House Guests Here For Thanksgiving Holiday Visits

Holiday house guests at the Robert B. Hammond home on Fern Valley road are Miss Dawn Owens and Gordon Paine. The two are schoolmates of the Hammond's daughter and son, Virginia and Bruce, at the University of Oregon. Miss Owens is the daughter of Major and Mrs. George R. Owens of Little Rock, Arkansas, former Medford residents.

More news from the college set—Donald Horner, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Horner of this city, also a university student, will forsake Thanksgiving at his home here to spend it with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Horner of Seattle. Donald left the Eugene campus yesterday for the northern city and while there expects to take in the University of Oregon-University of Washington football game.

Dorothy Flynn, Oregon coed, was accompanied to this city by her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Flynn who will spend the holiday here with Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Flynn at their home on West Tenth street. The R. E. McElhose's daughter, Mary Louise also brought home a house guest from school. She is Miss Virginia Yost of Honolulu and Berkeley, Cal. The coeds are both affiliated with Alpha Gamma Delta sorority.

Two university girls from Idaho, Gloria West and Silvia Sarlat, will travel home from Eugene with Bette Reames to be the house guests of the Charles W. Reames on Geneva street.

Wallace Lowry, Oregon State college student, will not take Thanksgiving dinner with his parents, the Burt B. Lowrys, because he is visiting friends in eastern Oregon.

Many Anticipate Elks Dance Tonight

The Elks annual Thanksgiving eve dance to be held tonight, promises to be one of the leading social events of the Thanksgiving season, according to Ray Knips, Chairman of the Elks Dance committee. He stated that the committee was making no expense or effort to make those who attend enjoy themselves to the limit.

Those who attended the Halloween dance were so high in their praise of the music that the same orchestra has been engaged for this dance also.

Dancing will be from 10 to 2 and attendance will be confined to Elks and their invited guests.

On Thanksgiving suppose we just say "Thank You"

WE hardly know how, in times like these, to extend Thanksgiving greetings to you. We don't want to be too solemn. We don't want to be too gay. Yet this is a year when we all can be especially thankful—for the very institution of Thanksgiving.

Thanksgiving Day was born amid the bitterest days of the Pilgrims ever knew. They had been through cold and famine. But a harvest came along in time and they were able to stick it out. For that we can still be thankful.

Valley Forge was within the decade when George Washington made Thanksgiving Day a national holiday. That this country passed the point of lowest ebb is something for which we can still be thankful. And Lincoln revived Thanksgiving Day at a season when it was indeed possible that this nation might perish from the earth.

Thus has Thanksgiving Day become our greatest synonym for hope. And—while we still don't want to get too solemn—hope is something all of us can use just now. So, if you'll join us, we'll say "Thank you" to Governor Bradford, to George Washington, and to Abraham Lincoln—who never lost hope.

Scott Davis' Motor North

Mr. and Mrs. Scott V. Davis and daughter, Marilyn, planned to leave today for Portland to visit friends.

They will motor from Portland on to Kelso, Wash., to spend Thanksgiving with Mrs. Davis' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Frambach. Another guest at the Frambach home will be Mrs. T. A. Randolph of Boise, Idaho who was recently a house guest for three weeks at the Davis home "Rogue Oaks" on the Rogue River.

The Medford trio expects to return here Sunday evening.

Ashland Service Of Interest Here

Miss Patricia Whitney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don S. Whitney, of Ashland became the bride of Alexander I. Simpson, son of A. B. Simpson of Eureka, Cal., Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Episcopal church Christ Chapel, Ashland. The Rev. Charles M. Gullbert performed the ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attended by her sister, Mrs. J. C. Hamaker. J. C. Hamaker acted as best man for Mr. Simpson.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Church street.

Mrs. Simpson is a graduate of the Ashland high school and attends Southern Oregon College of Education. She and her family have been long time residents of southern Oregon and have many friends in Medford.

Mr. Simpson is a graduate of University of Oregon in Eugene and is now athletic director at the Ashland Junior high school.

William Newhall Visits Parents

William S. Newhall arrived in Medford this morning by train from his home in Portland, to spend the Thanksgiving holiday visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Newhall at their home on the Old Stage road.

Mr. Newhall is in the real estate business in the northern city

D.A.R. Members Observe 20th Anniversary

The home of Mrs. E. M. Wilson was the scene of the recent anniversary meeting of Crater Lake, chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Miss Sara Van Meter, second regent, opened the program and stated that much credit is due Mrs. Bert Anderson for her untiring work in the organization and guidance during the chapter's early years. In appreciation the chapter has purchased and appropriately marked a chair in beautiful Constitution hall in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. M. J. Norris, Mrs. J. A. Perry and Mrs. B. G. Harding each covered a section of the activity throughout the years of the organization. Among the accomplishments mentioned were the many land markers erected by the chapter; education and scholarship figures; the Americanism school and numerous other endeavors.

It was pointed out that each year the chapter has grown in service to the community. From the leadership of Mrs. Anderson it has been guided by 17 regents. Last year, under the able direction of Mrs. Burt B. Lowry, all 20 national committees reported active work.

Recognition by the state and national organization has come to local D. A. R. members through their election to offices. Mrs. B. G. Harding as state regent, Mrs. J. H. Cochran as state first vice-regent, Miss Sara Van Meter and Mrs. M. J. Norris as state second vice regents and Mrs. M. M. Morris as state corresponding secretary.

A substantial contribution was given as a birthday offering to supplement the chapter dues, all of which will be used in patriotic service.

Guests present during the afternoon who were introduced were Mrs. James R. Rigs, past regent of Letitia Green Stevenson chapter of Bloomington, Ill.; Mrs. C. A. Peyton, Multnomah chapter, Portland; Mrs. F. B. Silliman, charter member of Crater Lake chapter who now resides in Atwater, Cal.; Mrs. L. J. Searles, Joliet, Ill.; and Mrs. T. J. Gifford of this city.

Table decorations were attractive with gold and blue colors of the society with a birthday cake dotted with 20 candles indicating the anniversary of the chapter. Mrs. B. G. Harding and Mrs. Sherman L. Divine, regent, presided at the table.

Mrs. Wilson was assisted by Mrs. W. P. Holt, Mrs. Spencer and Mrs. Volney Dixon.

Teacher Talks To A.A.U.W.

Members of American Association of University Women gathered at the Hotel Medford Saturday for a luncheon and program.

Guest speaker was Miss Gertrude Watling. Her subject was based on her special children's work room in the Medford schools. She explained that the special work was made possible following legislative action and related that there are only 14 such special rooms in the state.

An outstanding part of the entertainment was the music played by Cyril Sander who is rapidly gaining note here by his piano skill. He is a pupil of John Reischer. His selections were "The Firebird" by Schumann and Mendelssohn's "Song Without Words."

Mrs. Zoe Byington presented an appropriate Thanksgiving message by Dr. Aurelia Reinhardt of Mills College.

It was announced at the session that Miss Jean Steele had resigned the chairmanship of the Fellowship committee and that Mrs. Fletcher T. Fish was appointed to the office.

Unique table decorations were prepared by members of the art department of city schools.

Mrs. David Yale, president, presided at the affair.

Charles Braley Visits Here

Charles Braley arrived in Medford this morning by train to spend the Thanksgiving holiday with his mother, Mrs. Frank Preston at the Preston ranch home on the Applegate.

The youth is a student at St. Joseph's Military academy in Belmont, Cal.

Sunday Concert Here Lauded By Audience

Ruth Lorraine Close, noted harpist, was the first artist to appear here in a series of concerts being given this winter under the auspices of the Medford Musical Society.

The talented musician played in this city Sunday afternoon to an appreciative audience. Her program embraced a variety of thought, a satisfaction to those who might be curious concerning the intricacies of the harp and education from the standpoint of music history as well as a quality of expression showing the artist's thorough musicianship.

The explanatory remarks made by the harpist before each group resulted in the audience being all the more responsive. To many, Zabel's Marguerite au Rouet was a high point of the program, a composition perfectly suited for the harp. However each number gave added interest and one could certainly not overlook the French composer Tournier's conception of Jazz Band Pour La Harpe, a revelation in rhythm and technical skill.

Mrs. Close, who is internationally known as a harpist will be heard this winter in many coastal towns. If her appearance in this city is indicative of the type of entertainment which the Medford Musical Society will sponsor in the future the series will inevitably be highly successful.

Alpha Delta Class Meets

Alpha Delta class of the Christian church met in the church parlors this week for a business session and an enjoyable party. Mrs. Della Childs, president, presided and Mrs. Ethel Latham and her group were in charge of the social hour, sponsoring Thanksgiving readings and recitations.

Refreshments concluded the session.

ACCIDENT KILLS 65TH COULEE DAM WORKER

Grand Coulee, Wash., Nov. 22. (AP)—One man was killed and two others seriously injured today when an empty concrete bucket hooked the end of a Grand Coulee dam construction catwalk and hurled them to a concrete block 25 feet below.

Virgil L. (Boulder) Smith, 33, concrete foreman, died in the Mason City hospital at 6:40 a. m., three hours after the accident. His skull was fractured.

Smith's death brought the toll since Grand Coulee construction started in 1933 to 65.

LONDON BLIMP FENCE SNARES FIRST PLANE

London, Nov. 22. (AP)—A British civil aircraft inadvertently flew into London's own balloon barrage yesterday, the air ministry announced today, and was brought to the ground. Both occupants of the plane were killed.

The plane was the first announced victim of the huge British system of protective blimps over London's industrial areas.

Householder Finds Entire Furnishings Taken By Burglars

McMinnville, Ore., Nov. 22. (AP)—Marion Schindler of Grand Island told Sheriff G. W. Manning yesterday that he could put up with a little conservative burglary but the veggs who frisked his place during the family absence last week-end went too far.

They even took the drawers out of the kitchen built-ins, to say nothing of the globes out of the light sockets. They took the refrigerator, washer, circulating heater, davenport, chairs, chair cushions, silverware, dishes, cooking utensils and a general household inventory.

Following is the order of the service:

Rev. Fred Weatherford, presiding. Hymn, "Worship the King," Congregation. Hymn, "Count Your Blessings," Congregation.

(Director of music, Mrs. Elsie Carlton Strang.) Scripture reading, Psalms 100, Rev. James Hamilton. Doxology, Congregation. Prayer, Captain R. H. Vincent. Solo, "Thine Is the Greatness," Galbraith, Mrs. Elsie Carlton Strang.

Advance sale of tickets indicated that the annual firemen's ball this year would be the best attended in years, Chief Roy Elliott said today. "We are making it the best dance, too, so that everyone will have a wonderful time," he added.

The ball will be held at Oriental Gardens tomorrow night. Dancing will start at 9:30 and continue until 2. A major attraction this year is Archie Legg's 11-piece orchestra from Yreka, Cal., the band that has a large following in both southern Oregon and northern California.

In a letter to Chief Elliott today Mr. Legg said that in appreciation of the many engagements his band receives in Medford he has prepared a special dance and entertainment program for the Thanksgiving ball. He added that a large delegation of dance devotees of Yreka and vicinity would attend. Entertainment will be provided by the soloists of Mr. Legg's orchestra.

Purpose of the annual Thanksgiving ball is to provide funds for the purchase of material and supplies that the firemen use in repairing and repainting old, discarded toys for Christmas gifts to poor children. The firemen contribute their time and talent to the project, the Lady Lions assisting by helping to collect the old playthings and by distributing them at Christmas.

The firemen are badly in need of old toys now to work on, Chief Elliott said. Not many have been received and unless the playthings start coming in now there will not be time enough to work on them, he emphasized in making another plea for families to deliver battered, old toys to fire headquarters as soon as possible.

GODLOVE REVIEWS NAVY AIR TRAINING IN ROTARY SPEECH

W. R. Godlove described the extensive training given navy flyers as a feature of Tuesday's luncheon-meeting of the Medford Rotary Club, at Hotel Medford. Godlove, a member of the naval reserve and a graduate of the naval aviation training station at Pensacola, Fla., gave a first hand picture of the comprehensive instruction given Uncle Sam's "flying sailors"—one of the most rigid aviation courses given in any branch of the service by any nation.

Godlove told of the recently initiated amateur cadet flying courses, available to physically fit college graduates. Those who survive the exacting preliminary training will receive instruction at Pensacola, he said.

Training given naval flyers at the Florida station was then described by Mr. Godlove. This course in which cadets are divided into five squadrons as they progress in the instruction, includes mastering of both land and sea planes of various types, blind flying, catapult flying, navigation and all tactical maneuvers.

Average cost of instructing one finished pilot is $40,000, the speaker pointed out.

Following the Pensacola course, flyers are assigned to active duty with the fleet or at some naval base. "Here the mission becomes the primary consideration and the actual handling of planes a secondary matter," Godlove said.

At the completion of this active duty period, flyers have the choice of re-enlisting or of assuming inactive duty status with the reserve.
