

Wallace Beery In Saga Of Death Valley Pioneers On Craterian Bill

DRAMA FILMED IN ORIGINAL LOCALE IN DEATH VALLEY

Leo Carrillo and Marjorie Rambeau in Brilliant Roles — Many in Cast.

Wallace Beery and Leo Carrillo who teamed sensationally as Pancho Villa and his lieutenant in "Viva Villa!" join forces for the first time again in "20 Mule Team," saga of the pioneers of Death Valley, which opens today at the Craterian Theatre.

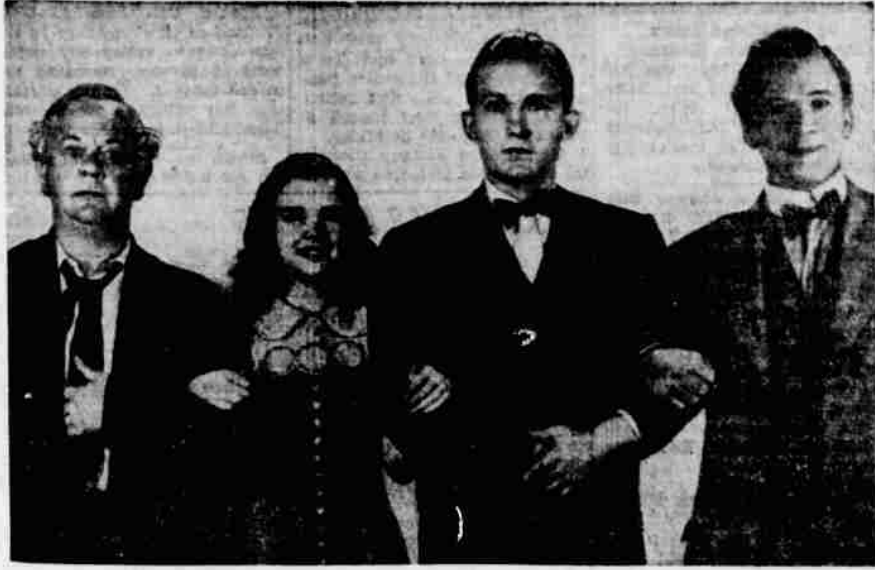

Beery is seen as Bill Bragg, veteran muleskinner of the desert trail, driving back and forth through blistering heat to the railroad at Mojave, 162 miles away, while Carrillo appears as his faithful "swamper," the Indian Plute Pete. Completing the trio of leads is veteran character actress Marjorie Rambeau as Josie Johnson, owner of the hotel and saloon where Beery is in the habit of "undehydrating" himself.

Filmed in the original locale among the sand dunes, sun-baked canyons and salt pools of Death Valley, "20 Mule Team" tells of the fight to find a new "mother lode" of borax and of the efforts of Josie to earn enough to give her daughter, Jean, an education. Jean is played by Anne Baxter, newcomer from the New York stage, who jilts the young company paymaster and tries to elope with a gambler, Stag Roper. Noah Beery, Jr., joins his uncle for the first time, playing the paymaster, Mitch, while Douglas Fowley is seen as Stag.

Typical Western gunfights and desert battles highlight the action which involves such other popular character actors as Clem Bevans, playing the prospector, Chuchawalla; Bertton Churchill as "Jackass" Brown, head of the Desert Borax Company; Arthur Holl, Clem Bevans, Charles Halton, Minor Watson, Oscar O'Shea and Lloyd Ingraham.

Liberia, with a population of 1,500,000, almost entirely African, has no railroads.

"If I Had My Way" Coming To Craterian Wednesday

Like an old "tin-type," the main leads of "If I Had My Way," which comes to the Craterian Theatre Wednesday for a four day run, put on their best "sour-pusses." Bing Crosby and Charles Winninger are the pessimistic looking gents, while little Gloria Jean and El Brendel can't help but "smile at the birdie."

Edward Robinson In Dramatic Role On Rialto Screen

"The Story of Dr. Ehrlich's Magic Bullet," a film constructed along the same lines as "The Story of Louis Pasteur," opens a three day run today at the New Rialto Theatre with Edward G. Robinson in the starring role. Robinson has his greatest role to date as Dr. Ehrlich and is said to give a performance equal to those which Paul Muni gave in "The Story of Louis Pasteur" and in "Emile Zola." William Dieterle, Hollywood's most famous maker of biographical pictures including both "Pasteur" and "Zola," directed the new screen masterpiece.

"Louis Pasteur" paid tribute to Dr. Pasteur, eminent French scientist. "Dr. Ehrlich's Magic Bullet" is an entertaining and dramatic picturization of the life and work in the medical field of Dr. Paul Ehrlich, winner of the Nobel Prize for his scientific discoveries.

It so happens that Ehrlich was a friend and disciple of Pasteur, and carried on some of the work that the French scientist started.

Like Pasteur, Dr. Ehrlich sought constantly to establish an ever closer relationship between medicine and chemistry. He named and sought that recurrent dream of every sincere microbe hunter, a "magic bullet" which would kill microbes, just as a cartridge from a rifle will kill big game.

For Dr. Ehrlich, this dream came true, to the infinitely great benefit of all mankind. And unlike most great men—Dr. Ehrlich lived to see the glory heaped upon his head by a worshipping mankind.

A picture that is truly different, amazing and true, "Dr. Ehrlich's Magic Bullet" also stars in a large cast Ruth Gordon as Mrs. Ehrlich, Miss Gordon was recently commended for her portrayal of Mary Todd Lincoln in Raymond Massey's "Abe Lincoln in Illinois." Others include Donald Crisp, Donald Meek, Maria Ouspenskaya, Otto Kruger and Sig Rumann.

"The Crooked Road," Featuring Edmund Lowe, Henry Wilcoxon and Irene Hervey, plays as the added feature with the Robinson opus.
