

ROOSEVELT ASKS LAW CHANGE TO AID MUNITION SALES

chief executive said it could not. But he added that planes could get out of date darned fast.

For instance, Mr. Roosevelt said, navy bombers which have only recently been delivered have no armor or self-sealing gas tanks and consequently are out of date.

Asked whether confidential equipment, such as bomb sights, would be removed from planes turned back to manufacturers, the president said he didn't think there need be any worry on that score.

The actual process of turning in equipment, Mr. Roosevelt explained, will require that it be labeled as surplus or excess. The material will be turned back to manufacturers and the money received credited to new purchases instead of being deposited in the treasury.

All sales to the allies of old material, of course, would be made by private firms and not by the government.

Commissioner Lauded. Remarking that the new national defense commission was getting on extremely well, the president said that he had appointed Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., head of a committee to study and make recommendations to him on the general problem of government purchases.

The idea, Mr. Roosevelt said, will be to consolidate greater authority for purchases in the treasury's procurement division. Back in 1917, the chief executive said, the nation was weak in this respect.

The navy announcement last night that the "surplus" planes were being turned in to their manufacturer came only a few hours after the White House had disclosed urgent appeals from the allies for all possible speed in the production of military supplies.

The president had on his desk for signature the $1,492,542,750 naval appropriation bill providing for regular and emergency equipment from bombs to battlewagons. The senate passed the legislation yesterday.

Cool Uniform. London.—(U.P.)—Veterans of the World war who sweated through the summer months in their hot uniforms look enviously on the new summer fashions for the modern army. The mills of Lancashire and Ireland are turning out millions of yards of new cotton fabric from which will be produced a battle-dress that is not only loose and comfortable but cool.

Prison Policy. San Quentin, Cal.—(U.P.)—Convicts in the huge state prison here play an unusual "policy" game which pays off in sacks of tobacco—gambling on which of California's 58 counties will supply the next "even numbered" inmate. Numbers date from the prison's founding in 1852, and the latest arrival to win a prize for a lucky player was No. 65,000.

To You— From Washington by Ethelyn Evans

Washington, D. C.—(Spl.)—Capital Boy Scouts were up at crack o' dawn of a cold, rainy "Memorial" day, decorating each of the many, many graves in Arlington National Cemetery, and helping generally at this year's saddest of all ceremonies at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. But south of the Mason-Dixon line, we found an almost complete disregard of the May 30 holiday, since the Confederate memorial ceremonies are held in June.

BELGIUM'S invasion and surrender puts one more crack in an already crumbling diplomatic front in Washington. Diplomatic circles here, 'tis said, were the largest, most colorful and glamorous in the world. They were, indeed, about the only sure meeting ground for our so-called society "cave-dwellers" (corresponding to New York's old "400") and officials and congressional members here.

Relations with the Nazi are definitely strained now, and with Japan and Italy only a little less so. Pity the hostess who was entertaining representatives of Germany and Norway while Norway was being invaded! As the smaller countries have been absorbed one by one, some diplomats have refused to relinquish their misadventures.

They live on—men without a country! Others have sought and found work in the States, but all of their staffs have been scattered to the ends of the earth. It has been particularly shocking to those of us who met and talked with such attractive representatives of democratic civilization as the Crown Princes and Princesses of Norway, Sweden and Finland. The popular Procopce and his English bride are still very active. We attended a meeting and tea at the legation recently held for the purpose of organizing U. S. committees to urge the adoption of orphaned Finnish children.

AS European legations and countries fade out, the importance of Latin American missions increases. "Good Neighbor" activities are sprouting all over the place. Everyone is glad that Oregon's Mrs. Sadie Orr Dunbar, as president of the General Federation of Woman's clubs, is heading a large delegation of women bound for all points "south."

They are to have lessons in government, history, geography and Spanish on shipboard, and are prepared to "sell" Uncle Sam to officials and federated clubs of Central and South America.

PLENTY of social activity in your Capital City! But all of it is hectic, and most of it revolves around day and night benefits, drives, and auctions for European relief as assistance projects—so many and so varied that we've long since lost count. It started long ago with relief for the German Jewish refugees, who are still receiving money and aid from Red Cross, various committees, and Jewish organizations here and who are still pouring into this country for a safe haven—at least temporarily it is safe. Reports of most ship landings now indicate the number of citizens, other passengers, and refugees. Then next came relief for Spanish sufferers, and now a new group is added almost daily.

Today's news lists a new one for our anxious eyes: A benefit for "Russian" children—in France. No explanation given as to why, how or when they got there. Our local hospitals and institutions haven't dared to bask in with the usual annual benefits. They are merely asking members of boards and their friends to give what they can.

The plight of the children everywhere brings instant response. Many adopt children by paying a yearly sum for maintenance and education—Mrs. Roosevelt has taken on one child from almost every country. However, with conditions changing hourly, it seems safer to work through our Red Cross. We can be sure of aid by them getting through under all conditions.

Talking Car Will Show Tricks Here

One of the most novel and expensive "magic illusions" ever manufactured will be on display here next Monday under auspices of Humphrey Motors, local De Soto dealer at 33 So. Riverside.

The exhibit is the 1940 Magic Talking De Soto car which not only speaks but opens its own doors, windows and trunk lid to prove that no one is inside, starts its own engine, flips its windshield wipers, and has a whole routine of other tricks. How all this is accomplished is a secret, but more than $5,000 has been spent by the De Soto division of Chrysler corporation to prepare the car for a national tour to dealer cities, and according to Mr. Humphreys, this is more than double the price of the most costly illusion for sale by dealers in professional magician's equipment in Chicago.

During its allotted time here, the Talking De Soto will appear both at the De Soto showroom and at various points throughout town. Everyone is invited to see the car perform, and no charge is made for the act.

Dinner Broiled Chickens Creamed New Potatoes Buttered Spinach Bread Butter Fresh Vegetable Salad French Dressing Chocolate Sponge Pudding with Almonds Coffee

2 broilers (about 1-2/3 pounds each) 1/2 cup butter, melted 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon paprika 1/2 teaspoon celery salt Clean and split broilers in halves. Wash well in cold water and chill until serving time. Mix other ingredients in a shallow dish. Dip in the chicken and arrange in a shallow pan. Broil six inches below a glowing flame. Turn several times and baste with more of the butter mixture. It will require about 25 minutes for the chicken to cook. Watch them carefully to prevent scorching.

Chocolate Sponge Pudding With Almonds 1 tablespoon granulated gelatin 1/2 cup cold water 4 egg yolks 1 square chocolate, melted 1/2 cup granulated sugar 2 cups milk 1 teaspoon vanilla 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 cup shredded almonds Soak the gelatin five minutes in the water. Beat the yolks and add the chocolate, sugar and milk. Cook until hot and a little thick in a double boiler. Stir frequently. Add the gelatin and stir until it is dissolved. Cool and mix in the other ingredients. Pour into a mold, rinsed out of cold water. Chill until stiff.

TWO MEN ADDED TO DIRECTORATE OF HEALTH ASSN.

Two men were added to the executive board of the Jackson County Public Health association, long time feminine group, when the annual meeting was held yesterday in the court house auditorium. They are Dr. C. H. Paske and Dr. George B. Dean. Another new name was added, that of Mrs. Howard Hill, now of Rogue River, long time chairman of the health association baby clinic committee. Nominations were presented by Mrs. F. Corning Kenly, chairman of the nominating committee.

Mrs. J. C. S. Wells was re-elected president of the association. Other officers named were Mrs. Elwood Hedberg of Ashland, vice-president; Mrs. Chas. Barnes of Medford, secretary; Mrs. Alex Sparrow, Central Point, treasurer.

Re-elected to the executive board were Miss Helen Bullis, Mrs. Leonard Carpenter, Mrs. R. E. Green, Mrs. Moore Hamilton, Mrs. I. E. Schuler and Mrs. Chas. Taylor.

Chairmen of community groups throughout the county were also announced by the president, as follows: Ashland, Mrs. Elwood Hedberg; Butte Falls, Mrs. M. K. Fox; Central Point, Mrs. Howard Thorniley; Eagle Point, Mrs. Ousterhout; Gold Hill, Mrs. Walter Lipps; Jacksonville, Mrs. H. K. Hanna; Medford, Miss Helen Bullis; Phoenix, Mrs. Ralph Wilcox; Prospect, Mrs. Fred Middlebush.

er, Rogue River, Mrs. Reed Carter; Sams Valley, Mrs. J. L. Frink; and Talent, Mrs. Roy Parr.

Presbyterians to Honor Children in Sabbath Program

The Presbyterian church will present a children's day worship program Sunday morning, starting at 10:30 o'clock in the auditorium. The time is 30 minutes earlier, for this occasion only.

A program of songs, children's plays and other features has been prepared by the vacation school teachers. Infant baptisms will also be performed.

Final week of vacation school under George F. Newton, superintendent, begins Monday at 9 a. m. Pupils are urged to enroll for this week, closing with the picnic Friday, June 14, at Jackson Hot Springs, from 3 to 8 p. m.

Bother School.

Camargo, Okla.—(U.P.)—The prowess of Camargo high school students has created a problem. This year they won seven major awards and almost 40 individual medals and ribbons. Now the school is looking for a contest in which it can acquire not more trophies, but a trophy case. The present one has overflowed.

Closing time for Too Late to Classify Ads is 1:30 p. m.
