It's a pleasure to meet King Winter

NO tyrant longer is King Winter—at least, not in the West. Though he wrap around him his mantle of blizzards, though he blow frostily upon the window-pane, the motor-car has turned him into a hail-fellow—universally well met.

For those who live in the land of snows most roads are ever open which lead to the land of eternal sunshine. For those who live in the sunshine it's only a motorized step to the land of snowballs, ski-slides, and the figure-eight on frozen lakes.

In the West, vacation time is no longer circumscribed by Summer. Than Fall there is no more glorious time to travel—and Spring has moments which cannot be duplicated. Hence our Travel Service is a year-round institution designed to help you make the most of every season.

Any Standard Station, Authorized Distributor, or Standard Oil Dealer will tell you how this year-round institution will help you toward year-round motoring enjoyment—whether for a day, a week-end or a month—in Summer, Winter, Autumn or Spring. Make a date with yourself for an extra outing and enjoy the contrast of a country which really lies next door. Our Travel Information Service will help you see that it's not a blind date.

TWO MORE FIRES ATTACK FORESTS IN FALL DROUGHT

United States forest service office reported today additional fires burning today, making a total of four in the Rogue River national forest, as the two which started last week on Elliott creek in the Applegate district are under control but still burning.

One of the new fires is near the Yellowjacket mountains in the Applegate district. One hundred acres is reported to be burning on the ground and not doing much damage. Sixty CCC enrollees from Camps Applegate and South Fork, under direction of District Ranger Lee Port are attempting to bring it under control.

The second new blaze which started yesterday, runs about a half mile along the shoreline of Fish lake. It covers about 20 acres and CCC men from Camp South Fork, in charge of Paul Brinson, district ranger, are assigned to it. This blaze was reported by George Rowden, caretaker for the irrigation company at Fish lake.

Forest headquarters here reports that this fire, although doing little damage, is hard to put out because it is burning over dead timber. A pumper from the warehouse here was sent out to the scene.

It was the latest date in the year on which fires ever occurred on the forest, headquarters here said. Cause of the fires has not been determined.
