DEMANDS OF WAR TO OPEN OLD CALIFORNIA MINES OF CINNABAR

San Francisco (U.P.)—With war demands having advanced the price of mercury from $50 to $172 a flask, the world-famous New Almaden quicksilver mines of Santa Clara county are to be worked over by a new $500,000 corporation.

The New Almaden is the oldest quicksilver mine in the United States and has an important place in mining books and history.

During the period of 1846-1926, it is credited with having produced from $65,000,000 to $75,000,000 worth of quicksilver.

But from a mining community of 13,000 people in its heyday of the '70s it has dwindled to an almost uninhabited region, where a few people work sporadically at extracting quicksilver, and where tourists occasionally pass to have a glimpse at the spot that once figured so remarkably in the mining days of early California.

But all of this is now scheduled to change rapidly, and the district is expected to take on much of its former activity and regain some of its former population.

ART TREASURES MISSING IN WAR

Paris, May 24.—Thirty truckloads of art treasures including paintings by Rubens, Rembrandt and Van Dyck are missing, it was disclosed today, after being spirited out of Brussels during the German invasion.

The priceless treasures were taken from the Brussels museum and placed in trucks which set out for France over the bombed and refugee-tangled roads of Belgium.

They departed before the fall of the Belgian capital a week ago today, but have not been heard from since.

DOZEN FIRES IN SET BY STORM IN DESCHUTES

Hitler Blundered in Scaring British Wisecracks G.B.S.

London, May 24.—(U.P.)—The English wit and playwright, George Bernard Shaw, says Adolf Hitler has made the "awful blunder" of frightening the British.

"Now that we're thoroughly frightened," he said, "we'll be all right. Until the English are frightened they never do anything but play cricket, football, hopscotch and tennis."

"The Kaiser made the mistake of frightening the English and now Hitler has made the same awful blunder... now Hitler is going to find out what we're like when we're frightened."

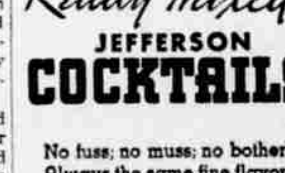

H. G. Wells, historian, said, "Thank Heaven for the change. But why didn't it done before?"

PLAYWRIGHT O'NEIL DIES OF HEMORRHAGE

Los Angeles, May 24.—(U.P.)—A cerebral hemorrhage today caused the death of George O'Neil, 42-year-old playwright and Hollywood scenarist. He succumbed in a hospital after being found in a critical condition in a downtown park late last night.

TALLOWBOX FIRE LOOKOUT MANNED

Big Applegate, May 23.—(U.P.)—Tallowbox lookout station, the first to go on duty here this season, was taken in charge Wednesday by William Snyder, who remained at the post last summer, and who spent the winter in San Francisco. The season is opening at a normal period, the local forest office said.

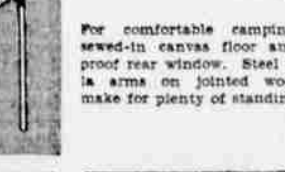

Tallowbox had been authorized, through a recommendation from the local ranger to the regional office in Portland, to go on duty May 1, and several other authorizations were made for May 15. However, actual time set for the men to take their posts will depend upon the weather, it was said. Jack Crump also took over the position of headquarters fire-
