Billy Hulens Says:

Lowly Yanks Get Seven Places On All-Star Outfit

The fans aren't the only ones who can't yet realize the miracle has happened: that the New York Yankees are no longer kings of the baseball universe.

American league managers, themselves, apparently are hypnotized by the past glamour of the four-time world champions into believing the New Yorkers still rule the roost.

The annual All-Star game will be played at St. Louis July 9, and competing for the American leaguers will be seven members of the erstwhile Bronx Bombers, more than will represent any other club in the circuit.

Perhaps the Yankees haven't entirely collapsed, but the fact remains that none of their players are performing in top fashion.

Surprise of the year: Henry McLemore picked a fight correctly, Baer over Galento . . . I. Pickem didn't, as usual . . . Medford and Albany, favorites for the Oregon semi-pro crown, are both bracketed in the lower half of the state tournament drawing and, if both advance, will come together in the semifinals . . .

There will be no more softball at the stadium this week, the boys enjoying a rest over the July 4 holidays . . . next games will be Tuesday night, July 9, when Medco meets an all-star Catholic team in the feature attraction of the evening . . . with the gate running nearly $300, Crater players received a "cut" of about $8 apiece after the Zulu Giant game Wednesday night . . . the Zulus took away 50 per cent of the gross, while Medford's entire net take was turned over to the players . . . Hank Danning is batting .360 to lead the National league in hitting, which is why the Giants are up there . . . from now on every col lege in the Pacific Coast conference will get a share of the Rose Bowl gravy, instead of merely the two competing teams . . . in a couple of years, when he gets heavier and can come in there with a fast one, young Al Wimer should be quite a pitcher . . . Tommy White, lefthanded-hitting outfielder and first base man, has rejoined the Craters after a sojourn with the Southern Oregon league Rogues . . . Jimmy Braddock, one of the most popular heavyweight champions in history, was not introduced at the Baer-Galento fight . . . he was in the crowd, too . . .

MEDFORD JUNIORS SWEEP TWIN BILL FROM COAST CLUB

Medford's American Legion junior baseball team uncovered their big guns at the high school park yesterday afternoon, and when the firing was over, the locals had collected a pair of wins by scores of 14-8 and 20-5, over the Marshfield Juniors.

The games were just the type the scores indicate, with the Medford outfit blasting the cover off the ball to cop two games needed to stay in the state title running.

Bill Reed, husky righthander, hurled the first game, and with plenty of support at the plate coasted after the first three innings, when he set the coast boys down in order. Medford drove five runs across the plate in the first frame, and continued their run-producing through the remaining six innings.

Brown, shortstop for Marshfield, crashed a long homer to centerfield in the final inning. Medford won the second fray the tough way, as they overcame a five run deficit, and copped the nightcap 20-5.

Marshfield got to Cato Wray, local pitcher, for five tallies in the opening frame, but from that point on, Wray kept them away from the plate.

Meanwhile Medford counted four runs in their half of the first, by virtue of a home run by Chuck Jandreau with the bases packed, and tied the ball game up in the third, when Hal Fawcett crossed the plate on the third baseman's error.

The locals went ahead in the fourth when they loaded the sacks once more and Swaryk came through with a double, driving in three runs. They counted two more in the fifth, and then in a wild sixth inning, chased 10 counters home.

Jandreau and Reed led the hitting parade with four hits apiece for the day. Reed also struck out seven men, and walked but two in the opener.

Short scores: (First game) R. H. E. Medford 14 13 6 Marshfield 8 9 6 Reed and Adams; Gilbert, Clabaugh and Hanning.

(Second game) R. H. E. Medford 20 10 0 Marshfield 5 6 13 Wray and Adams; Gilbert, Murray and D. Hanning.

RED SOX BOAST TWO ALL-STATE MEN IN LINEUP

Wilson Probably Saturday Pitcher for Visitors; Bill Lanning for Craters

With two All-State players in their lineup—Shortstop Don Kirsch and Outfielder Bob Bonney—Silverton's defending Oregon and Northwest semi-pro champion Red Sox come to Medford tomorrow for a two-game State league series against the Pace-Setting Craters. Saturday night clash will start at 9 o'clock sharp, with the Sunday afternoon tilt getting under way at 2.

The Red Sox, who finished third in the national semi-pro tourney at Wichita, Kas., last season after cleaning up everything in the northwest, will be firing the works in an attempt to overtake the high-flying locals in the State league's second-half rag regatta. To date, Medford leads the pack with five wins and one loss, with Silverton, Albany and Eugene all snapping at the Crater heels with four victories and two setbacks.

Rated one of the most colorful clubs in the state, the Red Sox will field a lineup composed of brilliant performers at every position. Hal Moe will do the receiving, with Ken Manning, ex-Willamette university luminary on first; Bob Cody on second, Kirsch on short, Roy Orren on third, the sensational Bonney in left, Dick Whitman, University of Oregon star, in center, and Johnny Oravec, famous Willamette university Little All-American football player, in right.

Manager Chet Johnson of the Red Sox will have Del (Squeak) Wilson and Frank Jeli, southpaws, and Stew Fredericks, a right-hander, available for pitching purposes. Wilson probably will labor Saturday night and Jeli Sunday, although Fredericks, a young high school star, might get a starting assignment.

Manager Tommy Hawkins of the locals, has hopes that Big Bill Lanning, who cut the first finger on his pitching hand last week, will be able to work one of the two games, probably the Saturday night affair. Steve Crippen, Rego, McAbee, Haynes and young Al Wimer round out the Crater hurling staff.

Hawkins, beamed in one of last Sunday's games against the Portland Babes, is sufficiently recovered to do the catching, and the remainder of the Medford lineup is expected to be the same as that which has driven to first place in the second-half race.

In other league games over the week-end, Bend will travel to Eugene, Hills Creek will play at Albany and the two Portland entrants, the Babes and Jack and Jill, will tangle in a pair of double-headers.

K. KITTLE CAPTURES BLIND BOGEY TOURNEY

Keith Kittle won the blind bogey tournament at the Rogue Valley Golf club yesterday, receiving seven balls for a prize. The bogey number was 51.

Low net was won by Bus Coon of Redding, Cal., high net was taken by G. Cannon of Portland and low gross went to Leland Clark. A special prize of one ball for southpaw golfers was won by Murray Marley.

CINCY PAYS $30,000 FOR OUTFIELD STAR

Cincinnati, July 5.—(AP)—Outfielder Mike De Jan of Chattanooga of the Southern association has been acquired by the National league champion Reds for $30,000 in cash and a player to be named at a later date.

De Jan, who went to Chattanooga from the Western International league champion Wenatchee club, has been batting .403.

ROGUES MOVE TO C. CITY SUNDAY

Medford's Rogues will travel to Crescent City and Grants Pass will move to Roseburg Sunday in second games of the Southern Oregon Baseball league's second-half pennant race.

Gold Hill, co-leaders with Crescent City, draws a bye.

Crescent City, with an upset win over Grants Pass last Sunday, and Gold Hill, with a shellacking of Roseburg, head the second-half parade, with Grants Pass, Medford and Roseburg tied for the bottom rung.

The Rogues will probably use Ray Tyngate on the pitching mound, while Crescent City will rely on Ralph Deo or Ray Koll.
