Bride-Elect Is Party Honoree

Miss Helen McAllister, bride-elect of John D. Rafferty, was complimented at a kitchen shower and dessert bridge party last week at the home of Mrs. Jack Fortin on West Tenth street.

Guests included Mesdames J. E. McAllister, W. F. Phares, John Elson, John Redden, R. B. Elson, Arvil Friedland, Ray Palm and Miss Frances Maguin. Bridge prizes were won by Mrs. Phares, Mrs. Elson and Miss McAllister, who also received many gifts at the delightful party.

Miss McAllister, the daughter of the J. E. McAllisters, is a popular Medford girl and a graduate of the Medford high school. Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rafferty of Watsonville, Cal., and Manila.

Medford Women Return From Trip

Mrs. R. I. Stuart and her daughter, Mrs. T. J. Fuson returned Sunday from San Francisco and Los Angeles where they spent a fortnight visiting. In Oakland the two were the guests of Mrs. Stuart's sister, Mrs. Kate Deering. Here the trio took in the Golden Gate International Exposition on Treasure Island, and were joined by Mrs. Fuson's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Rosenfield of Beverly Hills, Cal.

The two Medford women later accompanied the Rosenfields on their home in southern California where they visited for a week. They made the trip by motorcar.

Meekers Return From Trip East

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Meeker returned Sunday from a seven weeks trip through the eastern and southern states. While in the capital city they attended sessions of the U. S. congress, and visited many places of historical interest.

On the trip through the south they appreciated the southern hospitality. The drive around the Gulf of Mexico was beautiful, and they found New Orleans a very interesting city. They saw the large oil fields of Texas, and the harvesting of the cotton crop.

After visiting Carlbad Caverns they drove to El Paso and over to Juarez, Mexico. From there they went to Phoenix, Arizona, and on to southern California, by way of Palm Springs and Riverside.

ROOSEVELT PROPOSED FOR NOBEL AWARD

Oslo, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Usually reliable sources said today a movement was on foot to award the Nobel peace prize to President Roosevelt.

While some uncertainty existed whether the prize would be awarded this year, informed quarters said that Mr. Roosevelt was the only candidate at present under consideration.

Members of the Nobel committee declined to comment.

SCHOOL BUDGET ADOPTED AFTER PUBLIC HEARING

recting his remarks at Mr. Iverson. E. H. Hedrick, school superintendent, said he did not think anyone wanted to build through bond issues, explaining that total bonds run one to one and a half times as much when done by bond issues.

Saving By Cash
"By paying as we go out of cash on hand the addition to the high school is not going to cost us $30,000 and yet I think George (Mr. Iverson) would appraise the addition at $45,000."

Mr. Hedrick told of savings over budgets during the depression years when drastic economy was practiced because it was not known how long the hard times would last.

New buildings and maintenance were neglected and salaries were slashed during the depression and now with the budget savings effected the school board is attempting to catch up with building and maintenance requirements. Mr. Hedrick related, going over in general the board's attitude as given in a formal statement issued to the Mail Tribune and published Sunday.

The funds that have been accumulated in budget savings are being put into needed additions to buildings and these are permanent assets, Mr. Hedrick said.

The superintendent told how school gymnasiums are used for a variety of student and community purposes and added that the law now requires gymnasiums. School nowadays must have such things as gymnasiums and auditoriums, he said.

Hopes For Swim Tank

Speaking of Mrs. Hoy's reference to a swimming pool, Mr. Hedrick stated that he hoped a way could be found during the year to construct a tank outside the budget just as the soft-ball diamonds had been built.

Mimeographed sheets were given to the dozen or so persons at the hearing showing budgets of the past several years and the budget savings (unexpended budget funds) between 1931 and 1939.

At Mr. Thorndike's suggestion, Rebecca Jensen, district clerk, read figures showing that since 1932 a total of $138,000 in school bonds had been paid off, leaving $252,000 outstanding last June.

"The board and I don't profit in these matters," Mr. Hedrick said. "We may be wrong in our judgment but we don't profit. It is our judgment that it is best to proceed with additions and improvements and maintenance now when we can do these things out of cash on hand and can function on a pay-as-you-go basis."

Goldy, Kyle Heard
Mark A. Goldy, owner of the Mark A. Goldy Agency, Inc., real estate and insurance firm, and Robert F. Kyle, secretary-manager of the Medford First Federal Savings & Loan association, also spoke in favor of the budget and praised the work of the school board and superintendent. E. A. Humpton asked a few questions on the budget.

Mr. H. Franklin presided in the absence of Dr. R. E. Green, board chairman. Other board members are Mr. Thorndike, Crawford Lemmon and Marc Jami. S. M. Bullis, district manager of the California Oregon Power company, was budget committee chairman.

At the National Capitol With John W. Kelly

well go to the republicans, for he has thoroughly denounced that party.

"Apparently" is used advisedly, for in all of the criticisms of Lewis he has never directly attacked Mr. Roosevelt but has shot at new deal agencies and charged them, as in the case of the maritime commission, with not following Mr. Roosevelt's theories.

SOMETIME next spring, before congress adjourns to permit members to attend the national nominating conventions, there will be a tug-of-war between the administration and a substantial group of senators over the reciprocal trade agreements. The law permitting these agreements will expire next June and a score of senators are waiting with an axe to give it a crack that will prevent it being extended. Secretary of State Cordell Hull regards his trade treaties as the highest accomplishment of his career and predicts the treaties will be continued.

Senators from copper-producing states were indifferent when the lumber industry of the Pacific coast was sold down the river by the state department, but now that they learn concessions may be made to copper in the pending treaty with Chile, they are up in arms.

THE unfortunate feature of treaties, especially with Latin American countries, is that the only products those countries have to sell are similar to those in agricultural regions of the United States, grain, fruits and meat.

Secretary Hull regards the Pacific Northwest senators as provincial in protesting against his treaties, thinks they should be more broad-minded and international instead of sectional. To his question: How can a Latin American buy an automobile if he cannot sell his pears and prunes in the United States, the "provincial" senators have replied: How can the farmers in the Northwest buy automobiles if they are deprived of a market for their pears and prunes and where does the auto manufacturer benefit if he sells a car in South America and loses a sale in Oregon and Washington?

WAR is helping the salmon industry of British Columbia. The season's pack (September 18), was 1,098,322 cases of 48 pounds, a decrease of 135,708 cases compared with the pack at the same time last year.

No salmon dry-saltery licenses are being issued by the provincial government as the chum salmon, usually dry-salted, will be canned or frozen and shipped to Europe. Normally the entire dry-salt salmon is sold in Japan.

SENATOR Holman, Oregon, is corresponding with the war department for establishments of an air reserve unit in Portland or vicinity. Nearest such unit is at Seattle.

With the government launching an extensive program for training fliers in college, prospects are favorable for the creation of a reserve unit at Portland or Vancouver.

Isn't This Why You Are Constipated?

What do you eat for breakfast? Coffee, toast, maybe some eggs? What do you eat for lunch and dinner? White bread, meat, potatoes? It's little wonder you're constipated. You probably don't eat enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean the amount you eat. It's a kind of food that forms a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a movement. If this is your trouble, may we suggest a crunchy toasted cereal—Kelllogg's All-Bran—for breakfast. All-Bran is a natural food, not a medicine—but it's particularly rich in "bulk." Being so, it can help you not only to get regular but to keep regular. You won't have to endure constipation, you can avoid it. Eat All-Bran daily, drink plenty of water, and life will be brighter for you. Made by Kelllogg's in Battle Creek.
