

NAZI TANKS, GUNS SET FOR PUSH ON NORTHERN FLANK

Intense Cold Snap Proves Ally of French — Outposts Skirmish in Snow, Rain

By John H. Martin
Paris, Oct. 27.—(AP)—The Germans have moved tanks and rapid-fire artillery into attacking positions on the Siegfried line, French military observers reported today.
French patrol reports indicated the Germans facing the Maginot fortifications were in "jumpoff" spots all along the northern flank, but an intense cold snap proved an ally of the French, who said they were all set for a German offensive.

Treaty Ratified

The council of ministers, meeting with President Albert Lebrun in Elysee palace, approved ratification of the French-British-Turkish mutual assistance accord signed October 19 in Ankara.
Premier Daladier gave the ministers a long review of the war and the diplomatic situation. Two degrees submitted by Agricultural Minister Henri Queuille were signed, providing for the purchase and storage by the government of agricultural surpluses.

Doubt Action Soon

The cold and flooded regions in some parts of the front caused French observers to doubt a German drive would be immediate, but they said they expected it as soon as a rift in the weather appeared.
Reconnoitering units skirmished in snow, sleet and icy rain along the 100-mile northern flank last night, getting some artillery support as they wallowed in the ice-crushed mud.
The sudden rigid control of German communications with Belgium and The Netherlands also led the French to suspect that a big German push was imminent.

Troops Concentrate

(From villages along The Netherlands-German border came reports of noticeable troop concentrations at that end of the Siegfried line.
(Although German fortifications opposite The Netherlands town of Limburg still are being constructed, with forts and pillboxes disguised as picturesque village huts. The Netherlands witnesses said they could clearly see many marching men and troops in automobiles coming up to the front.)
The French have estimated Germany now has 1,500,000 men either in front-line or supporting positions.
