

POLICE OFFICERS COMPARE NOTES AT ANNUAL MEET

Improved Parole Systems For The Rehabilitation Of Criminals Advocated — Secret Service Lauds Aid.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Improved parole systems for rehabilitating criminals were advocated by one high-ranking federal officer today while another told the International Association of Chiefs of Police here today it should foster closer cooperation among its members.

The present parole system was described by James V. Bennett, director of the United States bureau of prisons, in an address prepared for delivery before the police chiefs' 46th annual congress, as "too closely allied with politics."

Frank J. Wilson, chief of the United States secret service, in another prepared address told the chiefs they should promote personal cooperation by frequent state and regional meetings. He praised the chiefs for aid given the secret service, including its protection of the president of the United States.

More Aid F. B. I. R. T. Harbo of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, which acts as a central clearing house for nationwide police statistics, reported local enforcement areas cooperating with the FBI in this respect had increased from 1,127 in 1936 to more than 4,200 in 1938.

Other reports and statements to the convention included: Chief C. H. Hansen of Wenatchee, Wash.—"I believe that our (the police department's) role in the smaller cities . . . should be that of a good neighbor . . . as long as our neighbor returns the rake he borrowed in good condition without any teeth bent or the handle broken, as long as his activities do not interfere with us or disturb our peace and happiness to such an extent that a little friendly visit from us will not remedy the situation, as long as his activities are in no way harmful to the juvenile in whom we are all so deeply interested, I feel that he is a good neighbor and that we as police departments should act accordingly."

Chief Constable Martin Bruton of Regina, Canada—"Force must be met with force, therefore when mobs organize in large numbers . . . and when the authority of the law is flouted and the police whose duty it is to see that the law is observed are challenged and attacked by mobs armed with murderous weapons, then I say it is futile to talk about night sticks and tear gas as the best weapons of defense. No! The proper weapons of defense are firearms and police are justified in using them when attacked by murderous mobs."

Pear Promoter

John Hall (above), midwestern manager of the Oregon-Washington-California Pear Bureau, left recently from the Pacific Coast for the East to carry on pear industry promotion work, recently renewed by Roy Webster, eastern manager of the Bureau. Mr. Hall will make his headquarters in Chicago, contacting the trade in several midwestern states, supervising the promotional work and dealer service men.

EPISCOPALIANS TO MEET WEDNESDAY

All members of St. Mark's Episcopal church will participate in an afternoon and evening session tomorrow.

At 4 o'clock all women of the parish will gather for a deacony, the business of which will be conducted by deacony officers. Addresses by diocesan officers of the women's auxiliary headed by Mrs. Robert A. Nelson of Portland will be given.

At 6:30 dinner will be served in the parish hall or North Oakdale avenue for all men and women of this church area. Clergymen, vestrymen and church officers are invited. Addresses will be presented during the dinner hour by the Rev. Lansing E. Kempton, rector of Trinity church in Portland; Rev. Lewis B. Kelter, rector of All Saints church in Portland; William Lee Richards of New York City and Bishop Benjamin Dagwell of the Oregon diocese in Portland.

FOUR WILL ADMIT CHICKEN STEALING

William L. Christean, Silas L. Fleming, Chester E. Carter and Lester W. Shoemaker, charged with larceny of livestock, one rooster and four hens, have signified their intention of entering pleas on a district attorney's information, according to Deputy District Attorney George W. Nelson.

The quartet will appear in circuit court as soon as Judge H. D. Norton returns.

The men, according to the statement of one, following a dance at Rogie River last Saturday, during which they drank wine and beer, went to the barn of V. E. Hughes and stole a coop containing five chickens. They carried the container a short distance, wrung the necks of the chickens, and took them to a house and cooked them. Only two of the party went to the barn, the others remaining in the auto.

MRS. LATHROP TO SPEAK SAMS VALLEY GRANGE

Sams Valley home extension unit and Grange are co-sponsors for a meeting at the Sams Valley Grange hall, October 11 at 8 p. m. at which Mrs. A. T. Lathrop will discuss her recent experiences in England.

The talk will be illustrated with moving pictures and slides.

The public is invited to attend. There will be no charge for admission.

ADMINISTRATION SENATORS VICTOR IN POWER TEST

The motion to split up the bill was made by Senator Tobey (R-N.H.). He proposed to send the measure back to the foreign relations committee with instruction to write two bills—one the embargo repealer, the other setting forth restrictions on American shipping and travel to belligerents.

Tobey wanted immediate action on the latter provisions, which would prohibit American vessels from carrying any goods to warring countries. He contended procedure would not forestall early action on repealing the arms embargo, a more recommended by President Roosevelt.

Leaders in the senate and the country have agreed that the causes which drew us into the last European conflict were the seizure and sinking of American merchant vessels carrying cargoes to belligerents," Tobey asserted.

"American merchant ships at this moment in the midst of war zones and carrying cargoes destined for the belligerents. There is great danger that some of them will be sunk—perhaps by mistake, perhaps deliberately—tomorrow, next week, or next month."

"Thus, by extensive debate of the congress on the arms embargo-repeal section of the bill we are holding up passage of those sections designed to keep our ships out of the danger zones. . . ."

"We should put first things first. . . . There are subtle, unseen forces working constantly to draw us into this European war. No action that we can take will be more discouraging to such forces than the action which is contemplated in my motion, to take our ships out of the war zones immediately, thereby eliminating a recurrence of the causes which drew us into the world war."

May Relax Sea Rules Earlier democratic members of the senate foreign relations committee said that they would meet soon to consider relaxation of the restrictions on shipping in the neutrality measure.

Senator George (D-Ga.) said an amendment probably would be proposed to permit American vessels to visit Australia, New Zealand and Canada. He added "we may be able to ease the restrictions so that our ships can operate in zones which are not dangerous."

As now phrased the bill would prohibit American ships from carrying goods to any belligerents or their possessions. Shipping interests have expressed vigorous opposition to that restriction.

Senator Johnson (D-Colo.) said they would hold up for the time being his motion for a three-day recess of congress to give the president a free hand to make a move toward bringing about peace in Europe.

"I don't think today is a good time to bring the motion up," Johnson said. "We ought to wait to see what Chamberlain and other European statesmen have to say about the prospects of peace."

As the senate convened, Senator Schwellenbach (D-Wash.) stepped into the record a number of newspaper editorials discussing the relationship between Russia and Finland.

Wall St. Report

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—(AP)—The stock market moved into rallying territory today and, with steel in front, leaders posted gains of 1 to 3 points at the best. Late profit taking, however, substantially reduced or canceled extreme advances.

Wall street, while still puzzled over the European war jumble, apparently refused to be muzzled by any great extent by peace talk and buyers came in at the opening with bids for favorites that would be benefited if the overseas conflict were long drawn-out.

Transfers approximated 900,000 shares.

FOES RESPONSIBLE IF WAR CONTINUES ASSERTS FUEHRER

Hitler said the winter relief work would be devoted chiefly to the Red Cross, which would practically be merged with it.

"The way ahead of us cannot be more difficult than that behind us. In pursuing this way we are strengthened by the fact that we have achieved a community of spirit in our nation."

"This year's relief must exceed everything hitherto achieved," he added. "We want to show peoples abroad that ally attempts to find evidence of a lack of unanimity among us are vain. . . . We want to make them respect our constitution. We want to bring evidence of what we can endure and accomplish."
