Billy Hulien says:

Pilots' Victory Over St. Mary's Thrill to Oregon

Of all the tradition-shattering grid victories Oregon teams have scored over those erstwhile California big shots this season, none is so satisfying and glorious as that which the gallant Portland university Pilots of Coach Bob (Matty) Mathews shoved down the collective throats of St. Mary's Gaels Sunday afternoon in Frisco's Kezar stadium.

Out-manned, outweighed, out-equipped and "out" about everything else, Matty's men nevertheless rose up and played the gigantic Morgagmen right off their feet to hang up a 14 to 12 conquest. It was a great testimonial to the coaching ability of Mathews, the Old Notre Dame star, and to the flaming spirit of his underdog aggregation.

Matty has claimed for two years that Portland university was definitely on the road to major football status, and this victory over St. Mary's indicates the Pilots haven't very far to go, if they aren't already there. When Portland played Oregon State to a 14 to 12 Beaver win the consensus was that Matty's club was performing over its head. Portland's defeat of St. Mary's, however, reveals that Matty really has a football team, one able to take care of itself in any company.

What a severe blow Portland's victory must have been to those of the sunshine state, who long have sneered, yawned and even laughed at Oregon football teams. St. Mary's always has been the darling of the Bay district, and this year they were booming the Gaels as national title contenders. To have little Portland come down there and knock their pants off must rankle no end.

It is a great year for Oregon teams in their competition with California eleven, probably one of the most successful in a blue moon. Already the once-mighty Golden Bears of California have been bumped by the Webfoots of Oregon. Troy's Thundering Herd was held to a draw by the same boys from Eugene, and Stanford's once-proud Indians were blanked by Oliver's team. Oregon State has walloped Stanford and is pointing for U. S. C. If the Beavers can sock the Trojans in Portland Saturday the collapse of the California superiority myth will be complete. For this year, anyway.

One of the secrets of Medford high's fine offensive punch undoubtedly is the fine balance found among the Tornado ball carriers. They can all lug the leather, as proved in their average-per-carrier figures to date. Billy Piche, right half, has the best mark—7.9 yards for every time he grabs the pigskin, but the spread between his average and that of Pullback John Saulsberry, whose average is the lowest of the regular mail-packers, is only 3.7 yards. Saulsberry has clipped off an average of 4.02 yards every time he carried the apple.

Here are the averages to date:

Player	Times	Yds.	Carried	Gain	Avg
Stead	4	33	8.2
Piche	32	254	7.9
Orr	56	296	5.3
Newland	63	327	5.2
Saulsberry	77	309.5	4.02

Tiger-Eugene Game Tops State Grid Action This Week

MEDFORD, AXMEN CLASH IN EUGENE FRIDAY EVENING

Milwaukie Plays Corvallis; Scappoose Meets Rainier; Klamath Tries Eureka

By Fred Hampson, Associated Press Writer.

Oregon's prep football fare this week is low in quantity but high in quality.

About half the schools, including all members of the Portland interscholastic circuit, are resting for Armistice contests but it so happens that during the fall all of the undefeated, united eleven are scheduled.

What looks like the hottest scrap of the week will be at Eugene where Eugene plays the once-tied Medford Black Tornado. Eugene is unbeaten and untied in Oregon (the Axemen dropped one to Vancouver, Wn.) but had a terrific time shading University high of Eugene last week, 6-0. Medford, on the other hand, scuttled Bend, 34-13. Up to the day it played Albany, Bend was undefeated. On behalf of Eugene it should be pointed out that University high was undefeated and only once tied up to last week.

Milwaukie Favored. Second billing for the week goes to Milwaukie, where Coach Merritt McKeel sics his point-a-minute maulers on Corvallis in a no-name engagement. Milwaukie, noted officially as a high-scoring outfit zoomed high in the title picture by defeating Albany. Albany was the team that wrecked perfect records for Salem and Bend.

A third game of state title significance takes place at Rainier. Scappoose, undefeated and scored on only twice in six games, plays the potent Rainiers, for the Columbia league lead. The two undefeated, united coast teams, Toledo and Coquille, should have no trouble. Coquille plays Marchfield again in the Coos league. Earlier in the season the Red Devils won, 38-0. Coquille has won six and hasn't been scored on.

Toledo, seeking its sixth win without tie or loss, has nothing more serious than Philomath to worry about. Bend Meets Pendleton. The biggest central Oregon contest will be between Pendleton, unbeaten but tied once, and Bend at Bend. Klamath Falls, many times tied but still undefeated, plays Eureka, Calif., at Modoc field.

Salem goes to the coast for its annual mix with the lowly Astoria Fishermen. The Dalles moves east for a battle with Milton-Freewater. Roseburg will take a crack at Cottage Grove and University High (Eugene) engages a neighbor, Springfield.

UCLA Upsets Oregon 16-6

Scoring on a 66-yard pass by Kenny Washington and an 82-yard run by Jackie Robinson. Negro stars, the University of California at Los Angeles piled up a 16 to 6 win over the University of Oregon in the football game at Los Angeles. Here is Harris of Oregon catching a pass from Graybeal, good for 13 yards. Somers of U.C.L.A. made the tackle.

MEDFORD JUNIORS TO PLAY ASHLAND TO BE DISCUSSED

The football youngsters of Medford junior high school will attempt to clinch at least a tie for the southern Oregon junior high school conference championship when they clash with the Ashland juniors at the stadium here Thursday night at 8 o'clock. A victory for the locals will give them a record of three victories and no defeats, with one more game with Grants Pass to play, and will make it impossible for them to finish worse than in a first-place deadlock.

Coach Riney Cook said today that the Ashland juniors had improved tremendously since his team defeated them, 32 to 0, in Ashland three weeks ago, and that he expected the game to be one of the hardest of the season.

He announced that Ivan Harrington would referee, Bernie Hughes would umpire and George Robertson would act as head linesman.

STATZ WILL MANAGE ANGELS NEXT SEASON

Los Angeles, Nov. 1.—(AP) Arnold Statz, "the people's choice," will manage the Los Angeles baseball club next year. David P. Fleming, president of the club, handed the 42-year-old outfielder a two-year contract—reward for many years of valuable service to the Angel organization.

The appointment was made to replace Harry (Truck) Hannah. Statz has been with the Angels continuously since 1929, but first came to Los Angeles in 1920, reappeared in an Angel uniform in 1925 and played with the Cubs and Brooklyn in between.

He batted .311 last season and was ranked an outstanding fielder. CAVEMEN SLATE GAME WITH CENTRAL POINT

Grants Pass, Nov. 1.—(AP)—To fill a blank on its football schedule, Grants Pass high school today announced a game here Friday afternoon with Central Point. Coach Loren Tuttle said he planned to give experience to his reserves.

In the first national automobile show, "horseless carriage" were driven around a track dodging barrels to prove they could be steered.

CHALLEDON WINS PIMLICO SPECIAL, KYAK II SECOND

Brann Colt Regains Lead in Stretch When Jockey Applies Bat—$10,000 Purse

Pimlico Race Course, Baltimore, Nov. 1.—(AP)—William L. Brann's Challedon won the $10,000 Pimlico special mile-and-three-sixteenths race today. Kayak, II, owned by Charles S. Howard, was second by half a length, and Townsend B. Martin's Cravat was third.

The time was 1 minute, 59 seconds on a track that was in good condition after three days of rain.

Challedon won the entire $10,000 in this winner-take-all purse, bringing his money earnings for the year to $184,535. The bay son of Challenger II-Laura Gal, champion of the three-year-olds, had to come in in the stretch to win. After leading all the way, the Brann colt was passed in the stretch turn by Kayak II, and the South American bred horse had a length lead as they came out of the bend. Then Jockey Eddie Arcaro went to work on Challedon and drove him home with whip going. Cravat, never a contender, finished 18 lengths back.

Carried 120 Pounds. Challedon carried 120 pounds in the weight for age scale. The other two, both four-year-olds, each carried 126 pounds. About 22,000 fans were on hand to see the third running of Alfred G. Vanderbilt's annual "dream race." By the victory, Challedon won ranking as the No. 1 horse of the year.

Challedon paid $2.90 for each $2 ticket at the mutual windows. There was no place and show betting in the three-horse race.

TROJANS VEIL DRILL FOR BEAVER TUSSELE

Los Angeles, Nov. 1.—(AP)—The secret-practice sign was out today when Southern California's football squad reported for its last drill before entraining for Portland and the clash with Oregon State.

Extensive pass practice was scheduled as Trojan coaches digested reports of the strong Beaver line. Quarterback Grenville Lansdell seemed to have regained his 1938 pitching form against California last week, and doubtless will handle much of the aerial tactics this Saturday.

Logger Killed. Hood River, Ore., Nov. 1.—(AP)—A log rolled off a truck yesterday and killed Carl Johnstone, 35, Dee logger, while he was adjusting the securing chains.

Beavers Knocking on Door To Rose Bowl and Grid Fame

Corvallis, Ore., Nov. 1.—(AP)—Oregon State College has waited all its football life for the time, place and circumstances for its big game with Southern California at Portland Saturday.

The Beavers, who shine usually only in their Pacific coast backyard, now find themselves in the limelight, facing the mighty Trojans, and on the threshold of gridiron fame—and shekels—the Rose Bowl. The winner of Saturday's game, it looks from this distance, is on the road to Pasadena.

The Beavers are on the small end of 3 to 1 odds, but that hasn't completely dissipated the odor of roses for them.

The squad, small in numbers, got where it is today by steady defense and a conservative but accomplished attack. That doesn't mean the Beavers play dull football; they simply explore the possibilities of well-grounded, carefully-planned action before turning to the more spectacular—and often less effective—frills.

In his front line, Stiner probably will depend Saturday upon his "fighting Irish": John Leovich, and Bob Pena, ends; John Hackenbruck and Walt Jelsma, tackles; Ed Schultz and Len Younce, guards; and John Tsoutsouvas, center.

Jim Kisselburgh, triple action fullback, is Stiner's all-around backfield leader. George Peters, quarter, and the brothers Vic and Morrie Kohler, halfbacks, are Jim's most dependable aides. Joe Tomich, Gene Gray, Bob Deithman and Medford's Bobbie Olson are four of several good reasons why Stiner won't have to wear down his backfield with another "iron man" stunt.

COUGARS FIRE UP FOR TILT WITH WEBFOOTS

Pullman, Wash., Nov. 1.—(AP) The Washington State college Cougars are showing more pep and fight in their scrimmages this week than at any time this season, Coach Babe Hollingbery reported after yesterday's workout.

He said the return to condition of Stan Johnson, the first string tackle, and Rex Bantz, fullback, had put new life in his squad which will run against the University of Oregon Webfoots at Eugene Saturday.
