Phil Harris Band Plays For Dance Here on Tuesday

Versatility is the keynote in musical entertainment, and those who go to the Oriental Gardens next Tuesday night to dance, see and hear Phil Harris and his band, will certainly be entertained.

Harris is one of the most versatile orchestra leaders in the present entertainment world, and one of the best known. He has just completed his second full year on the radio with Jack Benny's "Jello" program, and has had prominent screen roles in "Melody Cruise", "Happy As a Lark and Crazy as a Lark", "Turn On the Moon" and "So This is Harris".

When the swinging, singing entourage arrives here, Phil will present in addition to his sparkling rhythm, glamorous Ruth Robin, whose lilting vocal style is a distinctive feature of his highly enjoyable presentations.

An extra deluxe sound system is also being installed by Walker and Hodges to handle the capacity crowd expected for the Harris dance. Two microphones are being placed on the stage with two speakers heading directly out from the orchestra stand and one big circular speaker to drop from the center of the hall which will cover all the area around the dancing portion and seating capacity of the large ballroom.

Harris' orchestra is being sponsored here by Millard Hodges and Leo Walker of Grants Pass. Dancing will begin at 9 o'clock.

Sanitation specialists point out that millions of infectious germs may inhabit one square

Oakland, Cal., June 28.—Out of busy research laboratories, filled with test tubes, high-powered microscopes and thousands of germ cultures, science has recently brought to housewives an improved product which gives greater aid in laundering and housekeeping.

It is ultra-refined Clorox, a disinfecting and bleaching agent which has the distinction of being free from caustic and other harsh substances. It provides intensified germicidal efficiency in routine household cleansing as well as extra safety for cottons and linens in bleaching and removing numerous stains. Up to this time the development of such a product, with these qualities, has remained an unsolved problem of science.

To demonstrate the disinfecting properties of ultra-refined Clorox, bacteriologists subjected it, for more than three years, to thousands of germicidal tests. They tested it on growing colonies of germs, and proved that it disinfects with accelerated efficiency.

The results of these tests indicate that ultra-refined Clorox is outstanding among those disinfectants which scientists proclaim safest, best suited and most economical for household use. Laboratory reports show that ultra-refined Clorox is also effective yet gentle in its personal uses.
