

CASH AND CARRY FAIR TO ALL IS SENATOR'S VIEW

his colleagues, "why we should not have both the arms embargo and the cash and carry provisions."

Repeal Price Too High One of the leaders of the opposition to the bill in its present form, Nye declared:

"There can be quick passage through the senate and through the house, of legislation to provide a cash-and-carry provision to cover all commerce which is not covered by the existing embargo law."

"I want that kind of law, have wanted it for a long time, have proposed and stood with others here in urging its enactment into law. I now stand ready to do anything possible to bring about the passage of that kind of legislation, but not if the repeal of the arms embargo is the price to be paid for it."

Nye took the floor after Senator Tobey (R., N. H.) had spoken in support of his proposal, first advanced yesterday, to split the present bill in two, enact now the shipping controls and other similar provisions, and take up later the question of repealing the embargo.

The North Dakotan spoke in a time previously assigned to Senator Overton (D., La.). When he arose there was a brief outburst of argument over whether he should talk then, but Overton ended that with the announcement Nye should proceed.

Danger To U. S. Ships Seen Tobey argued in support of his plan that "there is extreme likelihood that our ships will be in danger of being sunk in the war zones at any time, and thus endanger the determination of this country to be kept out of the European war."

While the historic debate held forth on the senate floor for the four day Senator George (D., Ga.) told reporters he expected Democratic authors of the pending bill to meet "soon" and consider modification of the shipping and financial provisions.

He said shipping interests had protested what they considered the stringency of the restrictions which would be imposed on shipping.

On the house side, Rep. Mundt (R., D.), charging "strategists" of the arms embargo repeal drive with committing a "sly legislative trick," demanded the house be permitted a full 30 days debate on neutrality legislation.

"The strategists of the embargo" repeal drive have resorted to a sly legislative trick in an effort to deprive house members from having due opportunity to consider any legislation now passed by the senate," he said.

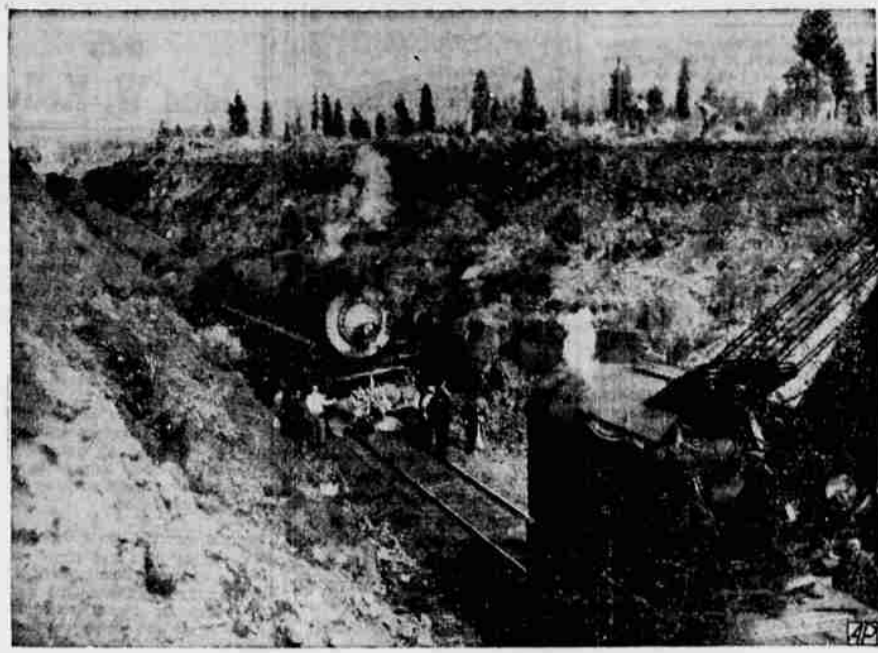

"Instead of introducing a new neutrality bill in the senate . . . the session of the senate foreign affairs committee (open to repeals only) determined upon the device of amending everything after the title of the previously-passed house bill. Thus while the bill is an entirely new piece of legislation, it will come back to us as an amendment to the house bill and under customary procedure will go to conference, the difference ratified, and then come to us for a 'yes' or 'no' vote with debate limited drastically and no opportunity for amendments."

At the White House, Senator Bridges (R., N.H.), after a conference with President Roosevelt, told reporters he was in "just the same position as I was before" on neutrality.

"I'm not committed to anybody on how I'll vote on the final issue," he explained, "I've been counselling against hurry and rush and I'm in a good position, because I voted against the neutrality bill in the first place. I am free to do as I please when the time comes."

Senator Overton followed Nye in the senate. Urging retention of the arms embargo, he argued the sale of armaments to European belligerents would constitute "armed intervention on the part of America."

Two Slightly Hurt in "Oregonian" Wreck

Two persons were slightly injured when the Southern Pacific's "Oregonian," southbound, struck a boulder and the locomotive and seven cars were derailed near Dunsmuir, Calif. A hundred feet of track was torn up. This is a general view of wreck. Note boulder in front of locomotive.

NO BORROWERS, BANK SUSPENDS BACKACHE? Try Flushing Excess Poisons And Acid Through Kidneys And Stop Getting Up Nights

35 CENTS PROVES IT When your kidneys are overtaxed and your bladder is irritated and passage scanty and often smart and burns, you may need Gold Medal Harlem Oil Capsules, a fine natural stimulant and diuretic that starts to work at once and costs but 35 cents at any modern drug store.

It's one good safe way to put more healthy activity into kidneys and bladder — you should sleep more soundly — the whole night through. But be sure to get GOLD MEDAL — it's a genuine medicine for weak kidneys — right from Harlem in Holland. Don't accept a substitute.

Robbers twice tried to loot the bank. The first time, in 1925, Cashier C. C. Cook opened fire from his home across the street and filled two robbers with buckshot. They recovered and are now in the penitentiary.

In 1927, burglars entered the bank at night and obtained a few nickels. Cook at the time was in Chicago.

Shock Treatment Cures CANBERRA, Australia.—(UP)—The federal director of mental hygiene has announced that 46 per cent of the patients in government mental homes who have been treated with the new insulin-cardiazol shock treatment have recovered full mental health. The treatment was carried out on 202 patients of whom 92 were restored mentally.

Dry Ice Lures Fish WILKES-BARRE, Pa.—(UP)—Patrolman Michael Reiser has devised a method of improving live plugs. He drills a large hole at the top and a smaller one at the bottom, filling the bait with dry ice and plugging the top hole. The plug, floating on the water, emits a trail of fumes which assertedly proves an attraction to large fish.

Spilled TULARE, Cal.—(UP)—If California's traffic laws made spreading catpaw on the highways a serious offense, depending on the quantity used, someone here would have had a huge penalty to square. Joseph Goes turned his truck into another one being driven by William E. Long and the latter's entire load of 12 tons of catpaw was spread over the neighborhood.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE Many of these gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains or are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking various acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Deane's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters waste from your blood. Get Deane's Pills.

WHITE SLAVE CASE IN JURY'S HANDS; NEGRO'S TRIAL ON

assume full responsibility for transporting the Heavers girl. The government, on the other hand, contended the Falls woman had a part in the transportation arrangements.

Shortly after the case against the Falls woman went to the jury, Richard W. Williams, 40, a Negro, went on trial before Judge McColl and a jury on a charge of violating the Mann act. He was accused of transporting Lauvaine Alexander, 23, a Negro, from Quincy, Cal., to Klamath Falls last May 26 for immoral purposes.

First government witness, the Alexander girl told of living with Williams in Quincy, saying she had engaged in prostitution from time to time.

One day, the girl testified, Williams said business would be better in Klamath Falls and she asserted that he arranged for her transportation to Klamath Falls with Oscar Reynolds, Williams accompanying her to the Oregon city. There, she testified, she engaged in prostitution and turned over her money to Williams.

Reynolds, also a Negro, told of conveying Williams and the girl to Klamath Falls. Pansy Payne, a Negro residing in Klamath Falls, told of the arrival of Williams and the girl, Robert Elder, Klamath Falls policeman, testified about a quarrel between Williams and the Alexander woman which led to the man's arrest.

The case continued this afternoon. Under court appointment, W. W. Baldersee, Grants Pass attorney, represented the defendant. The government's case was in charge of Carl C. Donaghy, U. S. attorney, and J. Mason Dillard, assistant U. S. attorney.

Jury hearing the case was composed of R. H. Seegmiller, Claud F. Hall, Hugo Reingold, A. R. Renner, H. G. Enders, J. E. Glass, Archie L. Ferns, Emil Brit, Ambrose Pope, H. E. Massey, Ben Vimont and E. H. Brayton.

Six additional trial jurors were selected this morning. They were Hugo Reingold, A. R. Renner, H. G. Moore, Donald Clark, Richard Smith and Frank H. Rogers.

The government filed two informations this morning against George Harris, 53, and trial on the informations was set for Monday. Harris had been previously indicted, accused of causing a fire that destroyed hundreds of acres of timber land in the

Britons Warned Gas Masks Are Really Needed

LONDON, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The British government and the press warned civilians today against failure to carry gas masks.

While transportation companies joined air raid precautions officials in checking up on "gas mask slackers," the London Daily Express reminded the public that "bombs or no bombs this war is on full blast."

"Some folks need a bomb to tell them this war is being fought," the Express commented. "They expected ferocious and continued bombing—now they're puzzled. Don't worry, friends, the war is on all right!"

Klamath Indian reservation last summer. The informations charge him with causing the destruction of trees in two different sections of the reservation last July 12.

Robert Thornton, Medford attorney, has been appointed by the court to defend Harris.

ACCUSED ABDUCTOR ANSWERS TO MANY ALIASES IN COURT

MERCED, Calif., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Dorothy Heber gave her true name as Rosanna Roosevelt Blesker Lindholm when she appeared in court today on an indictment charging abduction, child stealing and conspiracy.

Superior Judge Hal S. Shaffer ordered she should be referred to by that name in future proceedings.

The court set the arraignment of Mrs. Lindholm, Sally Stanford of San Francisco, and Miss Stanford's brother, Merrill Busby, for 10 a. m. Monday.

Mrs. Lindholm refused to plead until her attorneys had studied the grand jury indictment further. She and the other two defendants were indicted after 14-year-old Evelyn Thompson of Livingston allegedly was taken on a trip by Busby. They were apprehended in Oregon by federal agents.

Superior Judge James D. Garibaldi denied a writ of habeas corpus for reduction of Mrs. Lindholm's bail.

TREASURER OF UNION ACCUSED OF SHORTAGE McMinnville, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The grand jury indicted Robert McCaskey, treasurer of AFL local No. 2275, Carpenters and Joiners of America, last night on a charge of embezzling union funds.

District Attorney Earl A. Nott said McCaskey was accused of taking $311. The union official posted $1000 bail with Justice of the Peace Frank Holmes.

Wall St. Report NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—(AP)—What looked like a promising rally in today's stock market fizzled after leaders had run up fractions to around two points.

"Let's join forces," stated Buff. "I need someone to take care of. You need to be taken care of." "Meaning?" "Meaning... marriage." "Buff, you're crazy," exploded Tim. "Marry you because I let a woman fool me? No!" This was harder than Buff thought it would be. But Buff always went after what she wanted... READ.
