MINE BLAST CAUSE REMAINS MYSTERY

Bartley, W. Va., Jan. 16.—(AP)—An official of the Pond Creek Pochontas company, operators of the Bartley No. 1 coal mine in which 91 men were killed by an explosion last week, said today the cause of the blast "may never be known."

Amid investigations of the disaster, R. E. Salvati, company vice-president, said no reason had been found for "the ignition of gas" which set off the nation's worst mine accident in 12 years.

After days of digging, rescue workers recovered all 91 bodies and brought them to the surface from the bowels of the mine over the weekend.

The 47 miners who escaped injury aided sorrowing relatives of the dead in arranging scores of funerals today.

SOCIAL SECURITY PLANS OUTLINED IN ROTARY TALK

Edwin Bates of Regional Office in San Francisco Explains Age Insurance

Amendments to the federal social security act, passed by the Congress last August, now provide a worker with insurance protection for his family and also a monthly income for himself in his old age. Edwin Bates of the San Francisco regional office of the social security board said today in an address before the Medford Rotary Club's luncheon at the Medford Hotel.

The widow and dependent children of an insured worker who dies will receive monthly benefits if there is a child in the family under age 16 or under 18 and attending school. Bates explained.

"This provision in behalf of survivors means that a worker's social security account no longer represents only a payment he will receive some 20 to 30 years in the future when he reaches the retirement age of 65," the speaker added. "It is also a protection he has today for his family if he should die and leave dependents."

These survivor benefits will be paid if the worker has been employed at jobs covered by the social security act in at least six calendar quarters since January 1, 1937, and earned at least $50 in each quarter from such employment.

Workers who have attained 65 may also claim a monthly payment at this time if they choose to retire and have had the required six calendar quarters of employment described above.

Wesley Hayes, manager of the Klamath Falls office of the Social Security Board, who accompanied Bates, pointed out that a worker who is now 65 and has not had the required six quarters of employment may meet the requirement by working after that age.

The employment of a worker is now covered regardless of age, Hayes said, this also being a new provision of the law which removed the "stop date" at 65 which had been a part of the original act.

Many workers who reached 65 after January 1, 1937, when the law became effective, have received lump sum settlements. The social security board can now re-open the accounts of these workers and pay them a monthly benefit if they meet the requirements, Hayes explained.

The lump sum settlement will, however, be deducted from the monthly benefits to which the worker may be entitled.

Persons in Jackson county entitled to old-age or survivor benefits should write to the social security board, 611 Medical-Dental building, Klamath Falls. Josephine county residents are served by the social security board office located in the Post Office building at Eugene.

Verlyn Thomas, a student at Junior high school, entertained the luncheon and guests with a violin selection, "Romance" by Henri Wieniawski, accompanied at the piano by Miss Helen Leath, music instructor at Junior high.

A brief sketch of the career of Finland's "iron man," Baron Mannerheim, was presented by Lee Bishop, following the address by Edwin Bates.

land and call on the president to place the neutrality act restrictions into operation in respect to that conflict.

A few minutes later Senator Gillette (D-Iowa), offered a resolution calling for similar action in connection with the Sino-Japanese war.

Budget Cut Urged Denying funds for two agencies created by Mr. Roosevelt, the house appropriations committee stepped up with recommendations that the government's "independent offices" be allowed $94,492,166 less than the president's budget estimate.

The committee said it had found nothing in legislative history authorizing either the national resources planning board nor the office of government reports, the former national emergency council.

It recommended a congress provide only $1,100,212,307 of the $1,194,704,473 asked for the independent offices by the president.

Quick confirmation came in the senate on the appointments of Attorney General Frank Murphy to be a supreme court justice, Solicitor General Robert H. Jackson to be attorney general, and Judge Francis Biddle to be solicitor general.

Senator Sheppard (D-Tex.), making his annual speech on prohibition, suggested liquor advertising be barred from newspapers and magazines and beer advertising from the radio.

Admiral Harold R. Stark told the house naval committee $2,276,000,000 would be needed by 1945 to complete the navy's current and proposed construction of warships and warplanes.
