Robert Taylor and Hedy Lamarr Star In Craterian Show

An adventurous romance teeming with the drama of life and love under the overhead sun is to be seen in "Lady of the Tropics," at the Craterian Theatre. Two of filmdom's most glamorous stars, Robert Taylor and the eagerly-awaited Hedy Lamarr, making her second motion picture appearance, play the lovers in the dramatic story.

Any doubts that might have been held because of Miss Lamarr's overnight jump to fame with her American debut in "Algiers" will be dispelled by "Lady of the Tropics." Not only is she more beautiful than ever, but she plays the difficult, many-sided role of Manon with such a rare combination of sympathy and dramatic force that her position as a star is brilliantly affirmed.

Robert Taylor, cast as Bill Carey, young American who falls madly in love with the gorgeous Manon, adds even more stature to his high standing as an actor.

The action revolves around the love of Bill Carey, a penniless playboy, for Manon, whom he meets in Saigon, Indo-China. They are married, despite the warnings of friends that the inscrutable East is strongly in Manon's veins. Then Bill finds it impossible to get a passport for his wife to leave the country.

For Pierre Delaroch, an influential half-caste, is himself in love with Manon and exerts his powers to keep her in the country.

Reduced to abject poverty, Bill's fruitless search for work is ended when he obtains a job on a rubber plantation through the machinations of Delaroch. But this is only a ruse on the latter's part to try to reach

FATHER DROWNS SON IN BATHTUB; RAISES MERCY DEATH ISSUE

New York, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Lodging of a homicide charge against a 26-year-old unemployed soda clerk accused of drowning his five-year-old stepson in a bathtub raised the "mercy death" issue here today for the third time within a year.

Patrolman Walter Cleak said the stepfather, Lawrence Rougeau, dazed and disheveled, stepped up to him in Union Square yesterday, and told him: "I just killed my stepson, Jimmy, because he was groaning, and I was afraid he was going crazy like his mother."

"I tied his hands and feet with neckties and held his head under the water in the tub until he stopped squirming. I left him there and came out for a walk."

District Attorney Jacob Rosenblum said Rougeau's wife is an inmate of a Rockland county mental institution. He said Rougeau told him he had been influenced in his deed by reading accounts last week of the chloroforming of crippled Raymond Repouille, 13, by his father, Louis Repouille.

Repouille, 40, an elevator operator, was released yesterday on $5,000 bail. Police, who charged him with homicide, said Repouille described the killing of his blind, mentally-feeble son last Thursday as an "act of mercy."
