Brothers To Stand Trial On Charge Of Obtaining Money on False Pretense.

T. J. Enright, an attorney, and his brother, John Enright, indicted by the last grand jury for alleged obtaining of money under false pretenses, were arraigned today in circuit court. Both entered pleas of innocence.

Attorney Enright completed arrangements for furnishing $500 bonds each for himself and brother. The latter has been held in the county jail since last Thursday.

No date has been set for the trial, but it will be as soon as the court arranges the trial calendar. It is anticipated it will be some time during January.

The Enrights are charged in the indictment with inducing Dave Cardwell, disabled war veteran, residing in the Eagle Point district, to sign checks which they cashed, with the knowledge the disabled veteran had no funds in the bank. According to the district attorney

ADOLF BINDER, SR. NOTED BREWMASTER, HERE FROM MEXICO

Adolf Binder, Sr., nationally known brewmaster, arrived in Medford today from his home in Sonora, Mexico, to visit his son here and renew acquaintance with Sam A. Kroschel, owner and manager of the A-One Brewing company. Mr. Binder's son is brewmaster of the local brewery.

Tonight, at the Hotel Medford, an informal and private party will be given for the distinguished guest with Mr. Kroschel as host. Following the dinner, there will be a musical program featuring Medford's accordion band.

Adolf Binder, Sr. was originator of the formula now used in the manufacture of Miller's High Life beer, according to Mr. Kroschel. He joined the Miller organization in 1900 and continued until 1918, the advent of prohibition. Miguel Gonzales, well-known Mexican and now district governor for Rotary International in Mexico, called Mr. Binder to his country in 1918 to assist in rehabilitating the brewing industry in Mexico. He is still associated with this program in Sonora.

While in Medford, the brewmaster will thoroughly check the formula and operations of the A-One Brewing company. It is an interesting fact that his son, associated with the local company, is but one of three sons actively engaged in the brewing industry. The eldest son is associated with a Los Angeles firm. The father and three sons are graduate, expert chemists in addition to their specialized brewing activities.
