Study Club Enjoys Recent Session

The Wednesday Study club met at the Girls Community club for its regular meeting Wednesday, with the president, Mrs. A. J. Hanby presiding.
Mrs. M. M. Morris gave a comprehensive talk on South America, using a wall map as a geographic review. The climatic conditions in the tropics and south were contrasted. Portuguese explorers discovered Brazil, followed by colonization.
Brazil declared herself an independent country in 1822. Following that, all other countries obtained their independence except British, Dutch and French Guiana, Argentina, with its temperate climate and progressive people, is the most productive.
The Pan-American conference between North and South America was formed in 1889. Her talk was illustrated with interesting pictures.
Mrs. Ray Lenox presented the travel book "Westward from Rio" by Bowman and Dickinson in an interesting review. The two authors sailed from New York, stopping first at Bahia, the oldest city in Brazil, then on to Rio de Janeiro. They visited the countries of Brazil, Argentina, Bolivia and Peru and described life in the shepherd country, the cattle ranches and large coffee plantations. Many old cities and ruins of the ancient Inca civilization were also visited. The Iquassu waterfalls between Brazil and Argentina were compared in grandeur to our Niagara.
The program closed with a general discussion of the topics.

The public is cordially invited to attend the services and visit the reading room.
