ALL DRESSED UP AND SOMEPLACE TO GO

MANY A woman gauges the success of her vacation by the success of the Oregon State Motor association, co-operating with this newspaper, diversifies the regular motorlog series into the realm of feminine finery. This feature has been condensed from a page article in the Sunday Oregonian, May 26. Next week the motorlogs will revert to the outdoors.

BY JANE ALLEN
Fashion Editor, The Oregonian
SO YOU'RE going away, Lucille, in that merry automobile? Then you better have a good look at summer fashions before you make purchases for that all-important vacation trip if you want to come home in a happy frame of mind.

Half the motor vacation trips in the country are spoiled by an aftermath of intemperate little snap shots showing millady gazing at Niagara Falls in slacks that show the female form to be anything but divine; or her with hair blown to a bleached wisp making her look like a witch instead of the carefree gypsy she thought she was.

Vacation clothes can make a woman mad or glad, depending upon the care with which she has selected them. And the right clothes are easy enough to include if a few figures and occasion limitations are recognized such as:

The human figure moves and redistributes its various volumes. Therefore, see that slacks have pleats at the top that assure a raciness where needed, and complete the neatly tailored garment with a man-tailored shirt if you don't wear a sweater figure. And wear slacks shoes or suitable sports sandals or shoes, not last year's high-heeled slippers. And locks bound round with a snood or a mesh hand-twisted turban, or becoming kerchief, are locks that will not stray.

Remember that city streets demand city clothes. So take along a simply-cut street frock with its own jacket or street top coat in order not to be caught in rumpled gingham play clothes. A long, tailored crepe skirt and formal blouse, or long-sleeved, dress-skirted jersey dinner dress will be useful if friends are entertaining at night clubs.

Bathing suits of dressmaker type are more flattering to the average figure than midriff-showing shorts and bra sets. And there is a new long short, English schoolboy type, or pleated, which is kind.

MANN'S STORE OPENS NEW SPORTS SECTION

"Fun in the Sun" is the theme at Mann's department store this season and the slogan is featured by a brand new section located on the second floor of the store called "Mann's fun in the sun shop—headquarters for smart sports wear".
The section in the ready-to-wear department depicts a nautical scene in canopy paper made of blue ocean wave pattern with white sail boats and upon entering the section one immediately feels cool and in the mood to purchase the variety of attractive sports wear offered.
For active sports wear a complete selection of bathing suits, slacks suits, separate slacks, sweaters, both machine-made and hand-knitted, playsuits and shorts, all in the newest fabrics and colors. For the more conservative sports wear skirts and spectator sports dresses may be had.
That the variety of wear is both stylish and comfortable was proved by Mann's clerks Saturday when they appeared at work dressed in the various outfits.
The department store patrons are invited to view the display new sports section and the display windows which also exhibit the newest creations for sports wear both at home and for travelling.

NEWS VIEWS

By HALE WHEELER
SCIENTISTS at Caltech and the Rockefeller Institute report that the soil is full of helpful germs and bacteria that may be important to health. From the standpoint of young America this news is right up with Joe DiMaggio, the Lone Ranger, and J. Edgar Hoover. It is definitely a boost for both dirt and science. From now on we can expect dirty necks to be a sign of advanced thinkers in the pants-waist division. Parents, however, will probably be as backward as usual and will greet the good earth with soap, water and grim looks.

UNCLE SAM GETS DEFENSE NOTIONS

Washington, May 25.—(A) Uncle Sam has been offered a lot of novel defense suggestions since "total" war has struck Europe.
Here are a few of the ideas recommended to the senate military affairs committee:
A machine to spray the enemy with liquid cement, which would harden, immobilizing the troops.
A parachute bomb to be shot into the midst of attacking planes. The hovering planes would collide with the bombs, detonating them, thus causing

For spectator's sport, for traveling, for most any summer diversion, the hardy one-piece shirtwaist dress above is suitable. The striped top and decorative patch pockets are new this season. loring costume if it has a wrap-around skirt that can be tied or buttoned on in a hurry to turn the whole thing into a presentable shirtwaist dress for street.

Turbans that can be wound by hand may be carried in variety and will provide a whole hat wardrobe for any and all occasions. They pack flat and take almost no space. Snoods are good for car wear.
Sandals can be packed into less space than any other type of shoe and come in styling suitable for every occasion. Three pair will take care of any motor vacation. Brogues are best if rough hiking is to be done.
Last, a bottle of good sun oil is better than a parboiled complexion. A compact and easily stowed beauty kit containing this and other good grooming and beauty necessities is a boon to any feminine motorist.
