Dinner Party Is Wednesday Event at Holmes Residence

Mrs. Kinney Holmes entertained last evening at her home on Hillcrest road with a delightful dinner party.

Bidden to the affair were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fluhner, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Peirce, Mrs. T. Slater Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Deuel, Lloyd Williamson and Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Reinhart.

Cards were enjoyed throughout the evening.

This marked the first of a series of dinner parties which Mrs. Holmes will give.

Bengtsons Leave For Eastern Trip

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Bengtson and very small daughter Brenda, left last evening by train for the east where they will spend three or four weeks.

Mr. Bengtson plans to transact business in New York City while Mrs. Bengtson visits with relatives in Chicago. The family will then travel to St. Louis to be the guests of Mr. Bengtson's sister, Mrs. Edith Pearson. Here they will also visit Mr. Bengtson's other sister, Mrs. Linnea Froese, and then travel to Detroit where they will take possession of a new car to make the journey home via Denver way, stopping enroute at places of interest.

Dawes Home Scene Of Baptist Meet

Mrs. W. A. Dawes was hostess to the ladies auxiliary of the First Baptist church Tuesday afternoon when a civic program was enjoyed.

Rev. W. H. Eaton led the devotionals based on the word burden. He illustrated three proverbs using the word. Rev. Dawes led in prayer and Mrs. C. M. Hurd was heard in an interesting talk concerning the constitution of the U. S. She pointed out the many advantages the American women have over those in other countries.

A music solo was enjoyed by Mrs. D. V. Platt and Mrs. Theodore Graham served refreshments at the conclusion of the session.

Miss Luy Is Party Hostess

Miss Ruth Luy entertained a junior ball room dancing class last evening with a party held in Dreamland hall. One hundred guests were present at the enjoyable event. Jitterbugging seemed to be the main feature of the evening and refreshments in a Hallowe'en motif were carried out.

Colony Club Is Scene of Party For Mrs. Aldrich

Mrs. W. W. Aldrich was honored guest at a luncheon and bridge party yesterday afternoon at the Colony club when Mrs. Gain Robinson and Mrs. J. J. Emmens were hostesses.

Sixteen guests were bidden to the party and enjoyed luncheon at a table decorated with exquisite tuberous begonias of pink and white hues. They were grown in the gardens at the Alfred Carpenter home.

Mrs. Aldrich arrived here Tuesday from her home in Indio, Cal., to be the house guest of the Leonard Carpenters for a week. Her husband, Dr. Aldrich, is expected to join her in Medford today for a stay until Sunday. The couple will be the inspiration for a number of parties during the remainder of the week.

Thorndikes Drive To San Francisco

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Thorndike and Bill Thorndike left this morning by motorcar for San Francisco to spend the week-end visiting friends and attending the Golden Gate International exposition on Treasure Island.

They also plan on visiting with Mr. Thorndike's daughter, Betty Ann, former Medford girl who now makes her home in San Francisco where she is associated with the U. S. Lines.

The group expects to take in the USC-California football game in Berkeley Saturday and return to this city on Sunday.

Mrs. Eldridge to Meet Aunt in City

Mrs. E. N. Eldridge left last evening by train for San Francisco to meet her aunt, Mrs. Callie Palm of this city.

Mrs. Palm has been visiting relatives in Ohio and other eastern places for the past month. The local women will attend the Golden Gate International Exposition on Treasure Island during their Bay City stay.

Mrs. Eldridge also plans to visit her mother, Mrs. Rose Elfert and her sister, Mrs. Marie Swinson at the latter's home in Napa, Cal.

Mrs. Cochran Is D. A. R. Speaker

Mrs. Frances Cochran appeared as guest speaker at the recent meeting of Mt. Ashland chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Her subject was a review of Walling's history of the five southern Oregon counties. She supplemented her talk with excerpts from other authors. She

The Drinking Driver
To the editor:
Last week we suggested that traffic accidents would be reduced if periodic driving tests were required of young and middle aged drivers similar to those now required after 70.

But important as that is, a far darker menace to public safety is the drinking driver, of any age; the man or woman in the first stage of intoxication, in which they feel themselves capable of driving their cars safely anywhere, at such speed as they desire; but whose hand and eye and brain are already a little abnormal, off balance.

We are confident that the court records will sustain us in calling the drinking driver the star actor in traffic tragedies. Yet the state hands driving licenses to thousands of people known to be patrons of the liquor joints, and asks no questions, touching that matter. The examination ignores the whole subject.

Such investigations are postponed till after the accident. Was it simply forgotten? Oh no! But you see we need revenue, and we never did like taxes.

So we make vast provisions for, and offer strong inducements to, thousands of people to form the drinking habit. Then we hand them their driving licenses. The natural result is a multitude of traffic accidents, just a case of cause and effect. Then we grow stern with them and impose fines, and in that way we hook them for revenue, coming and going. It would be funny if it were not so tragic; and if this trading of public safety for revenue were not so criminally dumb.

The preventive measure that we suggest will be called too drastic. But this staggering toll we pay in wreckage, pain and death is intolerable and does not call for mild palliatives. As the drinking habit disqualifies a man for driving a locomotive, or an air liner, so it should disqualify him for driving a car on our streets and highways. Why should we all be placed in jeopardy by those who make themselves abnormal, off balance, by drink?

And as drinking renders a man unfit to drive, therefore, the drinking habit should disqualify him for a driving licence. Let the drinker's permit cover all intoxicants. Then let him choose between the license to drive and the license to drink, surrendering the one when he receives the other. He who defends the present law must bear the blame for present conditions.

STUDENT VANDALS GIVEN PROBATION

Eugene, Oct. 26.—(AP)—The severe sentence of suspension from the University of Oregon, with the penalty held in abeyance during good behavior, was meted out to seven students for participation in an attempt to burn an "O" in front of the Memorial Union building on the Oregon State college campus last week. It was announced here today by Virgil D. Earl, dean of men.

In addition to remaining in school under the suspended sentence, the students must pay all costs of damages to the State college lawn, on which they sprinkled gasoline. They must perform nine hours of work on the university campus, and none of them can leave the city without permission of the dean of men.

The seven sentenced were Ehrmann Gustina, Goshen; Murray Brown, Gladstone; Walter Downey, Oregon City; Bill Heard, Pasadena, Cal.; William Mudd, Ed McCaffrey and Robert Prime, all of Salem.

RED LIGHT "CRASHER" ASSESSED $50 FINE

John A. Fuller, 36, of Klamath Falls "crashed" the red stop light at Main street and Central avenue Tuesday night, an act which cost him a $50 fine in city police court Wednesday on a charge of reckless driving.

Fuller, who told police he was a contractor working on a job in Ashland, was driving south on Central avenue when he disregarded the signal.

WATERFOWL STAMP USE IS CLARIFIED; CANCEL REQUIRED

To banish what he termed "confusion" in the minds of hunters, Postmaster Frank DeSouza today explained the procedure to be followed in the utilization of federal waterfowl stamps. Anyone hunting waterfowl is required to purchase and have in his possession one of the government stamps. One stamp covers the hunting season. The stamps expire on June 30 in the year of issuance.

The confusing part, Mr. DeSouza said, is what to do with the stamp. The important thing, he said, is that the hunter himself must write his name in ink across the face of the stamp prior to taking any waterfowl. This procedure is required, he emphasized.

The stamp, after being cancelled with the hunter's name, must be carried by the hunter and a transparent container was suggested by hunters as the most convenient. The federal stamp, it was emphasized, should not be stuck to hunting licenses.

Of course, Mr. DeSouza pointed out, a hunter, after purchasing a federal stamp, must comply with all state and federal hunting laws.

Receipts from the stamp sale go to maintenance of bird refuges. The stamps may be procured at any postoffice. Here they may also be procured at station 1, 129 North Central avenue. The main office closes at noon Saturday but the sub-station remains open till 5, Mr. DeSouza pointed out.

Fifty percent of the drowning in this country occurs in June, July or August.

MICHIGAN STAR FACES ALL-AMERICAN TEST IN YALE GAME SATURDAY

Chicago, Oct. 26.—(AP)—The all-America possibilities of Tom Harmon, a top-ranking gridiron gladiator boy of this football season, will go squarely on the spot next Saturday afternoon.

Before a crowd which may go as high as 70,000 persons, Michigan will entertain Yale at Ann Arbor—with Harmon the young man most of the customers will be watching. This triple-threat Wolverine ace thus far has done everything required of a great star. He's scored 52 points in three games, making seven touchdowns, seven points after touchdowns, one field goal and passing Michigan to numerous additional points.

But he has turned in that remarkable performance against three comparatively weak elevens—Michigan State, Iowa and Chicago—and his big test will come Saturday in an important intersectional battle against a team with two star backs of its own.

In Fred Burr and Hovey Seymour the invaders will present a pair of offensive stars who may dim Harmon's brilliance.

M-J-B WHY?
"I'm lying in the dark, thinking how good bed feels, when the doorbell rings..."

1 "Who is it, please?" I say through the door. "It's Mrs. Neilson, your new neighbor," comes the muffled answer so I open the door. "My little Wilbur's stuck," she sobs, "...his head, I mean." We rush to her apartment and when I get just one look at Wilbur (age two years) I know she's right.

2 Little Wilbur has stuck his head between the bars of his bed and can't get it out. He's screaming like murder and red in the face. Well, we finally free him and I say goodnight. "Oh, please don't go yet," she pleads. "Have a cup of coffee. My husband's away and I'm lonely."
