

New Serial June 25

A swiftly-paced mystery romance, "Casual Slaughters," written by Virginia Hanson, will be the next serial story appearing in The Mail Tribune. The author is a daughter of a retired colonel, and her brother is also a retired army officer and as might be expected her story deals with the army. The new serial will start June 25.

NATIONAL DEFENSE MAIL SERVICE TO PROGRAM BACKED BY LABOR HEADS

Communists and Fifth Columnists Condemned As Federation Opens Meet

Klamath Falls, Ore., June 17—Oregon Federation of Labor leaders condemned Communists and fifth columnists, endorsed the national defense program and hoped for international peace today at the opening session of the 38th annual convention.

"We hope it will be possible for this country to stay out of war," said President Paul E. Gurske to about 300 delegates. "The economic depression which may be expected to follow our participation would be of proportions never experienced in this country. It might well be so grave as to challenge the stability of our political system."

Expose Is Remedy
"Local unions may well scan the activities of these labor fifth column forces and apply the proven, effective remedy—expose the individuals and their purposes, for otherwise unions will be destroyed," Dell E. Nickerson, executive secretary, warned in his annual report.

"Labor, by bitter experience, knows the annoyance and damage which can be done by Communists. For 20 years they have indulged in the same practices against organized labor and they now will transfer against government enterprise. Fortunately most of the Stalinists left the AFL and joined the dual (labor) movement soon after it organized."

"But there are a few instances in which the borers—from within are still trying to operate in the AFL, the purpose now being to weaken them in the hope they may be supplanted by unions in the dual movement."

FIREMAN KNOWS HOW MAIL POUCH FEELS

La Grande, Ore., June 17—(AP)—Fireman J. K. Wolfe, 56, of La Grande, said today he knew how a mailsack felt.

He leaned too far from the cab of a speeding Union Pacific locomotive yesterday at a point where the Meacham mail crane stands. The crane fetched him out with neatness and dispatch.

Save for shock and a few scratches he was unhurt.

BLITZKRIEG IN AIR
One hundred and fifty-seven years ago Benjamin Franklin witnessed in Paris the first balloon ascent made by man (Pilate de Rozier and Marquis d'Arlandes, Nov. 20, 1783). So impressed was he that he soon wrote: "The discovery might give a new turn to human affairs... Five thousand balloons, capable of raising two men each, could not cost more than five ships of the line, and where is the prince who can afford so to cover his country with troops for the defense, as that 10,000 men descending from the clouds might not in so many places do an infinite deal of mischief before a force could be brought together to repel them?
