Probe Continues In Stage Rocking

Investigation into the "rocking" of two Pacific Greyhound stages on the Pacific highway near Gold Hill two weeks ago is continuing with no new developments, Sheriff Syd I. Brown reported today. The investigation, it is understood, has been conducted in the Willamette valley, and in California, by special agents of the Greyhound lines. The company has posted a reward of $1,000 for felony conviction of each participant in the vandalism. It is figured four men in two autos took part.

The rock, hurled from a passing auto into the northbound stage, hit the windshield, and five passengers were injured by flying glass. On the southbound stage the rock hit low on the windshield.

PACKING SCHOOL SLATED HERE BY FRUIT INDUSTRY

regarding a neutral school, and a special meeting was finally held May 7 of committees from both organizations, to consider advisability of the next packing school to precede the next packing season, 1940. Dee Hendrickson, for many years superintendent of the Southern Oregon Sales packing plant was selected as chairman of the committee to look into the matter and report information obtained.

700 Packers Used

Mr. Hendrickson called upon superintendents of the different packing plants, investigated means and methods of conducting such a school, found that about 700 packers were used at the peak of the season. It was thought that the school should have a good instructor, that each packing plant should furnish a small percentage of their Bartlett's each day while the school was in session.

It is estimated 20,000 boxes of Bartlett's will be packed through the school. Superintendent of the school was to have no connection with any packing plant, and the fruit was to be marked under a neutral wrap and label.

An advisory board was to be appointed for the school. With fruit packed and labeled on, it was then to be out of the hands of the school and ready for marketing. It was thought the school should conduct a three-year program to sufficiently prepare students.

Jobs Assured

Heads of packing plants agreed to use the student packers and a revolving fund of $500 was voted to start the school. In the project the Rogue River Traffic association joined with the Fruit Growers' league in making funds available to start and conduct the school. Gordon Kershaw was appointed as chairman of the committee from the league, R. R. Reter chairman from the Traffic association. Working with Mr. Reter are Harry Holmes and Bear Cook of the American Fruit Growers, Medford branch.

Pinnacled No. 2 warehouse has been donated as school quarters. It contains three graders. Each packing plant is to furnish an instructor, with the head instructor to be hired by the school. Fruit will be loose, and practice packing will be with culls. As students advance in efficiency, they will be advanced from No. 3 grader to No. 2, etc.

Fruit will be furnished by each packing house, pro-rated on the basis of last year's total pack out of the different varieties. The packed fruit, shipped under a Medford neutral brand, will be sold through the regular channels and money pooled. There will be so much fruit called for, each day, during the Bartlett season. If this plan is a success it will be continued throughout the season.

Instruction Fee Low

Instruction students to be selected and sponsored by the local packing houses, can apply at any plant for registration, then to pay one dollar entrance fee. If the student makes good, he or she will be required to pay $5 for instruction at the school and a job will be guaranteed. If they do not become sufficiently qualified to work there will be no charges except entrance fee. Students are to be 18 to 30 years of age. Many local people are reported eager for the training.

Anticipated good results to students, growers, packers and shippers, to others working in the fruit and to the community in general is obvious. Local workers are said to cooperate most satisfactorily. The school offers especially a plan to college students in assisting them to earn their college expenses. The idea has received the unanimous support of growers and packers, and if 250 Jackson county residents can be trained a year for a period of three years, the value of the school will be assured.

QUICK WORK SAVES LIBERTY BUILDING

Alert action by Harry Ellis was credited by Chief Roy Elliott today with averting what might have been a serious fire in the Liberty building at West Main and Grape streets early this morning.

When Ellis, employed at the Model Bakery in the Liberty building, saw flames shooting up through a grating in the sidewalk on the South Grape street side of the building, he telephoned the fire department. The chemical crew dashed to the building and when firemen arrived they found the wooden sill of the basement aperture on fire. The blaze was put out quickly but Chief Elliott said that if there had been any delay there might have been a serious fire.

Odd bits of paper and other burnable trash had collected under the gratings along the side of the building and someone evidently dropped a match or cigarette into the grate as he passed by, Chief Elliott said. Smoke from the blaze was drawn into ventilators and circulated through the building where the odor of burning material was still noticeable late this morning. The blaze was discovered at 12:50 a. m.

The chemical crew was called about 6 p. m. yesterday to put out a grass fire in the second block of Vancouver avenue.

AUGUST SINGLER HURT IN SMASHUP

August B. Singler, 29, special delivery messenger of the Medford postoffice, was today confined to his home on the North Pacific highway by a torn left leg, an injury suffered yesterday forenoon when he was knocked from his motorcycle by a car operated, according to a police report, by Edward P. Preble, 66, of Holland.

Singler was returning to the postoffice when, on the North Pacific highway a mile north of the city, Preble attempted to pass him, Singler's associates at the postoffice were informed. Somehow the auto hooked Singler's motorcycle and threw the rider to the pavement, his associates said.

The injured man was taken to a doctor's office where 12 stitches were required to close a gash in his left leg. He was then taken home where it was said he would have to remain for several days.

COMPULSORY SERVICE OPPONENTS GET FIRST COMMITTEE HEARING

Washington, July 9.—(AP)—The senate military committee decided today to postpone calling military experts to testify on the Burke-Wadsworth military training bill and hear instead from witnesses opposing the idea of compulsory service.

Testimony from army and navy representatives was to have started today.

Chairman Sheppard (D-Tex.) said witnesses in opposition to the bill, which proposes registration of all males from 18 to 65, would appear tomorrow.

One point on which army officials were said to disagree with the Burke-Wadsworth bill was the $5-a-month pay rate it fixes for men selected for training. The high command was reported favoring instead the present $21 basic pay of army privates.

Representatives of 22 colleges and universities voted unanimously at New York yesterday to support this bill, and also asked extension of reserve training units to colleges which do not have them.

Treasury Aide on Trial Salem, July 9.—(AP)—A jury of eight women and four men began hearing evidence today in the trial of former Deputy County Treasurer W. Y. Richardson, charged with larceny of $23,520 in public funds.

PLENTY OF MATERIAL TO HOOK NAZI AGENT SAYS U. S. ATTORNEY

Los Angeles, July 9.—(AP)—Acting U. S. Attorney William Palmer says he has "plenty of new material" to place before the federal grand jury tomorrow in seeking the indictment of Dr. Herbert Hoehne, 29, held on a charge of failing to register as a German agent.

Meanwhile, Palmer indicated he is asking the advice of his superiors in Washington on whether to take action against German Consul General Fritz Wiedemann and Chancellor Herman Looper of the San Francisco German consulate.

In holding Hoehne for grand jury investigation yesterday, U. S. Commissioner David Head said that "upon the evidence as offered before me" he would issue warrants charging the consular officials with conspiracy, if Palmer filed a complaint against them.

Concerning a testimonial from a visiting duck

ONLY THE other day a duck—no relative of Donald Duck, but equally critical—dropped in at a Standard Station in Seattle for a drink. Startled by an approaching car, he suddenly flew straight through a window-pane into a rest-room.

It's too bad he couldn't appreciate his immaculate and well appointed surroundings, for a duck never used a more praiseworthy rest-room for any purpose whatever. But that window blow befuddled him so that he needed some trifling first-aid from Manager J. F. Beatty before he could fly away.

Brother Duck has not been back. Yet we feel secure in the claim that since seeing our rest-room he has visited no other. That's the attitude of thousands of motorists who long ago became convinced that if anything in the way of service is worth while, Standard will provide it.

This is an assumption not the result of accident but of experience. When the public takes for granted that in services as well as products Standard will always be equal to the best—that's reputation. Since a business concern can have no greater asset, it's our constant aim to live up to the great expectations—of the public.
