

LOCAL and PERSONAL

Calls Here—Mrs. Mary Weidman of Eagle Point was a Medford caller yesterday.

In Corvallis—Miss Annie Bateman, manager of the southern Oregon Credit bureau, is attending a Rebekah grand lodge convention in Corvallis.

To Reroof—F. E. Samson of 341 North Front street applied at the city building inspector's office yesterday for a permit to reroof a shed at a stated cost of $250.

Driver Tests—Examinations will be held here as usual Saturday for persons wishing licenses or permits to operate motor vehicles. A state examiner will be in council chambers on the top floor of city hall from 9 to 5 and applicants are asked to report to him.

Leaves For North—Lawrence D. Pagter, division of timber management at the U. S. regional forester's office in Portland, left yesterday afternoon by stage for Umpqua national forest headquarters in Roseburg. He had worked on timber management plans with executives of Rogue River national forest since last Friday.

Cutting Grass—Fire Chief Roy Elliott reported today that business places and residents were cooperating in cutting tall grass away from buildings, along alleys and in vacant lots. Tall grass, which soon will be dry, presents a serious fire hazard, the chief pointed out in recommending that all such grass be cleared away now before it becomes dry.

In Hospital—Mrs. Hazel Gilmore is confined in Sacred Heart hospital for a week's rest and treatment for pleurosy. She is not permitted to have visitors. Mrs. Gilmore recently underwent a serious operation from which she is now fully recovered. She recently sold her home at 712 West Fourth street and has not yet established herself in another residence.

Candidate Here—Bruce Spaulding, district attorney of Polk county and democratic candidate for attorney general, conferred with party leaders here today. Mr. Spaulding once worked in Medford. He has been practicing law for ten years. He is a graduate of Willamette university at Salem and of Willamette university law school. His grandparents were Oregon pioneers.

To Convention—Leaving this morning by motorcars for Seaside were Frank P. Farrell, city attorney, Frank H. Rogers, city building inspector, and Earl H. York, member of the city civil service commission. At Seaside they were to attend the annual convention of the League of Oregon Cities and affiliated organizations Thursday and Friday. Mr. Farrell was accompanied by Mrs. Farrell. Mayor C. C. Furnas left for the convention yesterday.

Pilot Qualifies—Leonard S. Stenerson of Jacksonville highway this morning was awarded a private pilot's certificate by H. K. Bragg, inspector of the civil aeronautics authority. Stenerson passed the required written and flight examinations at Medford municipal airport. He is a member of the Crater Flying club. His qualifying for the certificate augmented the steadily growing number of local residents who have been licensed by the government as private pilots.

Plane Passengers—H. M. Bechtel returned by Mainliner this forenoon from Portland. H. B. James left by Mainliner early this morning for Portland. Miss June Nugent and T. S. White arrived from Portland by Mainliner last midnight. R. Burdick arrived from San Francisco last night and H. P. Bush departed on the same plane for Portland. S. E. Smith arrived from Portland on last night's southbound Mainliner. Dr. Bertha Sawyer of Ashland left on the afternoon flagstop plane for Portland. Leaving for Portland on the regular afternoon Mainliner were V. E. Rolfe and E. G. Mullins.

Medford Caller—Orri Buckwalter of Gold Hill called here this morning.

Harner Here—Harold Harner, resident of Gold Hill, was a business caller here today.

To Have Sale—D.A.V. auxiliary will hold a cooked-food and candy sale at the Safeway store, Bartlett and Sixth streets, Saturday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Higher Rating—William Hawkins of Ashland was today given a 2-S rating as a private pilot by H. K. Bragg, civil aeronautics authority inspector, at Medford municipal airport. The rating permits Hawkins to fly planes one weight class above Taylor Cubs, planes such as Fairchild's. Hawkins is one of the students of the Southern Oregon College of Education enrolled for the government's civilian pilot training program.

At Airport—Today's arrivals at Medford municipal airport included Lieut. D. S. Cox, Seattle, Wash., to Oakland, Cal., in a North American basic training plane; C. E. West, lieutenant in the California national guard, Seattle to Sacramento, Cal., in a Douglas observation plane; Capt. J. C. Crowwaite of Maxwell field, Ala., Seattle to Sacramento in a Curtiss pursuit plane; and H. K. Bragg, inspector of the civil aeronautics authority who arrived from Portland in a Fairchild plane and was to leave this evening for Eugene after giving a number of examinations here. Late arrivals yesterday were Lieut. Graham West, Vancouver, Wash., to Sunnyvale, Cal., in a Curtiss pursuit plane; and Maj. Carlton Bond, Vancouver to Medford and return in a North American basic combat plane.

Births

Born at Community hospital this morning to Mr. and Mrs. Alvin L. McMaster of Ashland a baby girl weighing 6 pounds 3 ounces.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Walters of Route 2 in Community hospital May 20 a baby girl weighing 8 pounds 4 ounces.

Father, Daughters Fly
New Orleans (U.P.)—Civil Judge Nat W. Bond and his two daughters have sprouted wings, so to speak. The judge is one of the very few pilot-judges in the country and his daughters take after him.

"Of Mice And Men" Coming

Betty Fields and Burgess Meredith, as Mae and George, play important roles in the picture adaptation of John Steinbeck's famous "Of Mice and Men", which comes to the Craterian Theatre Sunday for a three day run. Lon Chaney, Jr., as the muddle-headed Lennie with the big heart and strong hands, shares top honors. One of the most sensational stage plays in years, the film adaptation is a direct refutation of those scoffers who maintained that the picture could never be made to follow the story. The picture retains all the power, the drama and suspense of Steinbeck's heroic story of a couple of "bindle-stiffs", one of whose brute strength and weak mind have often upset their "best laid plans".

In Radio Role

Jackie Cooper comes to the Roxy Theatre for today and tomorrow only in the screen role of Henry Aldrich, favorite radio character—now a film star in "What a Life", based on the adventures of young Aldrich. Betty Field plays opposite as his favorite girl friend.

"The Saint in London", newest of the George Sanders—Simon Templar stories, plays as the added feature with "What a Life".

On Saturdays in good weather, a group of men in Franklington, N. C., play marbles. The oldest player is 84.

Joneses Back

America's first screen family, the Joneses, have lost their money and their home and their dad is laid up in a hospital. All they have left is their car and their trailer—but they're having a grand time in their new fun film, "On Their Own", which heads the double bill playing for today and tomorrow only at the New Rialto theater. They head for California and things happen so fast, according to advance reports, that they have trouble keeping up with the march of events that take place.

With Dad out of the running Grandma and son Roger take over the command of the family. Florence Roberts plays Granny and George Ernest plays Roger. Others are Spring Byington as Ma Jones, Ken Howell, June Carlson and John Qualen.

Alice Duer Miller's story of two sisters who fenced with each other for the affection of a man they both loved, "And One Was Beautiful," plays as

Technicolor Drama On Craterian Bill Thrilling Audience

No mightier fury has ever been filmed than the hurricane sequence which gives a thrilling climax to the technicolor adventure-romance "Typhoon" now playing with Dorothy Lamour, Robert Preston, Lynne Overman and J. Carrol Naish at the Craterian theater.

The sudden anger of the typhoon swoops down on a mythical isle in the Dutch East Indies pearling grounds, and its torrential rains are lashed down by a breath-taking gale. Whole palm trees are uprooted, and go flying past the camera. Capping the devastation, mounting crests of tidal waves boil in, the final crest topping fifty feet.

This stunning spectacle climaxes the suspense of a roaring jungle fire, that threatens to burn the entire island, and to cremate sarong-clad Dorothy, Robert Preston, Lynne Overman and Dorothy's trained chimpanzee, Skippy.

Lynne Overman and Koko, the trained chimpanzee, supply catching comedy.

Revamp Curfew
Berkeley, Cal. (U.P.)—Co-eds at the University of California solved with almost child-like simplicity the "honor" problem of violating the curfew ruling which requires them on their nights out to be in bed by 1 o'clock, and then winking at the violation. They just voted to extend the curfew hour to 2:30.

Buffalo, N. Y. (U.P.)—The 60-year-old tug International, Rip Van Winkle of Niagara river boats, will slumber here no longer. It will be sold "down the river" for whatever it will bring.

EDUCATORS TRY WORKSHOP IDEA AS STUDENT AID

Harrisburg, Pa. (U.P.)—A group of Pennsylvania high school teachers this summer will be taught how to make classroom instruction more useful for students who cannot go to college.

A "workshop" will be established for some 150 teachers at Pennsylvania State college. The idea, unique in commonwealth educational annals, was conceived on the theory that high schools cater too much to the pre-college minority. Fewer than 20 per cent of high school graduates go to college.

One prime principle is that many students need schooling in such general matters as newspaper reading, household duties and family relationships. Those things, a number of educators hold, are needed by those students more than a knowledge of profound works of literature or mathematical systems.

The "workshop" leaders will find what is happening to high school graduates who do not matriculate to higher schools of learning, and just what is demanded of them by industry and business.

Toward that end industrial personnel directors, CCC officials, labor leaders and others versed in job placement will be used as consultants.

Supervisors of a recent national youth administration study of 10,000 Pennsylvania youths will report on their attitude toward the commonwealth's public instruction system.

The "workshop" will be a seminar conducted by the state college in conjunction with the University of Pennsylvania, University of Pittsburgh and the state department of public instruction.

The novel project will be financed by funds granted by the Progressive Education association and the general education board. Enrollment preference will be given experienced teachers and administrators whose school districts are officially interested in results.
