In 1938 and 1939 he played Reynaldo in "Hamlet" and also Salino in "The Merchant of Venice" two years ago. This year he is repeating his 1939 characterization as Sir Oliver Martex in "As You Like It" and is appearing in other current productions.

Musical Society Reviews Years' Accomplishments

Last week the Musical Society of Medford brought to a close its finest and most enthusiastic season of musical events. This past year, under the able guidance of Mrs. Charles Lemery as president, a great many new members were enlisted and some of the finest and most enjoyable programs to be presented in southern Oregon were sponsored.

Among the musical programs presented by the club was the concert by the world-famous harpist, Ruth Lorraine Close. Miss Close presented a well-rounded program of classical music. Another outstanding program was presented at the Presbyterian church on December 10, in which Hans Horlein, Marcia Fry, Mrs. Frank Gray, Harold Burleson, Alleen Crawford Maddox and a chorus under the direction of Esther Church Leake participated.

The closing concert of the year was presented at the Medford high school auditorium and was arranged by F. Cyril Sander. This was the climaxing event of the season and attracted much favorable comment from an enthusiastic audience. Selections were presented by a 30-piece ensemble composed of young boys and girls and adults from over the valley and conducted by John R. Knight; a trio composed of Margaret Jeanson, Catherine Wcndt and Jean McAllister; saxophonist Hugh Scovell, accompanied by Grace Loeffler; the well-known high school boys' octette; Rose Ellen Uhrine, talented local vocalist, accompanied by Kenneth Raymond; John Reisacher, brilliant local pianist; Mrs. Werner Pundt, voice, accompanied by Mrs. Horlein; Alice Brill, violinist, accompanied by Mrs. Maddox, and the Rogue Valley vocal ensemble under the direction of Floy Young and accompanied by Dorothy Wilder.

After this full and worthwhile year of music and entertainment, the Musical Society is looking forward to a still greater and more worthwhile season of programs and events under the capable direction of the new president, Mrs. A. O. Bauman.
