

Last Minute Touchdown Gives Trojans Lucky 9 to 7 Victory

HUSKIES RETAIN MOST OF BATTLE, LOSE AT FINISH

Landsell's Pass Brings Win; M'Adams Kicking Thrills; Reserve Power Gives Edge

Los Angeles, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Southern California's mighty Trojans plunged along today on the high road to the Rose bowl, but it took a dramatic touchdown in the final two minutes to crush the University of Washington, 9-7, in a game that possibly qualifies as one of the most exciting in the Pacific Coast conference.

Off to a seven-point lead in the first quarter, Washington fought the mighty men of Troy to a standstill for some 58 minutes as 50,000 fans marveled at the sensational stand of the under-rated team from the northwest.

Then the Trojan fireworks began to explode.

The big blow-off came when Quarterback Grenville Landsell made a dramatic re-entry into the game with the ball on the Washington 16-yard line, one minute and 45 seconds to go. He took the ball, fired a pass into the end zone, and big John Stonebraker caught it for the winning touchdown. The extra point was kicked, but it wasn't needed.

Working on a theory that if one triple threat star doesn't deliver, another may, Coach Howard Jones sent in a second. When he failed, he sent in number 3 man. When number 3 tired, number 1—Landsell, in this case—rushed back, and there went the Huskies' hopes of running its winning streak to six years in a row over the El Trojan warhorse.

Sixty yards the Trojans went on this last quarter rampage, the Washingtons so tired from the battering they could hardly drag themselves off the ground after a play. Ambrose Schindler, No. 2 quarterback, started the drive, and put the Trojans in scoring position with a pass to left halfback Bob Hoffman. He barged to the 16 before the Huskies brought him down. Then came another pass. It failed. Then came Landsell.

Earlier in the period, trailing 7-0 behind this gallant Husky band, Doyle Nave, No. 3 of the Trojan quarterbacks, led his mates from their own 14 to the Washington 28. Then one of Nave's passes fell into the arms of Ernie Steele. He caught it virtually on his goal line, stepped back a foot over the line, and fell. It was an automatic safety, two very valuable points, for Southern California.

Nave remained in the game, but soon gave way to Schindler. The parade of rested Trojans was too much for the Huskies. Coach Jimmie Phelan's Huskies clicked as the final minute of the first quarter ticked away. It was due chiefly to the punting of halfback Dean McAdams, whose kicking performance all day, the most brilliant seen here in many a moon, kept the Trojans out of the Washington backyard.

McAdams booted one from about his own 30. It rolled to a stop on the Southern California two-yard line. Troy punted out, and Steele ran it back to the Trojan 21. McAdams in two line smashes made 7, his fullback, Don Jones, made 2, and Dean made it first down on the 9. Three plays later, from the 8, McAdams passed across the goal line to Steele. The try for the extra point was good.

From then on to the finale, McAdams' kicking—long 50, 65, 70-yard feats that averaged better than 47 yards—captured the starring role. The Trojans, showing effects of last week's battle with Notre Dame, lost big Harry Smith, guard, Landsell, and several others by injuries. But it was an inspired Husky outfit, charging the vaunted Trojans into submission most of the way, who held the upper hand until they collapsed.

The Trojans were never able to muster a respectable goal line threat until their triple-play backfield finally got hot in the closing minutes.

The victory left U.S.C. still on top in the Rose bowl race. It has one game left—against the University of California at Los Angeles next Saturday.

NAME FREDERICKS NEW BEAVER BOSS, WILL PLAY FIRST

Portland, Dec. 2.—(AP)—The Portland Beavers of the Pacific Coast Baseball league got a new manager and a new first baseman today, both in the person of Outfielder John Henry Frederick.

But baseball circles were agreed Frederick would have to have some new talent to work with if the Beavers in 1940 pull out of the league cellar where they landed in 1939.

President E. J. Schefer revealed Frederick's selection as playing manager for the club's 1940 season a few minutes before he entrained for Cincinnati to attend the annual major and minor league meetings—where he and Frederick hoped to obtain several new players, among them a shortstop and at least two pitchers.

Frederick announced he would take over first base—vacated when former Manager Bill Sweeney signed with Hollywood—provided he could obtain "some young player to spell me occasionally."

A former player for the Brooklyn Dodgers, and a valued member of the Portland squad since 1936, Frederick's appointment was historically appropriate, since he got his first professional tryout with the Beavers in 1919.

STATE GAME BODY PROBE PROPOSED

Portland, Dec. 2.—(AP)—The state game commission was criticized today by C. F. Milleson, president of the Izaak Walton league, who recommended that a fact-finding body be named to investigate the game program's results.

Milleson said the commission has given the same answer to every complaint of the past three years—"that it is making progress."

"In these modern times," he said, "we expect progress. . . . The game commission runs a big business, involving expenditures of some $500,000 a year. . . . It is probably the only business which goes on year after year raising a product not knowing what happens to it after it is turned out."

He urged an appropriation to survey the waters of the state and learn what possibilities they possess for fish propagation. Fish released should be catalogued, he said, and watched to see what happens to them when they enter streams.

C. P. Keyser, Portland city park superintendent, agreed with a proposal that the north nine holes of the Eastmoreland golf course in Portland be turned into a duck preserve. He said, however, that the city should be reimbursed for revenue lost.

Werber Signs.
Cincinnati, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Billy Werber, stellar third-sacker for the National league champion Reds, was first today with his 1940 contract.

Rolling for the Medford alleys team will be George Eads, Roy Pruitt, Frank Rengstorf, Andy Hemstreet and Earl Sims.

TULANE GLITCHES NAVY FIELD GOAL, SUGAR BOWL TILT; METHODISTS WIN

Tech Downs Georgia, 13-0; Fordham Trounces NYU; Colorado Mops Win.

New York, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Southern California's mighty Trojans had the best call of a remarkable season today as Dean McAdams, Washington halfback, nearly booted them off the undefeated list and perhaps out of the Rose Bowl. Duquesne was dropped from the ranks of the undefeated and untied teams when it was held to a 10-10 deadlock by Detroit, and Navy, Stanford, Boston College, Tulane and Georgia Tech emerged triumphant in some of the other important games.

Tulane won a part interest in the southeastern conference title and virtually clinched a bid to the Sugar bowl by downing Louisiana State 33-20 in a game that matched the Southern California-Washington battle for thrills and Georgia Tech earned an invitation to Miami's Orange Bowl by beating Georgia 13-0.

The engineers accepted without hesitation. Both Tulane and Georgia Tech are unbeaten in their conference, but their previous performances had been somewhat overshadowed by Tennessee.

In football's greatest spectacle, Navy redeemed a miserable season by whipping Army 10-0.

Duquesne, after a disastrous fumble had started Detroit off to a 10-10 first quarter lead, came back to tie the count in the last period.

The Boston College Eagles, once beaten, took their place among the East's best teams by conquering Holy Cross 14-0 as a wet field hampered the speedy Crusader backs and Fordham's Rams successfully finished a campaign that had a bad start when they trounced their most important local rival, New York University, 18-7.

Washington University of St. Louis captured the Missouri Valley conference crown by whipping St. Louis University 21-17 in another city championship battle.

Baylor's Bears earned at least a tie for second place in the southwest conference when they downed Rice 10-7 after a couple of bad scores and Sophomore Preston Johnson kept Southern Methodist in the running for a half-interest in that spot with runs of 73 and 21 yards to beat Texas Christian 14-7.

Colorado Mines, unbeaten and untied champion of the Rocky Mountain conference, wound up its campaign with a 38-6 victory over Regis.

BELLINGHAM AND KELSO PLAY TIE

Bellingham, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Kelso's Highlanders, co-champions of the southwest conference, and the Bellingham Red Raiders battled to a thrill-packed 12-12 tie in a post season game here today.

The teams matched touchdowns in the third and fourth quarters after a scoreless first half and Kelso turned aside a Bellingham drive in the final minute of the game on their own 1-foot line. Kelso took the second half kickoff and passed and plunged 65 yards for a score, Leichardt jabbing over from the 1-yard line. Bellingham tied it up with a 62-yard thrust and took the lead in the fourth period after blocking a Kelso punt and recovering on the Highlanders' 4-yard line. The Highlanders came back with three pass plays good for 50 yards to tie the score, a pass from Miller to Patterson accounting for the touchdown.

STANFORD COMES 'B' SCHOOLS OPEN KING KONG WILL MEET BOZELL IN MAIN MAT EVENT

New York, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Pushed around all season and for two quarters of its final game today, the Stanford football team exploded in the third period to march 66 yards for a touchdown which paved the way for a 14 to 3 victory over Dartmouth.

Victoryless until today, the westerners appeared well on the road to perpetuating their record as Dartmouth, registering a field goal the first time it got the ball, shoved its opponent up and down the field and stymied every offensive thrust.

The 10,603 fans who watched the moist, fog-veiled battle at the Polo grounds had no reason to believe that Dartmouth would be defeated as the teams left the field at the half. Never had Stanford been in Dartmouth territory, and twice it was forced to dig in to repel thrusts from its five-yard line.

Bill Hutchinson had dropped back to the Stanford 20 from the 13-yard line to boot a field goal early in the first quarter, to give the Big Green a 3 to 0 lead.

Midway in the third quarter the dormant Stanford offense came to life. Dale Bartholomew had fumbled and Stan Graff had recovered for Stanford on the Stanford 34.

Without warning the Indians loosed a brilliant running and passing attack. Standlee started the march with a first down in two plunges. He then completed a pass to Stojkovich, took one himself from Albert, and saw Albert complete another to Galliarneau on the Dartmouth 15.

Standlee then took over himself with a series of driving plays which carried to the three, from there Albert sliced through his left tackle for a touchdown. Albert also kicked the goal.

With the advantage finally on their side, the Indians dug in to check thrust after thrust of the alarmed Dartmouth team, which finally threw caution to the winds. Bauman, trying to pass from near his own goal line in the final period, saw the ball drop into the arms of Warnicke, Stanford tackle.

Warnicke was downed on the Dartmouth eight, as on the next play Albert swept around his right end for a touchdown. He again place-kicked the goal to end the day's scoring.

PELICANS SELECT LONE PEARPICKER

Only one Medford player—Guard Dale Howard—was named by the Klamath Falls Pelicans on their all-opponents' first team, which was dominated by members of the Franklin high of Portland aggregation. Franklin placed five men on the team. On the all-opponents' second team, Klamath named three Medford players, Bill Clute, tackle; Bill Piche, right half; and John Salsberry, fullback. Bob Newland, Medford left halfback, was given honorable mention.

The first team follows: Mooers of Grants Pass and Nicor of Bend, ends; Steers of The Dalles and Harper of Franklin, tackles; Howard of Medford and Tomanovich of Eureka, guards; Barrett of Franklin, center; Ogdahl of Franklin, quarterback; Gustafson of Franklin and Prentice of Eureka, halfbacks and Barker of Franklin, fullback.

WHITMAN BEATEN BY COUGAR FIVE

Pullman, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Raged and inept through the first half, the Washington State college basketball team snapped to life in the final period tonight to submerge Whitman's Missionaries, 40 to 25.

The Missions, although their regular forward, Harry Pepin, was sidelined by an injury received in Whitman's game with Idaho last night, outfought W. S. C. through the first period to close the half with a 19 to 15 edge.

Close checking while the scoring aces began to find the range pulled State into the lead. Whitman was held to one field goal in the second half. Gebert, sophomore forward, tallied eight points to take scoring honors. Glenn Bullock led Whitman with seven.

In the middle encounter Sgt. Bob Kenaston of Gold Hill, another sour-dispositioned individual, takes on popular Bobby Chick, returning to southern Oregon after a two years' absence. The opener pits Herb Parks, classy Canadian, against Popeye Pat O'Brien, who hasn't been in this neck of the timber for almost three years. The top tussle will be of one-hour duration or the best two out of three falls, while the first two struggles will go six 10-minute rounds or the best two for three tumbles.

Clayton, a perfect physical specimen and well-liked by the local customers, is confident he can put a stop to Bozell's sweep through the ranks of current matmen. The Negro plans to unleash an attack featuring dropkicks and sonnenbergs, and he believes he is sufficiently clever and shifty to foil Bozell's attempts to slap on his favorite hold, the Boston crab.

The colored streak of lightning has lost only one match since coming here a month ago that to Hans Schulz—and the manner in which he whipped Kenaston last week leads to the belief that he stands a very good chance to do the same to Bozell, although the latter will boast a weight advantage and will undoubtedly resort to foul tactics, as usual.

However, Clayton has proved capable of coping with any and all underhanded tricks. In fact, when necessity arises, the Negro has shown he can dish out the dirt with the worst of them, and if Bozell starts the rough stuff Clayton is prepared to finish it.

The Kenaston-Chick center squabble figures to be much the same sort of a match, with Bobby facing the Kenaston brutality and being forced to turn unorthodox in self-defense. Chick's airplane spin is expected to be as much of a determining factor as Kenaston's Gold Hill crab or swivel.

Pittsburgh, Dec. 2.—(AP)—Previously untied, Duquesne's slow-starting Dukes came from behind again today to salvage their undefeated record by deadlocking Detroit's Titans, 10-10, before a crowd of 20,000 at Forbes field. The game closed the best football season in the history of Duquesne, where hopes for a bowl bid were high.
