

To You — From Washington by Ethelyn Evans

Washington, D. C.—(Spl.)—“Oregon” tid-bits: The Oregon State society participated in the grand ball, sponsored by Mrs. Roosevelt, for the benefit of “The Alliance for the Guidance of Rural Youth.” The same organization recently held its annual picnic at the Joaquin Miller cabin in beautiful Rock Creek park. Miss Pheren Miller, secretary to the society, conducts art classes in this cabin during the summer month. She likewise keeps the “Oregon House” on 19th street open all year for the convenience of resident and visiting Oregonians. I had a nice chat with Mrs. Chas. L. McNary before her entrance to Red Cross headquarters—where everyone meets everyone these days. Mrs. McNary will soon be at their Salem, Ore. home and plans to continue Red Cross work there. Senator McNary, of course, stays on for the duration. As a means of keeping fit during this “muggy” weather, the senator often takes an early morning walk around the reflecting pool between the Washington Monument and the Lincoln Memorial. Mrs. McNary usually walks with him.

“UNIVERSAL” education to the “nth” degree for the capital city! Except for a few hoity-toity prep and finishing schools, our many universities here gear courses, hours and classes to the convenience of working and professional folk. Boy pages in congress have their own school; practically all capitol clerks, secretaries, elevator boys, and many capitol police are taking courses in this and that—and we have members of congress proudly graduating in law and what-not. This year, Mrs. Murdock (a grandmother), wife of an Arizona congressman, bobs up with a doctor's degree in education and has her “pitcher” with her young son graduating in law. One is a fellow-member of our press conference and writes chitter-chatter for her state's sheets.

While this thrived for learning is greatly concentrated here—where facilities are so abundant—there is much the same state of affairs all over this land. And the problem being widely discussed in literary, academic, official, P.T.A. and woman's club circles is: With all this learning are we getting “understanding”? Have we stressed privileges and rights to the neglect of concomitant “responsibilities”?

Our educational system is now being subjected to healthy attacks from numerous angles. Many outstanding educational leaders are in the foreground of this campaign, demanding that the system be taken apart, weeded out and re-molded nearer to the national need for trained leadership in democratic principles and government. This is “our” project, you know! Let's dive in and think, talk and learn about education—other than build-ings and equipment—and nothing but “the greatest good to the greatest number” can possibly result!

“BARGAIN” ocean cruises are no more—especially on the one-way refugee trips from Europe—according to recently arriving families of our foreign service men who have stayed with husbands and fathers almost beyond the “last possible moment.” $400 first class and around $240 third class (no second class allowed) on the last boat to arrive. This ship, reports one woman, carried some 2,000 passengers—only 900 European—with about 1,100 American war refugees. No other ships are scheduled, but the state department is desperately seeking means of evacuating many Americans left stranded in the path of the juggernaut. Anne (Duck) Bullitt, young daughter of ambassador to France, Wm. Bullitt, feels herself a captive on this side of the ever narrowing, shrinking Atlantic. A precocious, sophisticated child—speaking several languages—Anne has crossed the ocean 32 times. She has been her Daddy's almost constant companion, acting as hostess for him in Moscow, Paris and other world capitals, and now he sticks at his dangerous post alone. Anne is only 16 years old and has but recently graduated from “Foxcroft,” a fashionable Virginia finishing school.

raham Lincoln. Now it has given us Wendell Willkie. He is neither a Democratic nor Republican politician with political strings attached to him but a great American who is capable of leading us out of the financial situation in which this country finds itself and of guiding us in any future international crisis. It seems to me the time has come for all political parties to support in unity a man who knows the answers.

Edward Carter, who has been here the past three months, went to Portland Saturday and returned Sunday with his wife and two children and they will make their home in Grants Pass, where he is employed. Walter V. Dennis, superintendent of schools, left June 17 for Eugene where he will work on an advanced degree in education at U. of O. Mrs. Dennis will not leave for a few weeks. The S. J. Blakely family has moved into the Breeding house adjoining John Breeding's place. Miss Myrtle McLaren, a recent graduate of the Leonard Beauty school of Medford, has opened a beauty shop in the Miller barber shop.

Hoffman, who has been visiting them, motored to the Hoffman home here recently. Townsend club is sponsoring a dance in the U. S. hall June 22. The public is cordially invited. Bob Dawson and Mrs. Jewell of Tual spent June 16 at the H. C. Whitney home. Other guests during the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. Percy Merritt and daughter Eugena of Klamath Falls. Mrs. Ella H. Bush of Medford and Mrs. Dorothy Gore of San Francisco called on friends here recently. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stuckler and

Mrs. Meda Woods of Seattle are vacationing with their father, Mark Winningham, their brother William Winningham of Forest Creek and sisters, Mrs. H. C. Whitney of Jacksonville and Mrs. Addie Hewitt of Rio Del, Calif. Miss Margaret Markham, who has taught the past year in Roseburg, has been visiting at the home of Mrs. Ernie Niedermejer. Lindbergh Worthy Son
To the editor:
The following quotation on the Monroe Doctrine is taken from the Encyclopedia Britannica: “That the United States should avoid entangling itself in the politics of Europe was a policy recommended by Washington.—The Monroe Doctrine has become deeply rooted in the American heart, and a permanent part of the foreign policy of the United States. It tends to change into the principle that every portion of the American continent must be free from European control. It is still coupled, however, with the converse principle that America takes no part in European politics, as the disclaimer of the American delegates to the first peace conference at The Hague proved.”

Today England asks us to set aside the policy under which we have prospered and become a great force and example among nations. An incredible amount of propaganda, even more than 23 years ago, is being used to play relentlessly upon the emotions of our people, to again induce them to forsake their national principles and be drawn into foreign war. On the eve of the first World War, Congressman Charles A. Lindbergh held staunchly to our American ideal and loyally opposed American entry into that war. In the present World War, it is altogether logical and patriotic for the son of this notable statesman to take the same firm stand regarding America's duty to herself and the world at large.

The Lindberghs as a family were law-makers in Sweden for generations before they came to America, and it is the most natural thing in the world for Colonel Lindbergh to uphold the spirit and letter of the Monroe Doctrine and do all in his power for the welfare of his native America in the hour of crisis. Colonel Lindbergh is eminent in the world of aeronautics and medical science and is now proving himself a statesman of vision and courage, a worthy son of an illustrious father.

The moral stability he shows today is a much rarer virtue than the type of courage that won him the acclaim of a nation. The same nation now crucifies him for the nobler service. Colonel Lindbergh was hailed by his fellow countrymen as the “Lone Eagle.” He now wears that title with a deeper significance. Men of cool poise and wisdom who dare maintain their convictions are invariably lonely, because there are so few of them. That a man of this high character should be subjected to “fifth column” insinuations is a matter of shame to every true patriot. We may well ponder and ask—America, whither goest thou? To the editor:
Regardless of political affiliations, I wish every thoughtful citizen would read two articles published in the Saturday Evening Post dated June 22. The first is entitled “I Am Not Nominating Him,” and the second, “Five Minutes To Midnight.” In the crisis of the Civil War a great tradition gave us Ab-

Rogue River

Rogue River, June 21.—(Spl.) Ladies Aid of Presbyterian church met at the home of Mrs. Sam Sandry, June 7. Main business before the meeting was the buying of some new furnishings for the manse. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Sandry.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Marlette and son of San Francisco visited overnight at the Reed Carter home last week. Mrs. Marlette is Mr. Carter's sister. The fire alarm brought every one outdoors Thursday morning but the fire was down the old river road at the house owned by Sam Browder of Grants Pass. Mrs. Johnson, who lives in the house, drove to Rogue River and summoned the fire department. Chief Hart and his crew succeeded in putting out the fire with garden hose and fire extinguishers.

Floyd K. Dover of Rogue River was elected department commander at the state convention held in Roseburg of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War. Mrs. Kate McIlvain entertained Wednesday with a turkey dinner in honor of her friend who is visiting here. Other guests were Mrs. Babcock, Mrs. Breasle, Mrs. Sam Sandry and Mrs. Mabel Wilson.

Royal Neighbor club of Grants Pass met at the home of Mrs. Hector on the highway. Those attending from here were Mrs. Fred Dangler, Mrs. Belle Hart, Mrs. Ray Moore, Mrs. Dave Gelvin, Mrs. Sam Sandry and Mrs. Mabel Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Magnuson and Mrs. Jim Whipple accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Jay Browder to the Caves Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Browder are from Santa Monica, Calif., and are spending a month vacationing at Grants Pass.

Mrs. Rothman returned to her home in Redmond Monday after visiting a week with her daughter, Mrs. Leo Smith, and family. Mr. and Mrs. George Wiley of McCloud, Calif., were overnight visitors with Mr. Wiley's brother, James Wiley, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Browder, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Magnuson of Santa Monica, Calif., and Mrs. Hattie Harris of Lewiston, Idaho, were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Whipple.

At the school election Monday, Ardin Tyrill was elected director for the three-year term and Harold Laws was elected clerk for one year. Mrs. Mae Shultz returned Sunday from a week spent visiting at Butte Falls with her mother, Mrs. King, and her sister, Mrs. Clyde Smith, and husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Woods and son Don of Portland are visiting Mrs. Woods' mother, Mrs. Sam Sandry, this week. Lloyd Smith left last week for Montana to visit his mother. The many friends here of Waldo Britton were sorry to hear of his sudden passing June 8 near Salem. He was fishing with his son-in-law and as the latter moved on down the river he chanced to look back and saw that Mr. Britton had slumped into a strange position and on reaching his side found he was dead. Mr. Britton's parents lived here years ago, also his daughter, Mrs. Lew Conway.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Magnuson and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Browder were dinner guests Tuesday of Mrs. R. M. Shepherd at Ashland. The ladies attended the Eastern Star meeting in the evening.

Jacksonville

Jacksonville, June 21.—(Spl.) The highway commission is installing new stop signs in the main intersections of Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe McKnight and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wilson June 19. Dr. and Mrs. Farley returned June 19 from a three-week trip to their old home in Nebraska. They brought their household furniture back with them.

Mrs. Mouta recently returned to her home in Portland after completing a business transaction here. Mr. and Mrs. Lusk, parents of Herman Lusk, have been ill at their home for some time. Mr. Lusk's condition is reported improving, but Mrs. Lusk is still seriously ill. C. A. Graham is confined to his home with a broken leg. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Severance of Silverton, Oregon, and little Betty
