Margo Boyle, Bride-Elect, Feted at Shower

Miss Margo Boyle, bride-elect of Cornelius Collins, was feted Sunday afternoon at the J. C. Mann summer home on Rogue river when the Misses Margaret and Janet Mann, Virginia Lindley and Betty Vilm were hostesses at a shower.

A buffet supper was served from a table with Mexican decorations predominating. Yellow flowers with a bride and groom in the center formed the centerpiece for the table.

Following the supper, Miss Boyle received her gifts by fishing for them with a fishing pole over a screen. She received many lovely miscellaneous gifts from the guests.

Guests included the Misses Catherine Forp, Patricia Thompson, Patricia Hayes, Patricia Young, Gertrude Armstrong, Jeanne Leverette, Mildred Drury, Jeanette McKee, Isabelle Miller, Mrs. Robert Sherwood, Mrs. Franklin Van Pelt, Mrs. David Irving, the honoree, Miss Margo Boyle, and the hostesses, the Misses Janet and Margaret Mann, Betty Vilm and Virginia Lindley.

San Francisco Girl Visits Here

Miss Dorothy Pilgrim of San Francisco, Calif., arrived yesterday to spend two weeks with Miss Jean Page of Butte Falls. Miss Pilgrim is a junior at the University of California, where she is majoring in social service.

During the summer months, she is employed in the San Francisco public library.

She was formerly a classmate of Miss Page at San Francisco Junior College.

Only ten feet long—it reaches back before Adam

WHEN you tell a Standard station salesman to "fill the tank" he reaches for a hose. To the eye it seems about 10 feet long. Actually it reaches many miles and millions of years—back far beyond those recent times when "you were a tadpole and I was a fish."

That hose runs to the station tank . . . to a tank truck . . . to a district storage tank . . . to a tank car . . . to the refinery . . . to a tank ship . . . to a pipeline . . . and down an oil well into the dimmest of days long before those of the dinosaur and the three-toed horse . . . times when petroleum was in the making.

Likewise, that hose connects with our laboratories—and the future when there may be petroleum-base houses, petroleum-base clothing, petroleum-base foods. Such possibilities still stretch the imagination—still seem economically impossible—but who can tell!

Gasoline is a product that's as common as bread and relatively as inexpensive. Yet its production requires a knowledge of past and future which goes as far in either direction as human mind can reach. This costs you nothing. The effect of mixing brains with gasoline has been to make gasoline cheap.

Louise Miller, World Traveler, Visits Sister

Miss Louise Miller, world traveler and lecturer, visited here a short time ago with her sister, Mrs. V. C. Bishop.

Miss Miller docked in Seattle in March from Yokohama, on the Japanese steamer, Mari Maru. She told how they were forced to travel at a snail's pace in the mined waters near Yokohama. In her four times around the world her travels have taken her to the Orient several times.

Miss Miller has taken graduate work in five American universities and returned to the United States so that she might enter the spring term at the University of Washington at Seattle.

On leaving here, Miss Miller planned to lecture in Salem and Portland, and returning to Medford for a few days, later going to the Atlantic coast on a lecture tour.

She spoke here a number of years ago.

Double Celebration For Norcross Clan

The family of Warren H. Norcross gathered yesterday at Prospect to celebrate the 85th birthday of their father, Warren Norcross. Also celebrated was the 13th birthday of O'Neil, granddaughter of Mr. Norcross.

Mr. and Mrs. Norcross came to this valley in 1888 and settled near Central Point on a fruit ranch. They have made their home there since that time.

Attending the celebration and visiting their father were his two sons and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Norcross and their two daughters, Gloria and O'Neil of San Marino, Cal., and Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Norcross and son Warren of Eagle Rock, Cal. Also attending were the E. H. Hedricks and their three children, Eva, Lola and William. Mrs. Hedricks is a daughter of Warren Norcross.

Howards Return From Eastern Trip

Returning from the east just ahead of the nation-wide heat wave were Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Howard. In the east Dr. Howard attended the national osteopathic convention in St. Louis, from June 18 to 28.

From there they went to Chicago and took delivery of a new car. In Chicago they visited Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bean. Traveling by motor to Jefferson, Iowa, they visited Dr. Howard's brother, W. G. Howard.

En route home they traveled through the Bad Lands and the Black Hills of South Dakota. Included in their trip were stopovers in Yellowstone park and Boise, Idaho. In Caldwell, Idaho, they visited Mrs. James Baldwin, a niece of Dr. Howard.

Frank Ovelmans to Visit in Montana

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ovelman plan to leave soon for Kalispell, Montana, where they will visit Mrs. Ovelman's family. While in Montana they plan to tour Glacier National Park.

En route home they will visit in Seattle and Everett and return to Medford via the coast highway.

Clifford Bishop Visits in Portland

Clifford Bishop, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. C. Bishop, is expected to return tomorrow from Portland, where he has been spending the past week visiting his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Uiman. En route home he planned to visit his brother, Bill Bishop, in Eugene.

Medford Two To Santa Cruz

Mrs. Margaret Bowman, with her daughter, Miss Betty, left about a week ago for Santa Cruz where they may spend the remaining summer months.

Arnolds' Have Roseburg Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Paul of Roseburg were guests here recently at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Arnold at their home on 340 Haven street. Mr. and Mrs. Paul were later joined by their daughter and two sons, Elizabeth, Chris and Martin, Jr., also of Roseburg.

Before the departure of the Pauls, they were entertained at the Arnold home. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Arnold and daughter, Norma Jean, Miss Blanche Arnold, and Mrs. Frank Henspeter and daughter, Joyce.

Society Meets At Brommer Home

At a recent meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Brommer reports were given by the delegates who had attended the Fir Point Conference. Helen Webb spoke on "Classes," Austin Murray on "Recreation," Jimmy Elliott on "Campfire," and Clara Daniels on "Vespers."

A quartet composed of Clara Daniels, Helen Webb, Harris Jones and John Brewer sang several songs.

Following the meeting, light refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Horace Thompson, Mrs. Currier, and Laura Bailey.

Alpha Delta at Daugherty Home

The Hill Crest road home of Mrs. Fred Daugherty was the scene of an enjoyable covered dish luncheon last Thursday. Luncheon was served cafeteria style to the 35 members of Alpha Delta class of the Christian church and their guests.

The short business meeting was followed by a program of readings by Mrs. Skeets and vocal solos by Betty Daugherty. Mrs. Daugherty and her committee acted as hostesses.

Medford Misses Home From North

Returning Saturday night from a northern trip were the popular Medford misses, Peggy Reter, Elaine Brophy and Lois Herman. In Seattle they stayed at the Chi Omega house on the University of Washington campus. While in the north the three girls traveled to Victoria, British Columbia, where they spent two days.

JACKSONVILLE DIALS START OPERATION ON AUG. 3, IS NEW WORD

Date of the conversion of the Jacksonville telephone exchange to the dial system has been changed to August 3, the same day that the cut-over from the present manual operation to automatic operation will be made in Medford, the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company announced today. Originally the change to the dial system in Jacksonville was slated for July 25.

The company's business office will be moved from its present premises at 218 West Sixth street to its new quarters at Bartlett and Fifth streets Saturday. Beginning Monday, all business will be transacted at the new premises.

FORESTERS LIFT BAN ON LOGGING

Three logging operators whose operations were closed last Saturday by the state forest department were to resume business today after having complied with the requirements of the state law, patrol headquarters here announced. The logging operations were stopped because of the lack of fire-fighting tools required by law, it was explained.

The operators were listed as E. W. Burchfield of Ashland, who was logging on Emigrant creek; Frank Neathamer of Talent, who was operating on Anderson creek; and Fred Webb of Klamath Falls, who was logging at Hyatt Prairie.

Four other logging operations had been previously closed this season for lack of fire-fighting tools. All were resumed as soon as the law had been complied with.
