Says science
"up and at
'em, atom"

NEXT DOOR TO OUR Richmond Refinery—if the University of California won't mind our locating thus —Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence, the Nobel prize-winner, is to get a new and gigantic atom-smasher.
This is big scientific news, because—by taking apart its smallest constituent—Dr. Lawrence might remake the world.

Since you've doubtless read about this, we thought you might be interested to know that Standard daily takes apart molecules—which are just a step away from atoms. In our three refineries we crack them to bits and put them together again in a fashion fit to amaze Humpty Dumpty.

Petroleum molecules, or atom clusters, and the crudes they form differ like brunettes, bartenders, and pocketbooks. Some are fat, others lean. Such a variety in gasoline would drive motorists carburetor-crazy as they constantly tried to find the right mixture. Obviously, we can have none of that. Hence we remodel certain stocks—right down to their molecules.

Today it seems unlikely that we'll ever smash atoms to provide better, smoother power for your car. But we do know that in adopting every scientific discovery which can be applied commercially to the improvement of motor-fuel, this Company has never lagged.

Miss Gillespie's
Betrothal Told
At Bridge Party

Joining the bevy of Medford bride-elects is Miss Everetta Gillespie, whose betrothal to David M. Irving was announced last evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Gillespie on South Holly street, when Mrs. Gillespie was hostess for a party.

Guests bidden to the affair were the Misses Gertrude Has-kings, Opal Harvey, Jeannette McKee, Jeanne Hamilton, Evelyn Leonard and Margarite Boyle, Mesdames William Knips, Oliver Hughes, Robert Sherwood, Bernie Hughes, Jack Boyl, and Murray Gardiner. Bridge was played throughout the evening with prizes being won by Miss Boyle and Miss Harvey.

A poster sign inscribed with the engagement news formed a clever centerpiece. The sign was surrounded by flowers.

FOREIGN POLICY
DISPUTE DELAYS
PLANK DRAFTERS

located in the drafting division, aiding in the checking of all ships that enter and leave the Golden Gate.

Schedule Disrupted

The foreign policy dispute in the resolutions committee already had thrown the convention schedule out of joint. Members of that group argued much of the night over the form their declaration against intervention in foreign wars should take.

Stassen for Willkie

While Hoover talked to reporters, Governor Harold E.
Stassen of Minnesota, the convention keynoter, told his state delegation that his vote would be cast for Wendell Willkie.
The Minnesota group, which came to Philadelphia uninstructed and has held no caucus on candidates, has 22 votes. It had been considered friendly to Vandenberg.

Hoover said that he was not seeking public office. But he said also there should be no "interference" with the selection of a nominee in a free and open manner.

Thus it was indicated that the door was left open for an effort in his behalf without the active seeking of such a move.

Hoover Given Ovation

The delegates were intent upon Mr. Hoover when he took the platform last night. They shouted, blew whistles and marched up and down the aisles waving banners for eight and a half minutes after he had asked the question:
"Republicans, are you willing to go into this fight?"

Get $3 Rest

Fort Collins, Colo. (AP)—How much candy and gum will 152 children consume in a week? At the Harris school the answer is approximately $3 worth. That much, in pennies, was saved from candy and gum allowances and given to the Red Cross.

Hat 100 Years Old

Kalispell, Mont. (AP)—A beaver top hat made more than 100 years ago by his grandfather has with President Roosevelt's policies.

Upon these policies he poured sarcasm and ridicule and such epithets as "stabilizing depression," "the flabbiness of the New Deal," and "totalitarian liberals."

Demonstration Dies

As he finished, he stood on the platform and waved to the delegates while they cheered.
Some of those in the convention hall suggested that the tone of his voice had been that of a man willing to take on the Democrats next fall.

Hat 100 Years Old

Kalispell, Mont. (AP)—A beaver top hat made more than 100 years ago by his grandfather has been produced by Oliver Voss for use in a western celebration here. The hat has been handed down from generation to generation but still is in a good state of preservation. Voss said his grandfather trapped the beaver from which the hat was made.

Paid The Piper

Memphis, Mo. (AP)—More than 12,000 rat tails were turned in to the county agent in a drive to rid Scotland county of rats.
The merchants offered a bounty of one cent a tail, estimating that each rodent would do damage of $1 a year.
