Complete Long Trip—Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bursell are back at their home on Route 2 after enjoying a six weeks' sojourn that took them across the continent and to two world's fairs. In comparing the New York fair and the Golden Gate international exposition today, Mrs. Bursell said the eastern show was impressive because of its enormity, while the Treasure island fair was memorable because of its beauty. Mr. and Mrs. Bursell went from here to Omaha, Neb., to visit Mr. Bursell's old home. Their itinerary then took them to Chicago and Washington, D. C. In the national capital they took in all major points of interest and attended a session of the senate where they heard Senator William Borah in debate. The travelers then proceeded to New York where they attended the fair. One of the most enjoyable events of the trip, Mrs. Bursell said, was a voyage up the Hudson river to Albany. Crossing New York state, the Medford couple went to Buffalo and Niagara Falls. Continuing westward, the travelers took delivery of a new Oldsmobile in Lansing, Mich. In Detroit they were taken through the Ford plant. In their new car, they headed for the south, visiting and taking in historic points of interest in Kentucky and other Dixie states. In Stroud, Okla., they visited a sister of Mrs. Bursell. The Grand Canyon was a feature of the westward trip as the tourists motored across southwest states to southern California. The Medfords were on Treasure island for the last day of the Golden Gate international exposition, being accompanied by Mr. Bursell's brother and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. Arvid Bursell of San Francisco.

Means Added Tax—Discussing a $20,000,000 bond issue provision and a proposed three per cent gross income tax, he asserted: "Since these provisions are entirely constitutional, they would become law even if the remainder of the act were held unconstitutional. Thus we would have an additional 3% gross income tax, which, unlike the graduated income tax, would fall upon the consumer, like the sales tax, and increase the burdens of the poor."

The names of President Roosevelt, Acting Secretary of the Navy Charles Edison, Olson and Ickes were brought into the controversy over the state oil control measure. All four of them endorsed the proposal.

Jacksonville to Ballot Tuesday—Jacksonville, No. 6.—(Spl.)—Two councilmen and a city recorder will be named here Tuesday in a city election, the polls opening at 8 a. m. and closing at 8 p. m. All voting will be done in the city hall.

Three candidates are in the race for the two council positions, Tom Lawhead, Clinton Smith and John Hamaker, the latter two being incumbents. Smith has been serving temporarily in place of Edward Severance, who moved out of town. The elected pair will serve for two years.

For the recordership, Ray Coleman, incumbent, and Ray Wilson, are the candidates.

He Was Doomed

How Frederick James Hinds (above) Stanford university medical student from Santa Barbara, Cal., kept a secret case record of the rare disease which was slowly taking his life was revealed coincidentally with his funeral at San Francisco. In 1938 the youth looked into a microscope at a sample of his blood and read his doom on the slide, for he had myelogenous leukemia, a disease for which there is no cure. The record Hinds left behind may be a great aid in the fight to discover a cure for the disease, physicians said. (A. P. Photo).

HAM AND PENSION UNWORKABLE SAYS CALIF. GOVERNOR

narrowly defeated a year ago, would bring $30 in warrants every Thursday to non-working Californians over 50. The warrants would be redeemable annually in real money after two cent stamp taxes had been affixed weekly to each warrant.

The Democratic governor, who admitted "ham and eggs" votes helped elect him, said he thought the plan would fail because business houses and individuals would refuse to accept the warrants.

He declared he was more concerned over another part of the proposal, which would make the unstamp warrants acceptable in payment of taxes and debts due to the state or other governmental subdivisions.

This provision, Olson declared, appeared to him to be in violation of the United States constitution.

HEREFORD AUCTION ATTRACTS THROG; SWIFT BUYS FIRST

Over 500 Potential Buyers Attracted by Third Annual Sale of Fine Cattle

The third annual sale of the Caloregon Hereford Breeders association got under way at the county fairgrounds this afternoon with more than 300 potential buyers attending from all parts of southern Oregon and northern California.

The first sale was made to J. J. Osenbrugge, who purchased one of a pen of three fat steers from Marsh Garrett for $8.85 per cwt. The purchase was made for Swift and company. The two other steers were bought by B. M. Thuemler for Thuemler Meats, Central Point, at $8.70.

Ten more fat steers were to have been sold before the auctioneering of 50 head of fine registered bulls and heifers, raised by members of the Caloregon association. The sale was expected to last until early this evening.

Garrett Wins Prize—The pen of three fat steers sold by Marsh Garrett won first prize in the steer judging. Second prize went to Vern Brophy for his pen of three. Charley brothers won a third and fourth prizes with two pens of three. Norman Jacobs of Malin, Ore., received honorable mention for one club calf.

County Judge Earl B. Day welcomed the buyers and sellers to Jackson county and explained the purpose of the auction. H. S. (Hob) Deuel spoke in behalf of the city and of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce.

Both were introduced by Fred Bayliss of the Mount Crest ranch, president of the association.

Col. Fred Reppert, auctioneer of Decatur, Ind., was in charge of the sale. Also attending were Nelson R. Crow, Western Livestock journal representative and Forrest Bassford, of the American Hereford Journal.

HONEYMOONERS FOUND ROASTED TO DEATH IN SAN FRAN AUTO CAMP

San Francisco, Nov. 6.—(UP)—The coroner's office last night reconstructed the tragic story of a young honeymooning couple from Iowa who were literally scorched to death in a gas-heated auto camp cabin seven days after they were married.

Authorities decided that James H. Welch, 24, Des Moines, and his bride, the former Cleo Lucille Allen, 20, of Ames, Iowa, died of accidental asphyxiation from a heater.

They had been dead at least two days when an attendant found their pajama-clad bodies sprawled on the floor of the stifling-hot cabin. The bodies were discolored and swollen by the intense heat of the cabin. The heater was still running full blast.

According to the coroner's investigation, this was what happened: The Welches, married at Des Moines Saturday, October 28, came to California on their wedding trip and rented the cabin November 1. About last Wednesday night they both took showers, dressed in pajamas, turned on the heater and fell asleep.

Gangster

Edward G. Robinson, one of the most powerful and dynamic stars of the screen, comes to the New Rialto theatre tomorrow for a three day run in "Blackmail", the dramatic story of a man who is forced back into the degradation and brutality of a convict gang after his attempt to lead a useful, upright life.

Despite his determination that his second incarceration shall not break his spirit, he finds himself sinking into the level of the filth and despair around him until his only purpose is to escape and win revenge.

Ruth Hussey, Gene Lockhart and Bob Watson have supporting roles with Robinson.

"The Death of a Champion", the strange and unusual story of Oliver Quade—detective super-extraordinary—Lynne Overman has the title role and other players include Donald O'Connor and Virginia Dale.

William Holden In Craterian Picture Wins Fans' Approval

Unquestionably unique in treatment and in theme, Columbia's "Golden Boy" opened yesterday at the Craterian theatre to prove that Hollywood, when it wants to, can turn out definitely superior entertainment.

The new film, starring Barbara Stanwyck, Adolphe Menjou and William Holden, is based upon Clifford Odets' romantic drama. "Golden Boy" tells of a young violinist, impatient and tired of working toward the day when he will be a success on the concert stage, who rapidly fights his way to the top in the prize ring. In his swift climb to pugilistic stardom, he ruthlessly tramples upon the hopes of his music-loving father, ignores the cryings-out of his own conscience. He becomes brutalized by his new environment, until his love for a disillusioned young woman—the only person who really understands the tremendous conflict raging within him—causes him to give up the ring and return to the forgiveness of his family.

Of the utmost importance in any consideration of "Golden Boy" is the performance turned in by newcomer William Holden, making his motion picture debut in the all-important title role. This handsome youth is so convincing in his "Golden Boy" characterization that we risk little in prophesying stardom and tremendous popularity for him.
