

Belcastro Meets Dude Chick in Armory Wrestling Ring Tonight

PROGRAM STARTS AT 8 O'CLOCK; LADIES IN FREE

Schulz Faces Clayton in Middle Tiff — Piluso, New-comer, Meets Pettigrove

Pete Belcastro, the grappling gent who last week ended the seven-straight winning streak of Hans (Hitler) Schulz, defends his position at the top of the southern Oregon wrestling heap against Cowboy Dude Chick in the armory tonight.

The program will open at the new starting time of 8 o'clock, instead of 8:30. It will also be ladies night, with all purchasers of ringside or gallery tickets, being given a free ducat to admit a feminine fan.

Schulz, the big German meenie, steps down from main event billing to take on King Kong Clayton, classy Negro, in the middle event of six 10-minute rounds. In the opener, Ernie Piluso, 190-pound Pacific coast light-heavyweight champion, makes his first appearance here against Duke Pettigrove.

The Belcastro-Chick main go should produce a large amount of wild mat action. Although Chick prefers to wrestle clean he is not above forgetting his lily-white inhibitions when the situation demands, and against the villainous Belcastro he will be forced to toss legitimate maneuvering to the winds.

Chick is especially anxious to defeat his traditional mat foe this evening, for it was Belcastro that did what he, Chick, was unable to accomplish — defeat Schulz. Pete walloped the Nazi after Chick was beaten by him, and the thought isn't pleasant to the larlet-spinning cowboy.

In the middle bout Schulz will be attempting to get back in main event circles at the expense of Clayton, but he may be foiled. The Birmingham colored boy, wrestling here for the first time last week, displayed about everything necessary in a great wrestler, and he is big enough to match power for power with the tremendously strong German.

WEBFOOT SUB SCORES TOUCHDOWN IN FIRST GAME HE EVER PLAYED

Eugene, Nov. 5. — (AP) — The University of Oregon football squad was happy today — not particularly over the Webfoots' 38-0 victory over Washington State Saturday, the Sunday day of rest, or the prospect of meeting Oregon State college here next Saturday and a victory after three straight losses to the Beavers. The Webfoots were happy over the best Frank Merrill well football success story of the year.

Ronald Alpaugh, third-string senior halfback, attended Franklin high school in Portland but didn't play football. He turned out for the Oregon freshman team when he came here to the university, but again saw no grid service, and had been one of those much knocked-about varsity reserves for the better part of three seasons before he played in his first football game here Saturday.

Alpaugh went into the game with something like two minutes remaining to play, but no one noticed him until, with four seconds remaining, he caught a 13-yard pass from Steve Anderson and squirmed five more yards to a touchdown. He took his success modestly.

WINTERMUTE TO BE PRO CAGEMAN

Eugene, Nov. 6. — (AP) — "Slim" Wintermute, 6-foot-8 all-American center on the University of Oregon's 1938-39 national collegiate championship basketball team, deserted the amateur ranks yesterday when he left here for Detroit where he will join the Detroit Eagles of the national professional basketball league. He will receive $1,500 and expenses for the four-month season.

Nazi Menace to Face Negro

Hans (Hitler) Schulz (above), the German grappling powerhouse who has won seven out of eight matches in the local armory, tries for another mat conquest tonight when he meets King Kong Clayton, sensational colored cleanie from Birmingham, Ala. The pair collide in the middle event of a card headlined by Pete Belcastro and Cowboy Dude Chick.

Black Tornado, Milwaukie Coquille Top State Teams

As the Oregon prep football season enters the home stretch for 1939, the three stoutest up-state eleveners appear to be Milwaukie, Medford and Coquille, but there is a little room for argument.

La Grande is still unbeaten in Oregon. So is Klamath Falls. So is Toledo. But the Maroons, Peapickers and Red Devils looked like the best bets for the mythical state title.

Milwaukie neared a second No-Name league championship Friday by shattering Corvallis, 24-6. The Maroons are undefeated, untied and scored on only twice. They have won seven.

Medford, put in temporary eclipse three weeks ago by a 0-0 tie with Klamath Falls, roared back into the titular picture by defeating Bend, 34-13, a week ago and then ousting Eugene from the undefeated company, 20-6, Friday.

Coquille, darling of the coast toyed with Marshfield in a Coos league encounter Friday and won, 43 to 0. The Red Devils have won six straight without loss or tie and comprise the only major Oregon team that hasn't been scored on.

La Grande lost caste Friday by dropping a 25-0 verdict to Nampa, Idaho. The game did not damage the Tigers' Oregon record of six wins and a tie, however. Pendleton tumbled from the unbeaten ranks in a game with Bend. The tally was 13-6. Klamath Falls, unbeaten, but practically eliminated from the titular race by four ties, chased Eureka back across the Sierras, 34-13. Toledo won its sixth without loss or tie. Philomath was the victim and the score, 21-0.

The week's biggest upset occurred at Astoria where the much-beaten fishermen turned on Salem and won, 12-8. Albany got back in the groove after its defeat two weeks ago by Milwaukie, defeating Lebanon, 48-0. Silverton engineered a mild upset at the expense of Hood River, 6-0. Grants Pass came off best in a tussle with Central Point, 13-8. The Dalles shaded Milton Freewater in an intercollegiate battle, 12-7.

TENNESSEE ROLLS ON TO NATIONAL TITLE, BOWL BID

Michigan Bows to Illinois in Year's Biggest Upset — Irish Remain Unbeaten

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Nov. 6. — (AP) — The triumphant march of Tennessee's mighty Volunteers continues to feature the 1939 football season. Week after week, Major Neyland's powerful team surges on toward the Rose Bowl and the national championship, untouched by catastrophes that blast the hopes of other grid powers.

When the dust settled Saturday night on the nation's field, three more perfect-record teams had their escutcheons smeared: Michigan, Oregon State and Kentucky. But Tennessee still was unbeaten, untied and unscored upon in six straight games this season.

Vois Unscored On

Major Neyland's Knoxville juggernaut has rolled up 139 points, an average of about 23 per game. This is an amazing performance in view of the topsy-turvy condition of football among the nation's major colleges, due to the leveling-off process, which is more noticeable this season than ever before.

At Baton Rouge Saturday, Tennessee capitalized on three scoring opportunities to blank Louisiana state, 20-0. It was Tennessee's 19th straight victory, including triumphs before this season.

But at Champaign, Ill., an entirely different story was being written, as mighty Michigan—favorite for the Big Ten title—crumbled, 16-7, before Illinois, which hadn't won a game this season. It was one of the most stunning upsets the gridiron fates ever concocted.

Kentucky Tied

Oregon State's defeat was more or less expected, and little surprise was registered when the Beavers bowed, 19-7, to Southern California's Trojans. Meanwhile, Kentucky suffered its first setback when held to a 7-7 deadlock by Alabama, which had been favored to win.

With Michigan blasted, Notre Dame remained as the only Midwestern biggie with a clean slate after beating Army, 14-0, before 76,656 fans at Yankee Stadium. Cornell, pride of the east, had difficulties in beating Columbia, 13-7. Texas A. & M., southwestern titan, continued its steamroller pace with a 27-0 win over Arkansas. This gave the Aggies a total of 153 points against 16 for the opposition in seven straight victories this season.

VAUNTED GAELS TIED BY DAYTON

San Francisco, Nov. 6. — (AP) — University of Dayton's hard fighting little football squad headed home today after contributing further to the far west's long list of pigskin surprises by holding the favored St. Mary's Gaels to a 6-6 tie.

A 44-yard run by the Gael four-yard line by Left Halfback John Padley paved the way for Dayton's touchdown in the first period yesterday.

The Dayton boys halted a 36-yard Gael power drive on their 11 and led at halftime, 6 to 0, much to the amazement of more than 10,000 fans.

St. Mary's evened the count in the third quarter.

LOYOLA DEFEATED BY SAN FRANCISCO

Los Angeles, Nov. 6. — (AP) — The University of San Francisco, battering back a late final-quarter drive that swept to the one-foot line, defeated Loyola's Lions in a spectacular grid battle Sunday 14 to 7.

San Francisco took the lead less than three minutes after the game began when Marvin Mosconi, halfback, raced 63 yards around right end for a touchdown. The conversion was good.

MEDFORD SLATES RED DEVILS FOR TURKEY DAY TILT

It will probably be the undefeated, untied and unscored-upon Coquille high Red Devils clashing with Medford's Black Tornado at the stadium here on the afternoon of November 23, Thanksgiving day.

Principal Leonard Mayfield announced today that, in a long-distance telephone conversation with Spike Leslie, Coquille coach, tentative arrangements had been made for the two clubs to play here on that date. All that remains to clinch the contest is an agreement on financial terms, and Mayfield said he was confident these could be completed with little trouble.

Mayfield first contacted Milwaukie high, whose unbeaten and untied Maroons are being boomed as mythical state title claimants, but no game could be arranged because of Milwaukie's remaining schedule. Principal O. D. Byers of Milwaukie told Mayfield that the Maroons were slated to play Salem on the evening of November 22, and that they had received a tentative bid from Portland to appear in Multnomah stadium on December 2 against the metropolitan champions.

However, Mayfield quoted Byers as stating that if Milwaukie and Portland didn't get together on the December 2 game, Milwaukie would be open for a game here on that weekend. Milwaukie's arrangement with Portland will be definitely completed by next Wednesday, at which time Medford will learn whether to plan on playing the Maroons here on the December 2 weekend.

The Medford players came through the bruising Eugene game Friday night in pretty fair shape. Coach Bill Bowerman said today. Bill Clute, giant tackle, broke a small bone in his left hand and might not get in the Ashland game here next Saturday, and Harry Thurman came out of the battle with a severe charley horse, the coach said.

LIEBERUM REGAINS SCORING PINNACLE

New York, Nov. 6. — (AP) — Don Lieberum, captain and quarterback of the undefeated Manchester, Ind., Teachers, regained the individual scoring leadership of the nation over the week-end.

Playing only 15 minutes of Saturday's game against Bluffton, Ohio, college, he tallied four touchdowns in a spectacular exhibition that proved his right to the lead. His total is 90.

Others among the leaders made gains, too, Michigan's Tommy Harmon collecting one touchdown out of the shambles at Illinois to bring his total to 79 and Bill Sheridan of Little Clanton, Pa., Teachers scoring all his team's 12 points for a 7-0 total.

NEW YORK GIANTS STRING SNAPPED

Detroit, Nov. 6. — (AP) — Defeat finally caught the New York Giants Sunday when the dynamic Detroit Lions conquered the world's professional football champions, 18-14, in a heart-pounding struggle before 48,492 in Briggs stadium.

With this record crowd banked around the home of the Detroit Tigers' baseball club, the Giants came to the end of their victory trail which has lasted through 19 games since they were last beaten by the Pittsburgh Pirates and Whizzer White on October 3, 1938, at the Polo grounds.

Other scores were: Cleveland — Cleveland Rams 14, Chicago Cardinals 0. Washington — Washington 7, Philadelphia 6. Chicago — Chicago Bears 30, Green Bay Packers 27.

Criticizes the School Budget

To the Editor: In Sunday's Tribune in a statement by the school board appears some statements that need ventilating.

They explain that the "actual tax levy will necessarily be a little higher because there is less cash on hand this year to balance against the budget." In the next budget we are told that they thought it best to increase "maintenance and repairs of buildings" and "capital outlay," while "there is cash on hand."

One minute they are short of cash on hand; the next have to increase spending to get rid of it. Then the half truth in the statement: "The actual tax levy this year (1939)—not the budget—was lower as a total for all school purposes than any levy Medford has had for more than 15 years."

Now we submit that the poorest football substitute turned out by the Medford system, if he will take "time out" knows that "levy" alone cuts no ice, but only when considered in relation to the base (assessed valuation). Any taxpayer, who has been able to pay his taxes, knows that it is the dollars he has to pungle up to the tax collector that count and also knows his taxes were higher in 1939 than in 1938 or perhaps any other year "for 15 years."

The valuation was increased as much as 50 per cent and in many instances more. I have before me tax receipts with assessed values, rate and tax for 1938 and 1939 as follows: 1938—$2,590—rate 20.3—tax, $52.58. 1939—$3,850—rate 15.8—tax, $60.83.

Or an actual INCREASE of nearly 18%. This wasn't much reduction, "made possible by the large amount of cash on hand."

How soon will our public servants quit trying to fool the people and begin to put their cards on the table?

We realize that this kick will evaporate in thin air, but maybe it will cause a few voters to go to the polls next school election and register a protest that will count.

Between the city budget committee and the school committee, taxes are mounting too fast. Thanks to good state government and a good county budget committee, we are getting some relief.
