TRIOUBLED MIND EASED BY HIKE

Grand Rapids, Mich.—(U.P.)—Thirty-nine-year-old Ralph Foster Clark of Tulsa, Okla., hitchhiked 1,000 miles to clear his conscience, and now with a judge's blessing has no great obstacle to his desire to become a minister. Clark told Circuit Judge Leonard D. Verdier he had come here from Tulsa to clear his conscience in a marriage license he obtained in Grand Rapids in 1935, to wed Ennis E. Floyd. He said he had been married long ago in Fairmont, W. Va., but his wife left him with their two sons and later, in 1932, divorced him. His divorce has been so expensive, Clark said, that he tried to keep his whereabouts a secret, and when he obtained a marriage license here in 1935 he gave his name as Ralph Foster, listed a city other than his native home as his birthplace, and swore he had never been married.

SHIP BARNACLES MAY BE ERASED

La Jolla, Cal.—(U.P.)—Scientists are quietly conducting experiments here which may rid U. S. navy craft of a rank nuisance—ship-fouling, or barnacle growths. Four savants working on the test hope to announce soon to the world that they have solved the age-old problem of the growth on ships' bottoms, which imposes a toll of millions of dollars annually by retarding continuous operation of vessels. The fouling not only with-draws ships from service for dry-docking, but reduces speed of a vessel as much as 50 per cent, scientists pointed out. SHIP BARNACLES MAY BE ERASED

La Jolla, Cal.—(U.P.)—Scientists are quietly conducting experiments here which may rid U. S. navy craft of a rank nuisance—ship-fouling, or barnacle growths. Four savants working on the test hope to announce soon to the world that they have solved the age-old problem of the growth on ships' bottoms, which imposes a toll of millions of dollars annually by retarding continuous operation of vessels. The fouling not only with-draws ships from service for dry-docking, but reduces speed of a vessel as much as 50 per cent, scientists pointed out.
