

LOCAL and PERSONAL

Parrett Ill.—Kenneth Parrett is confined to his home at 245 North Holly street with influenza.

At Matches—Among Ashland residents attending the wrestling matches in the Medford armory last night were John Daugherty, Harry Chipman and Allen Autry.

Bauer Home — Bruce Bauer, owner of the Bauer Lumber company, returned to Medford by train this morning from Portland where he spent yesterday transacting business.

Recuperating — Mrs. Nettie Grover, who has been confined to her home with influenza, has been removed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ora Dow on Prune street, where she is being cared for.

To Have a Bazaar—Women of the Methodist church will hold a bazaar at 314 East Main street Saturday, December 16. All kinds of gifts suitable for Christmas presents will be on sale.

Meeting Tonight—Christmas basket committee of Crater Lake aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will meet in the lodge hall at 42 North Front street at 7:30 tonight. All committee members are requested to be present.

Meeting Called—Drill team of Crater Lake aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will meet at 7 p. m. tomorrow in the Lincoln school gymnasium. The meeting was called by William Peck, team manager. It will not be necessary to wear uniforms, Mr. Peck said.

Sponsors Bazaar — Thimble club of Oak circle of Phoenix will sponsor a bazaar Wednesday at the Grange hall. Lunch will be served from 11 to 1, and throughout the afternoon tea will be served. At 8 p. m. a card party will be held and refreshments served.

H.E.C. to Meet—Jacksonville H.E.C. members are reminded of the Christmas party to be held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Lulu Fisk. A covered dish dinner will be served at noon with gifts being exchanged and polyanthus revealed.

Riley Here — Frank Branch Riley of Portland arrived in Medford this morning by train to spend the day. He was to be guest speaker at the Rotary club luncheon today and was to speak at other meetings. Mr. Riley will be remembered here as having given the high school graduating address last year. He is an extensive traveler and lecturer.

Meeting Tomorrow — All reserve officers of southern Oregon are invited to the Rogue River chapter meeting in the Medford armory at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow. Principal speaker will be Lieut. Col. H. C. Dempewolf of Eugene, regular army officer in charge of reserve work in this district. "Mobilization" will be the subject studied. Pistol practice will be held at 8:30 p. m.

Ex-Governor Here — Oswald West, former governor of Oregon, arrived in Medford this morning by train to spend the day transacting business. Mr. West resides in Portland.

Bulkin Here—Paul Bulkin of Portland was a visitor here today. He formerly operated the Chateau and now owns the Russian Village in Portland.

Yule Party—Chrysanthemum Thimble club will hold a Christmas turkey dinner and party at 1 p. m. Thursday in the home of Mrs. Michael Beck on the Old Stage road. All members are asked to bring presents for the "mystery pals" and an extra present each for the Christmas tree.

Study Meets — Family relationship study group will meet with Mrs. W. F. Fechlund in the old Furry residence in Phoenix Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The extension unit will meet at the same place at 1 o'clock. Subject will be care of the hair. A covered dish luncheon will be served at noon. Those attending are to bring salads or vegetables. Persons interested are invited to attend.

Park Roads Open—West and south entrance roads in Crater Lake national park were open today to the lake rim, rangers reported by short-wave radio. The drive to the rim had been closed by snow for a short time. No snow fell in the park yesterday or last night, the ground cover having settled to 26 inches at headquarters this morning. While the south and west entrance roads were clear, they were icy and tire chains were needed for safe motoring, the rangers said. The weather this morning was described as cloudy, with visibility poor. Lowest temperature during the night was 19 degrees. Cloudy weather prevailed also at Oregon Caves national monument, according to a short-wave radio report received at headquarters here. The two-inch week-end snow had practically all melted, the report said.

Air Corps Data—Staff Sgt. Grant Osborn, airplane and engine mechanic of the army's 5th airbase squadron at Hamilton field, Cal., will be at the recruiting office in Medford Friday morning to answer questions of eligible young men interested in learning of the possibilities of acquiring a technical education during an enlistment with the air corps. Staff Sgt. Willis S. Estep, in charge of the Medford recruiting office, announced today that March field, Cal., is now closed to recruits and that he expects other air fields on the coast to be closed by January 1 unless new enlistment quotas are authorized. Since September 1 almost half the enlistments in this area have been for the air corps, the sergeant said, adding that the air corps branch of the army should soon complete its expansion program. He urged all interested young men not to delay in registering if they want to enlist in the air corps.

Chimney Fire—The fire department's chemical crew stood by last night while a chimney blaze at the Floyd Watkins home at 1128 West Main street burned itself out. No damage was done. Soot in the chimney was ignited by heat from the furnace, firemen said. The alarm was sounded at 8:12 p. m.

Pastor Returns — The Rev. Joseph Knotts, pastor of the First Methodist church, returned by train this morning from Odell, where he had been holding a successful preaching mission for his son, the Rev. Ross Knotts. The latter will assist his father in similar meetings in Medford the week beginning February 3.

Special Service — A special Christmas service will be held for Crater Lake aerie and auxiliary, Fraternal Order of Eagles, in the First Presbyterian church at 1 a. m. next Sunday. Members are to assemble outside the church at 10:45. Dr. Sherman L. Divine, pastor, will give a sermon prepared especially for the Eagles.

Recovering—Mrs. Lee Allen was removed from the Community hospital last evening to the Roland Hubbard home at 828 Minnesota avenue. Mrs. Allen had been confined in the hospital for the past three months from an injury suffered in a fall. She is reported to be recovering satisfactorily and is now up for part of each day.

Slight Mishaps — James L. Hampton of Beagle and John E. Cardin of Route 2 drove cars involved in a slight accident on East Sixth street Monday afternoon, according to a report on file today. A machine operated by Lloyd W. Arrington of Jacksonville struck the rear end of a car driven by William R. Morningstar of 819 Taylor street on East Main street Monday afternoon, and the latter vehicle in turn hit the back of a parked car owned by Ray Knips, a report on file said today.

Plane Passengers — United Mainliners due here at 10:55 and 4:52 flew over Medford today because of low overcast. There was only a 700-foot ceiling here this morning whereas civil aeronautics authority regulations require a ceiling of at least 1,000 feet for landings at Medford. Chester Hubbard returned from Portland on last night's Mainliner. Sidney Smith returned from Portland on the southbound flagstop Mainliner last evening. Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Bristol of Gold Hill left for Mainliner yesterday afternoon for Detroit via Portland. They were called to Detroit because of a death in the family.

Member of Grange — As head of extension work in this state Ballard originated and put in practice the conception of extension work as being all directed toward the betterment of the rural home, whether any particular project were carried on with men, women, or boys and girls.

He is a member of the Grange, Farmers' Union and Farm Bureau, and is a thirty-second degree Mason, and is a member of Alpha Sigma Phi social fraternity.

The Grange

Roxy Ann Grange Roxy Ann Grangers greatly enjoyed having R. G. Fowler, Jackson county agriculture agent, visit us at our regular meeting Friday. Mr. Fowler took part in our Ceres program and gave an interesting and instructive talk on "Seeds," both commercial and weeds. He explained why the raising of beet seed is especially adapted to this section and why it promises to be a coming profitable industry.

The following announcements were made: Friday evening, December 15 our lecturer, together with the Home Economics club, is to have charge of the evening program and treats. This will be our annual Christmas party and everyone attending is to bring a ten-cent gift for the tree. Saturday night, December 16 our Grange will give their next public dance and a good time is being planned.

Home Economics club will meet at the Grange hall for a pot luck dinner at 12 o'clock this Wednesday. We would like a one hundred percent attendance as this is to be a Yuletide party. A Christmas tree is to be a part of the program so all ladies are reminded to bring their Roxy Anna gifts, also a useful present for miscellaneous kitchen shower.

Do Big Job. Henderson, Ky. —(P)—While Otis Benton and Joe Roberts were riding along a nearby highway, they spied a 'possum. Returning to town, they picked up Benton's two Pekingese dogs and went back to the spot where they saw the 'possum jump into a clump of bushes. "Ko Ko" and "Shasta," the Pekes, routed the 'possum, chased it up a tree and Roberts shot it down. On examination, the two hunters found their quarry was larger than either of the dogs.

EDUCATION BOARD PICKS SUCCESSOR FOR DR. G. PEAVY

Frank Lewelling Ballard, 48, was born in Meredith, New Hampshire, May 8, 1891, as the member of the fifth generation in direct line to be born in the same house on the same farm.

His early schooling and thru college preparatory years was at the Tilton (N.H.) school for boys, a New England church supported institution. He entered Oregon State college in October 1912 where he worked his way through the first few years at ordinary labor and then was laboratory assistant in agricultural chemistry one year. He remained in college the fifth year to become editor of the Barometer, student newspaper and to serve as correspondent for the Morning Oregonian and other papers.

Succeeded Maris He obtained his bachelor of science degree in 1918 after having completed major requirements in agronomy, agricultural economics, and practically so in agricultural chemistry.

With the reorganization of the agricultural division at the college in 1936 Ballard succeeded Paul V. Maris in direct charge of the central as well as field work of the extension service with the title of vice-director. Since 1923 Ballard has been professor of extension methods at the college and has taught class in this for the past five years at Oregon State and has filled visiting lectureships in this field at Montana State college and at a New York regional extension conference.

Member of Grange As head of extension work in this state Ballard originated and put in practice the conception of extension work as being all directed toward the betterment of the rural home, whether any particular project were carried on with men, women, or boys and girls.

He is a member of the Grange, Farmers' Union and Farm Bureau, and is a thirty-second degree Mason, and is a member of Alpha Sigma Phi social fraternity.

NEGRO LADY AGED 108 SURVIVES BROKEN HIP

Fort Wayne, Ind., Dec. 12.—(P)—Mrs. Henrietta Jackson, Fort Wayne Negro whose grandchildren say she is 108, is up and helping with the housework again five months after suffering a broken hip.

Hurt in a fall last Fourth of July, she was put under a anesthetic while Dr. Wayne R. Glock inserted a stainless steel pin in the injured thigh. Dr. Glock said she was the oldest person he had known to survive a bone-pinning operation.

New Dr. Kildare Film Coming

"The Secret of Dr. Kildare," third of the Dr. Kildare series, with Lew Ayres and Lionel Barrymore heading the cast, comes to the Crater Theatre tomorrow for a four day showing. The scientific detective romance deals with a beautiful girl's strange terror, and the detective work of Ayres, as Dr. Jimmy Kildare, to trace it down to the plot of a fanatical nurse and a quack doctor. In the dramatic climax, under the guidance of Barrymore, as the gruff, lovable Dr. Gillespie, he cures her blindness. Dramatic highlights of the story include the amazing cure of a paralytic by Barrymore through the use of a new medical discovery. Lionel Atwill heads the supporting cast that also includes Helen Gilbert, Laraine Day, Nat Pendleton, Sara Haden, Samuel S. Hinds and many other favorites.

Singing Star

Bobby Breen, popular singing star of screen and radio, comes to the New Rialto Theatre for today and tomorrow only in "Way Down South", a song-filled, laugh-packed story of life on the plantations in the days before the Civil War. The highlight of the film is the sugar cane celebration that takes place after the cane is all harvested. The dusky Dixie darlings gather together and have an all night frolic that makes white folks come for miles to see. Bobby sings several of Stephen Foster's songs and also two or three Negro spirituals. Alan Mowbray, Ralph Mor-
