Hitler Bombers Hit Paris

Map shows how German bombers struck at Paris in the latest and most dramatic of a series of air raids against France. Proceeding the Paris raid, Germans announced raids as far south as the Rhone valley and Marseille and a strong air attack on the few Allied troops remaining in Dunkerque. Britain claimed German bombers attacked two hospital ships off the French coast. Meanwhile, on land, Germans continued to hold the black-shaded area in northern France. A British report said an entire German division had been wiped out by French near Reuel. Italy was still a question mark, although apparently on the verge of joining the war. The Italian press urged citizens of Turin to leave for the country.
