

MURRAY'S MAID RITE SANDWICH SHOP EXPANDING

Murray Bell, owner of Murray's Maid-Rite, located at the corner of South Central and 9th streets, stated today that workmen have completed the remodeling and expansion of his sandwich shop.

The expansion program has enabled the shop to double the counter space as well as install a modern new fountain, Bell said.

The shop will feature in addition to the popular food and fountain service, a drive-in tray service with ample parking provided for both drive-in and inside patrons, it was learned.

Mr. Bell came to Medford six years ago from Newton, Ia., and opened the first Maid-Rite shop at 8th and Grape streets, later disposing of it and opening Murray's Maid-Rite at its present location.

REASONS FOR STRIKE AT LAMM LUMBER CO. EXPLAINED BY WORKER

Unsanitary living conditions and the method of operation of a company-owned store were alleged by J. G. McCulloch today as the reasons why employees of the Lamm Lumber company at Yamsay, 73 miles northeast of Klamath Falls, were out on strike.

Mr. McCulloch, member of the publicity committee of the strikers, stated that the crew called a strike vote "when the company failed to bring living and sanitary conditions in the camp up to standard and to state requirements," and that the company, in turn, pulled the crew off, shut down operations and labeled the action a lockout.

"In order to get away from the profiteering in the company's store, a supply department on the no-profit basis was set up behind the picket lines," Mr. McCulloch explained. He added that merchandise is brought in and distributed among the people at cost.

Mr. McCulloch said that 45 families and 80 or 90 bunkhouse men resided in the camp, many of them from Medford.

By Frank Jenkins.

AT noon Monday (Pacific Coast time) the French envoys have been ordered to sign with Italy. They have already signed with Germany. The dispatches tell us that six hours after signing with Italy firing will cease.

So ends a new chapter in the book of history.

It isn't really a new chapter—only an old, old one, rewritten according to the old world standard pattern.

France is stripped and humiliated, made to bear the cost of the conqueror's occupation and administration, disarmed, compelled to be a comrade-enemy of her former comrade-in-arms. Hereafter, Frenchmen must take orders from foreign conquerors.

The result, as inevitable as the rising and the setting of the sun, will be a new fanning of the embers of hatred to be followed sooner or later by a new outbreak of the ever-more-terrible flames of war.

HOW can you avoid saying to yourself: "Let's defend America, to the last man, if need be, but KEEP OUT of this ever-recurring old world cycle of hatred and conquest and vengeance, to be followed by NEW hatreds, NEW conquests and NEW vengeance."

THE terms, according to second-hand reports available as this is written, call for surrender or internment of the French fleet.

There is still the possibility that the old recipe for rabbit soup may apply: "First catch your rabbit."

A MEMBER of the French government at Bordeaux explains in today's (Monday's) dispatches his country's reasons for capitulating to Germany.

The reasons seem to be the same as Godoy's for not continuing his fight with Joe Louis.

CONGRESS, recessing for the Republican national convention, leaves behind a bill for $14,539,970.627 to operate the U. S. government next year.

The situation has so changed in recent weeks that hereafter those who protest against spending will be branded unpatriotic, but at least we can demand that boondoggling be done away with and the money be spent EFFICIENTLY for sound government and national defense.

PARAPHRASING Pinckney's immortal statement, the Republicans might well make this the financial plank of their platform:

"Billions for defense, but not one cent for boondoggling."

DRUNK DRIVER GIVEN 30 DAYS, $100 FINE

Craig Mac Cooper of the Table Rock district, charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail, fined $100 and his driver's license was ordered revoked for a year, by Justice Coleman today.

Commitment was deferred upon payment of the fine and costs, and the court granted 30 days in which to make payments.

Rattlin' Good Story
St. Augustine, Fla. (AP)—E. C. Creech of St. Augustine drove his automobile over a rattlesnake on the highway and then got out to see if he had killed it. The automobile wheel, Creech said, not only killed the snake but had made it cough up a dime, dated 1912.

Biographer Dies
Portland, June 25.—(AP)—Mrs. Minnie Roof Dee, 73, author of the George H. Himes biography "from oxcart to airplane," and prominent northwest writer, died yesterday.

DISPUTE DELAYS PREPARATION OF 1940 PLATFORM

was impelled by those who would make the government and nation tools to be manipulated by one man at the head of an unelected political bureaucracy.

Martin asserted that "a steady drift toward governmental absolutism both at home and abroad" must be checked this year, and declared the purpose of his party's convention to be "to rally all patriots in a crusade for Americanism."

Even before the first thin stream of delegates had begun to move into the big convention hall, Wilkie told delegates of his native Indiana in a break-fast talk that he was not "discouraging other candidates," but on the contrary thought they were "all fine men."

Gang Up On Wilkie
Leaders of the forces of Senator Taft and Dewey simultaneously were tightening their lines against inroads by the touse-haired utility man.

Though a "stop-Wilkie" movement had been dumped into the convention, no open alliance of the opposing forces to achieve that purpose was disclosed.

In a press conference, J. Russell Sprague, the New Yorker's manager, said he was standing by his prediction of 400 Dewey votes on the first ballot and forecast an increase of "at least 50" on the second. Sprague agreed there had been some "fluctuations" in delegate line-ups.

Wilkie used the occasion of the Indiana talk to say "the utility issue" had been raised against him and added:

"Surely the Republican party will not want to engage in the new deal custom of raising class distinctions. I have been investigated by every new deal agency. If you can find any successful accusation against me, I want you to be against me."

Governor Harold E. Stassen, of Minnesota, in his keynote address last night told the crowded convention hall that these times call for a frank approach to problems if democracy is to live.

Unity Needed
"We must have a united people with each citizen willing to make sacrifices and ready to stand shoulder to shoulder in the interests of national defense," he said.

The audience gave loud applause when he termed the cabinet nomination of Henry L. Stimson and Frank Knox, prominent Republicans, "a politically timed appointment on the eve of this convention" and one by which "the president made an eleventh hour confession of failure in his national defense administration."

Stassen criticized President Roosevelt's proposal for compulsory national training, along with a wide variety of new deal actions. When he asked if the nation dare continue for the next four years under such leadership, the crowd roared back: "No."

ARMY WILL ENLIST SECOND BIG GROUP

Preparedness requisition No. 2, calling for the enlistment of about 500 army recruits in the Portland district, was received today by Staff Sgt. Willis S. Estep, in charge of the recruiting station in Medford city hall. In the country as a whole, the requisition calls for the enlistment of 38,000 regulars by August 31.

This is an unprecedented number of recruits to be enlisted in the Portland district in so short a time, Sgt. Estep said. Listed on the requisition are two entirely new combat regiments to be formed with recruit personnel, the 53rd infantry at Camp Ord, Cal., and the 75th coast artillery at Fort Lewis, Wash. Other enlistments will be for the quartermaster corps, medical department and signal corps. The 28th engineers (aviation) is also a new unit to be formed at March field Cal.

MERCURY FAILS TO PASS RECORD

After reaching but not surpassing the 1940 heat record yesterday, the temperature cooled off considerably today. Early this afternoon the mercury stood at 85 degrees as against 96 at the same time yesterday.

For the second time this year the mercury hit 100 yesterday. The previous 100-degree heat was recorded June 11. Medford has been leading the state in high temperature, but yesterday Grants Pass came through with a mark of 102 degrees.

The humidity was noticeably higher today than it was yesterday and that explained why the weather did not feel so much cooler as the temperature indicated.

Forecast was for fair weather tonight and tomorrow, cooler tomorrow.

Orders CIO To Resume
Portland, Ore., June 25.—(AP)—Wayne L. Morse, west coast waterfront arbiter, ordered CIO longshoremen to resume loading the freighter Portland at the B. F. Johnson mill dock here today. Portland waterfront employers charged the dockmen were in collusion with CIO lumber workers who picketed the plant but Morse said he found no such evidence.
