Jane Withers In Ritz Brothers Hit

Jane Withers is the bravest little Ma'amelle in all France in "Pack Up Your Troubles." In her big new Thanksgiving Day show which starts a three-day run today at the New Rialto theater, in which she is starred with the roisterous Ritz Brothers. The film has the dizzy girl as vaudeville actors who enlist in the army and find their way to France on a transport as nursemaids to a cargo of mules. Their nemesis is a hard-boiled sergeant named "Baby Face," who works overtime keeping them busy. Jane is a gay little French lass who befriends the Ritzes and adopts their baby mule. Others in the cast include Lynn Bari, Joseph Schildkraut and Stanley Fields.

Craterian Drama

Claudette Colbert and Henry Fonda have the greatest roles in their starring careers as the man and wife of early American history in the technicolor production of "Drums Along the Mohawk," which is playing to capacity crowds at the Craterian theater. The film, which also stars Edna May Oliver and Eddie Collins, will play at the popular Central avenue theater through Saturday night.

Jolson At Roxy

Al Jolson stars with Alice Faye and Tyrone Power in their grand successor to "Alexander's Ragtime Band"—"Rose of Washington Square," which has the three stars today and tomorrow only at the Roxy theater. A Popeye cartoon in color fills out the special Thanksgiving Day program.

FRENCH HUSBAND HUNT ALLOWED DESPITE WAR

Paris, Nov. 23.—(AP)—The French government will relax its war measures and—in the interest of tradition and marriage—permit Parisians to dance next Sunday for the first time since the war began.

They will celebrate the festival of the 1914 class of "Catherinettes," girls who have reached the age of 25 without marrying.

The fete of Saint Catherine every year is one of the most picturesque of Paris carnivals. On this day the "Catherinettes" don special bonnets and set out in search of husbands.
