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding that you are to like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. See that the name Creomulsion is on the bottle and you will get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

Group Enjoys Evening Rides

An innovation in pleasant valley social affairs are the series of weekly evening horseback rides which are proving very popular. Friday evening a group made an all-night ride to the top of Roxy Ann and down to Oregon-Switzerland. The gatherings start at the Medford Riding stable and are held Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

Toastmistress Club to Convene

Toastmistress club will convene Wednesday night for its initial session of the fall season. Purpose of the meet is to reorganize the club and to appoint a nominating committee who will in turn choose new officers for the year. Delbert Burke, speech instructor at the Medford senior high school, will be present and will act as club critic. Frank Hull, club advisor and originator, will also attend. All persons interested and members are invited to attend the meeting.

Gwen White to Take Vocal Training

Miss Gwen White, daughter of Mrs. E. J. White of Phoenix left here recently for Portland to take a vocal course at Lincoln high school in the northern city. Her instructor is Miss Evelyn Calibrath. Miss White, who is only fifteen years of age, has gained an enviable reputation in the valley for her splendid tenor voice. She has appeared on various programs locally and was the pupil of George Maddox.

EMBARGO LIFTING WILL MEAN MORE AID LATER, CLAIM

tion to warring nations of Europe. It is the law of the land and no arms have gone to Europe."

Referring to former Gov. Alfred Smith's assertions that the "law has not worked," the Idaho senator said:

"It is working. It is preventing profits out of the sale of arms. 'How has it not worked?' he asked. 'We know,' Borah said, 'that the manufacturers of arms and munitions are quite active in a desire to repeal the existing law. Why? Because it is working.'"

Speaking as chairman of the foreign relations committee, Pittman offered the administration's neutrality bill to repeal the arms embargo as "the most important legislation that has ever been proposed to congress" and said it was designed "for the purpose of keeping us out of a European war."

Long before the Nevada senator opened debate for proponents of new neutrality legislation, crowds had ignored a cold rain to throng the capitol and overflow the senate's galleries. They were drawn by prospect of a debate expected to rank high among historic senate discussions.

(The administration bill would wipe out the present embargo against the sale of armaments to warring countries, would require belligerents to take title to goods purchased in this country before shipment and would require that American goods be carried to belligerents in non-American vessels. In addition, the president would be authorized to designate combat areas which American vessels and citizens could enter.)

Grave Situation Pittman told his colleagues "no such grave situation has threatened the world in all history" as the current conflict abroad. He said these developments abroad has aroused a feeling "of fear and distrust in the minds of all people," but added:

"There would seem to be, fortunately, no sufficient grounds for fear of being drawn into this war as we were forced into the World War, so long as we conform to the admitted precepts of international law and prevent our citizens from subjecting themselves to destruction in the mad war raging in Europe."

Pittman deviated from his prepared speech several times, once to criticize "some thoughtless persons" who, he said, "are saying that Woodrow Wilson led us into war and that Franklin Roosevelt is leading us into war."

Asserting it was the loss of lives of American seamen, and not the destruction of American ships that caused the United States to go to war in 1917, Pittman declared:

"Yet we hear men in high places changing today that Woodrow Wilson led us into that war. It was the country that took the congress of the United States into the war."

Galleries Warned The Nevada senator said opponents of the legislation had condemned repeal of the arms embargo would favor France and Great Britain, because they presumably would control sea commerce with the United States.

The Rev. Z. Barney Phillips, chaplain, opened the session with a prayer for peace.

Vice President Garner warned the galleries against conversation, packed though they were, with spectators lining the walls. Casual visitors helped fill the diplomatic section.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, arose to urge members to keep their discussion "on a high plane befitting the United States senate."

Barkley said he felt he was not exaggerating in saying "this debate may go down in history as one of the historic discussions of the United States senate."

He said he hoped all members would co-operate in "speedy, prompt and yet deliberate consideration of this measure," and added the senate would meet daily at noon for approximately five hours of debate.

McNary Replies Replying, Senator McNary of Oregon, the Republican leader, said all the Republicans desired was the opportunity for legitimate discussion of the bill. He said his group would cooperate to keep the debate on a high level.

Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) offered two amendments to the administration bill. One would require citizens of belligerent governments to pay cash for any armaments purchased in this country. There would be no interference with the provision permitting belligerent governments to obtain credits up to 90 days.

The second amendment would prohibit belligerent governments from selling any securities in the United States. The bill, as it stands, would forbid the sale of only those securities issued after the act had been invoked.

Lester Wilcox Jr. left Sunday for Portland where he will be a student at the Multnomah School of the Bible.

SATTERLEE YOUTH 'VERY MUCH ALIVE'

Sacred Heart hospital attendants reported today that Norman Satterlee "is very much alive," and that, although his condition is poor, "he is holding his own very well and is cheerful and determined to get well." A rumor was current in Medford today that the young Medford boy, fighting for life against a broken neck and total paralysis that extends from his shoulders to his toes, had died Saturday evening. Nobody seemed to know where the erroneous report started.

Norman suffered his broken neck on July 28, and since then he has been confined in Sacred Heart hospital, where every effort is being made to aid him in recovery. He received the injury while making a shallow dive in Rogue river near Bybee bridge.

Mexican Miners Killed MEXICO CITY, Oct. 2—(AP)—The National Mining union today reported 69 miners were killed and two injured in a coal mine explosion near Palau, Coahuila state, yesterday. An accumulation of gas was blamed for the blast.
