"Beyond doubt, the latter alternative would, with other existing conditions, precipitate a depression even greater than what occurred in 1929. Should we choose the other course and sell to Great Britain and France on credit, it is possible that we may find our own national debt increased from its present 50 billions to 75 or 100 billions of dollars.

"The resultant collapse of government solvency would be the supreme tragedy of all, with attempts at dictatorship, with disorder, and perhaps rebellion in the country."

Downey urged a steady reduction in trade with Europe as a permanent policy, to prevent sudden dislocations in time of war.

A dozen senate opponents offered today to accept revised neutrality legislation which would retain the arms embargo now in effect and set up a requirement for cash payments on belligerents' purchases.

Senator Borah (R. Idaho) said the group concurred in the following formal statement:

"We are still willing, as has been our position from the first, to accept the administration bill if the administration will leave in the law the embargo on arms, ammunition and implements of war and provide for cash instead of credit on other commodities.

"But we will not yield to the repeal of the arms embargo and it is not necessary if neutrality is the sole objective."

Borah those agreeing to the statement were Senators Johnson (R. Cal.), Downey (D. Cal.), Danaher (R. Conn.), Overton (D. La.), Bulow (D. S. D.), LaFollette (Prog. Wis.), Vandenberg (R. Mich.), McCarran (D. Nev.), Nye (R. N. D.), Shipstead (Fl. Minn.) and Holt (D. W. Va.).

Borah said the statement was issued "simply for the purpose of trying to make it plain that our fight is against repeal of the arms embargo."

"I didn't learn how to BAKE—I JUST LEARNED HOW TO BUY FLOUR!"

There is lots of difference in flours—because there's lots of difference in wheats!

For instance, the Fisher Mills alone buy as many as a hundred types and specifications of wheat—all kept separate in the great Fisher elevators!

Yet flour milled from just one of them won't do for you! You need, for your many kinds of home baking, a specially blended flour—a flour that won't leave you with tough pie crust, soggy cakes or heavy rolls—a flour that's always the same.

So Fisher selects from all these wheats—blends just the right ones to make the ideal EVERY-PURPOSE flour for your home use. Nothing is left to chance. And with millions of bushels of wheat to draw from, its goodness never varies. It always acts the same.

That's why it's fun to bake with Fisher's Blend Flour. That's why it always pays to tell your grocer—

Goodness! Who'd have thought of Peanut Butter Bread?

The kids will go for this Peanut Butter Bread! And so will the rest of the family! A fine recipe. And a fine chance to prove what a difference Fisher's blending makes in flour.

Yield: Two small loaves

|                             |                           |
|-----------------------------|---------------------------|
| 1 egg                       | 1 teaspoon salt           |
| 1/4 cup peanut butter       | 1 cup brown sugar         |
| 2 cups sweet milk           | 1 cup dates or raisins    |
| 4 cups Fisher's Blend Flour | 4 teaspoons baking powder |

Sift and measure the Blend Flour. Reuff with baking powder and salt. Cream the peanut butter and sugar. Add the well-beaten egg. Add the dry ingredients alternately with the milk, adding the fruit with the last amount of flour. Pour into well-oiled pan. Bake 1 1/2 hours at 350 degrees.

If you need help on baking problems, or if you need recipes, write to Mary Mills, Fisher Flouring Mills Co., Seattle, Wash.
