

CONTROL BY JAPS DECLARED AIM IN HAWAIIAN ISLANDS

Congress Committee Told Eventual Seizure Goal — Propaganda Campaign On

Washington, May 30.—(AP)—Kilsoo K. Haan of Honolulu told a congressional committee today that the Japanese government was endeavoring to obtain political control over the Hawaiian islands, with a view to eventual seizure of the American territory.

Haan, an American citizen of Korean origin, testified briefly before the house immigration committee. His testimony was cut short by a decision of the committee to hear the remainder of it later in a closed session.

Propaganda Used. The witness declared that Japanese propaganda activity directed at political control was being carried on in the islands by the institute for the education of overseas Japanese and central board of overseas associations, both of which he declared had headquarters in Japan.

He told newsmen, after he left the committee, that he appeared to ask suspension of civil service laws as regards civilian employes of army and navy reservations in the islands, so that officials might discharge persons of dual Japanese-American citizenship.

There are several hundred persons of dual citizenship on these reservations and in view of Japan's plans they are dangerous to the United States," he declared.

He said also to reporters that a high Japanese official had told him that the naval oil storage tanks at Hawaii could be blown up "very easily."
