Mrs. Pruitt To Desert Stage For Directorship

When Ashland's sixth annual Shakespearean Festival opens in August this year, one of Medford's most colorful and talented actresses will be missing from the casts. Dorothy Pruitt, a member of the festival acting group since 1934 has stepped out of a speaking role and is handling the job of assistant directorship.

Little glory and plenty of grief is the reward for those engaged in "behind-the-scenes" activity of a modern stage play. Much more so this year as Shakespeare is being streamlined and modernized and production heads are striving for a more sprightly tempo without obliterating the essence of his original quality.

Mrs. Pruitt has been given the task of re-writing and revising the comedy "Much Ado About Nothing" and drama lovers who have seen previous of the new script are lauding the results. The play itself has taken on the appearance of a modern musical comedy, complete with original music, dance sequences and singing. The original quality however, is still thoroughly Shakespeare and production heads believe the revision will bring more response than the primary script.

A veteran Shakespearean actress, Mrs. Pruitt will be remembered for her work in "Twelfth Night" as "Olivia"; "Ophelia" in "Hamlet"; and "Bianca" in "The Taming of the Shrew."

She has also been seen as Alice, in "You Can't Take It With You", presented by community players at the Southern Oregon College of Education; "Annie" in "Farewell Supper" and "Janet Leeson" in "Without Romance".

The bride wore a navy blue dressmaker suit with white accessories and a gardenia corsage. Her attendant wore a midnight blue tailored suit with white accessories and a corsage of rosebuds.

After the ceremony, the two couples left for San Francisco, Cal. to attend the Golden Gate International Exposition on Treasure Island. The trip marked a double honeymoon for the two couples.
