

PISTOL SHOOTERS GOING STRONG ON RIFLE CLUB RANGE

The response of pistol shooters to the Medford rifle club's invitation was evidence last Sunday when a number spent the afternoon firing at the indoor targets at the range in the basement of the natatorium building. So much enthusiasm was expressed that the local club feels a very creditable squad of pistol marksmen will be developed.

It is the ideal time for the novice, if interested, to get started in this fascinating sport, as he need not feel embarrassed at low scores, as all will be starting from scratch.

The range will be open again next Sunday at 2 p. m. and it is especially desired that all interested may be there in order to fix a weekly shooting night that is agreeable to all. Due to range conditions, all firing will be limited to the .22 calibre hand gun, whether single shot pistol, revolver or automatic.

Wednesday evening saw the first stage completed of an off-hand pistol match between Shelby Tuttle and Ivan Waddell of the local rifle club and two marksmen of the Lander, Wyo., rifle club. Total score of the two local men was 368x400 for an average of 92 per target.

Complete scores for the evening under the national handicap system:

Shelby Tuttle	391
Mrs. Ivan Waddell	390
Ivan Waddell	389

MAIN EVENT FOR PILUSO MONDAY

After working in three preliminary matches, Ernie Piluso, the Portland mat flash, gets his chance to go in a main event next Monday night. He's slated to grapple Paul Bozell, erstwhile Black Dragon, who hasn't been beaten since coming back to Medford two weeks ago.

Bob Kenaston, Gold Hill favorite, steps down a notch to tackle King Kong Clayton in the middle affair, and Herb Parks, the Vancouver, B. C., cleanie, takes on Eddie Rogers, in the opener. Rogers is returning after several months absence.

Portland Fullback Lauded by Mathews

Portland, Nov. 24.—(P)—Coach R. L. (Matty) Mathews believes Gonzaga university will get a glimpse of the west's hardest hitting fullback here Sunday against the University of Portland football team.

The Portland pigskin tutor says 190-pound Joe Enzler is the best line-smashing fullback he has seen in 30 years of football and points to the ease with which Enzler broke through the husky St. Mary's line.

Portland, Nov. 24.—(P)—Injuries suffered in a logging accident were fatal yesterday for Floyd Paine, Molalla logger.

NAZIS REJECT WINTER OLYMPICS; FINNS WANT TO HOLD MAIN GAMES

Berlin, Nov. 24.—(P)—Cancellation of the winter Olympic games, scheduled for Garmisch-Partenkirchen, was announced today by Hans Von Tschammer Osten, Reich sports leader.

The German Olympic committee and the organization committee for the games took the action in view of a resolution of the international Olympic committee that a belligerent country cannot hold the games. Previously Japan had given up both the summer and winter games.

The statement said "because Germany's proposals for bringing about world peace were declined by the English and French governments and therefore the war must be continued, Germany returns the commission to conduct the games to the international Olympic committee."

New York, Nov. 24.—(P)—The offices of the American Olympic committee said today Hans Von Tschammer-Osten, German sports leader, was not empowered to cancel the 1940 winter Olympic games, but could merely reject them on Germany's behalf and return them to the international Olympic committee.

However, since the games must be held during 1940 and were scheduled for February, it is extremely doubtful the I.O.C. will be able to award them to any other country in time for that country to make adequate preparations.

Finland, at last report, still was determined to hold the main Olympic games, scheduled for Helsinki July 20 to August 4.

SUCH a recommendation is controversial, as it affects several million ex-service men. If this recommendation remains in the report in the final draft when submitted to the president, Mr. Roosevelt will either have to accept the recommendation and offend veterans, or reject this specific item which is one of the vital weak spots discovered in the civil service by Justices Reed and Frankfurter and the other members on the committee.

Mr. Roosevelt will not wish to offend the veteran vote in an election year, if he is himself a candidate.

NOT ready for publicity yet (experiments are still in progress), is a new weapon for the navy—a high-powered speed boat designed for torpedo attack. If decided a success, there is no reason why this type craft cannot be built in numbers on the Columbia river and Puget sound, where some very fast motor and speed boats have been constructed in the past.

The craft is a 60-footer, carrying four torpedoes and a crew of eight. It depends on speed alone for defense and has installed an engine so powerful that there has never been anything in the U. S. navy to approach it in kicking up m. p. h. At this time no one knows what speed the boat will attain, but the guess places it at 60 knots. This may be an over-statement, or it may not.

In theory, the torpedo speedboat dashes to within easy range of a warship, lets loose a torpedo or two and swells away before the deck watch can raise an alarm. It is too fast for a gun to be trained upon it; as a target it is as fleet as a wild duck. Under cover of fog the motor boat is a deadly menace.

A Canadian caught the idea from the speedboats so popular in the United States. He developed the plan and has been selling his torpedo boats to the British for $250,000 each. In the one the American navy is experimenting with the ordnance and machinery is being installed by the navy, but the hull was constructed by private builders. No large shipyard is necessary to turn out the hulls.

THERE is a new buyer for the scrap iron of the Pacific northwest, which heretofore has found a market in Japan. Britain has placed an order for 740,000 tons of scrap and this has caused a spurt in the junk business all over the country. No one is raising the question that the scrap is to be used for shrapnel.

EVERY employer in Oregon and Washington who has had difficulties with the National Labor Relations board has been requested to answer this: "Please furnish whatever information you can on the attitude and conduct of the attorneys for NLRB before and during the hearing; the attitude and conduct of the trial examiner before and during the hearing; and the cost of the hearing."

your company as well as the effect, if any, the results had upon your community." Also: "Did the trial examiner direct the reporter to omit from the record any part of the proceedings? State the approximate cost to you of obtaining a stenographic transcription of the testimony and, if known, the cost per page."

The questions are propounded by the house committee investigating NLRB and these queries touch on matters of special interest to a number of concerns in the Pacific northwest. That question about the cost of a stenographic transcription is expected to lead to something sensational.

One agency of the federal government was paid $1000 by a firm of reporters for the privilege of being employed to take testimony; the agency receives its transcription free, the private citizens pay the freight.

In The Day's News

By Frank Jenkins.

SAN FRANCISCO—It's been a hot day in the Sacramento valley—Thanksgiving or no Thanksgiving. And it's just as hot in the city tonight as it has been in the valley today. No cooling breeze from the ocean, as in the summer.

It's a strange, strange fall.

AT THE service station in Dunsmuir this morning, the pump boy cocked a weather eye at the dry hill across the Sacramento river.

"If we don't get some snow before long," he volunteered, "that old hill will be drying up and blowing away. We have not had a drop of moisture since the storm in early October, and it doesn't look today as if we'd EVER get any more."

HUMAN beings just HAVE to have something to worry about, don't they? With the ham and eggs menace out of the way down here, they're turning to the weather.

Well, the weather always obliges. If it isn't too wet, it's too dry—or too hot or too cold.

As a worry-provider, the weather is God's gift to mankind.

BOOMTOWN—on-the-highway is growing up and putting on airs. The drab shacks of its early days are giving way to fairly neat cottages. Paint is everywhere.

As a result, it is no longer much of a topic for conversation. We pay little attention to the things we're accustomed to.

PEOPLE are always LOOKING FORWARD to some thing in this world.

Along the highway near the McCloud river, a hopeful citizen has a place he has just named Lakeshore Resort Lake Redding is still several years in the future, but this boy is getting ready for it.

He aims to be all set and ready when the reclamation service brings a lake to his front door.

That's what one might call peaceful preparedness.

IT'S a little hard to think of these canyons being filled with a blue lake, with widely spread fingers, but that's what is coming.

(Everybody looks forward to it now, but will find something to kick about when it comes).

Marriage Course
New York (U.P.)—As a result of numerous suggestions by Hunter college students, a series of four lectures on marriage, family relations, and the home is being initiated this term. The lectures will seek to meet the problem of "What is the honorable approach in thought and conduct to the union of man and woman?"
