

JERSEY HERDS TO BE CLASSIFIED BY UNIVERSITY JUDGE

ity of knowing how an experienced judge places his cattle in comparison with the ideal type as adopted by the cattle club. Robert G. Fowler, county agent explained. The procedure is not unlike the methods used in picking a bathing beauty contest winner.

Breeders of dairy cattle, 4-H club members and their friends are invited to attend the two-day event.

The classification program will begin at 10:15 a.m. Friday at the E. B. Poyer farm in Ashland. The Poyer herd will be classified first. In the afternoon the herds of J. R. McCracken and C. J. Hunter will be classified.

Basket Picnic
The program will continue at 9:30 a.m. Saturday at the Jersey Paradise farm near Grants Pass. George R. Biddle's Jersey herd will be classified in the morning. After this event a basket picnic lunch will be enjoyed in the city park.

The afternoon program will be held at the farm of F. W. Schutzwahl where the Schutzwahl herd will pass before Prof. Regan.

T. R. Warren of Portland, western field man of the Jersey cattle club, will attend the two-day classification event. He will come to Medford by plane Thursday evening from the Montana state fair.

Classification rounds out the way of judging cattle. For many years there have been definite systems of ascertaining production. The register of merit system of testing was established by the American Jersey Cattle club in 1903 and the herd improvement registry in 1928.

Until recently there was no comparable way of ascertaining the degree of excellence in regard to the type of a dairy animal. In response to this need, the Jersey cattle club, adopted, in 1932, the Jersey herd classification program which has since steadily gained in popularity.

Mr. McCracken's herd has been classified before. All the other herds will be classified for the first time this week.

BOMB THREAT AGAINST MOVIE CELEBRITIES IS DISCOUNTED AS HOAX

Hollywood, Aug. 6.—(P)—A bombing threat with fantastic possibilities—death or injury to hundreds of motion picture celebrities—simmered down to an apparent hoax today.

Formally-dressed film notables thronged to the $3-a-seat gala opening last night of a week-long performance of three Noel Coward one-act plays for the benefit of the British War Relief association of southern California.

Before the opening curtain a sign was discovered in a telephone booth at a drug store adjoining the theater, reading, "Warning—three time bombs planted in Br. relief show. Do not go unless you want to be blown to bits.—A. C. L."

While the capacity audience—including such personages as Ronald Colman, Charles Boyer, Mary Pickford, Richard Greene, Gracie Allen, Elsa Maxwell, George Jessel, Brian Ahearne, Irene Dunn, Hedy LaMarr, Rosalind Russell, Mary Martin and Simone Simon—sat undisturbed, homicide detectives quietly made a fruitless search for bombs.

SOCE INSTRUCTORS GRANTED LEAVES

Southern Oregon College of Education, Ashland, Aug. 6.—(Sp.)—Miss Allie Depew, assistant professor of English, and R. W. McNeal, assistant professor of geography, have been granted leaves of absence for next year by the Oregon State Board of Higher Education, according to Dr. Walter Redford, president.

Miss Depew, who has been at the college since 1932, has been granted a leave for the fall and winter quarters and plans to visit various experimental junior colleges and to spend some time in travel, study and writing.

Mr. McNeal, who has been at the college since 1927, will spend the fall quarter at the University of California doing advanced work.

FRANKLIN JUNIOR TO BE LAW CLERK

New York, Aug. 6.—(P)—Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., 26-year-old son of the President, has landed a job in the Wall street law firm headed by Eugene L. Garey, who says he's no new dealer.

"After all," said Garey, "the kid wants to be a lawyer and we're not going to treat him any different from anybody else. He'll have to run errands and do everything else that the job implies."

Young Roosevelt, graduate of the University of Virginia law school, still has his bar examinations to pass. He'll begin as a clerk.

$10,000 CASKET TO HOLD REMAINS OF LABOR BOSS

Mike Carrozzo: Former Chicago White Wing Dies a Millionaire—Rise Rapid

Chicago, Aug. 6.—(P)—His associates arranged a funeral with a $10,000 bronze casket today for Mike Carrozzo, boss of 15,000 Union Street workers and hod carriers who started 34 years ago as a penniless immigrant "white wing" and died a country squire, reputedly a millionaire.

Carrozzo was only 45 when he died yesterday at Presbyterian hospital where he was taken for an operation for a kidney ailment but he was the czar of six street paving and maintenance unions as president of the International Union of Pavers and Road Builders and he dominated 18 other local unions as president of the Hod Carriers' and Common Laborers' District Council. He had been assailed by columnist Westbrook Pegler as a "gangster and labor racketeer."

Rise Quiet, Fast
His rise to wealth and power was almost as quiet as it was fabulous and few could tell how he achieved them. Some said he, like Al Capone, once had been a bodyguard of Jim Colosimo during the early prohibition era. But he was a protégé of Timothy (Big Tim) Murphy, old-time Chicago labor leader, and started his labor career as president of the Street Sweepers' union in 1919.

That his rise to wealth was rapid was evident, for he purchased first a $75,000 estate on the Indiana shore of Lake Michigan and later he bought a $140,000 Lake county, Ind., farm with $1,000 bills. It was at the Lake county farm that he established himself as a country squire.

Under Indictment
He was one of 10 union officials indicted June 24 and charged with violating the federal anti-trust laws by conspiring to prevent the use of ready-mixed concrete in Chicago.

When the federal government recently placed a lien of $241,088 against him for 1937 and 1938 income taxes, Carrozzo came to the U. S. courthouse and deposited $277,251 in bonds to lift the lien.

RADIO BANS NAZI FRONT PROGRAMS

Chicago, Aug. 6.—(P)—Radio station WHIP, Hammond, Ind., announced today it had notified the German American National Alliance of Chicago of cancellation of the alliance's einheitsfront (united front) hour, after August 10.

Dr. George F. Courrier, president of the radio station company, said Hammond citizens had been objecting to the broadcasts for sometime and that he had promised to ban the program "if it proved to be subversive."

The program, broadcast in German, carried official notices of the front's activities. The announcer last week urged listeners to attend the "keep out of war" meeting in Soldier Field Sunday.

stereotyping department of the Daily World today when regular union members of the shop staged a sit-down strike.

A dispute has been in progress as to whether the publisher's son should be allowed to work in the stereotyping department. On previous summers he has worked in the editorial, composing and press rooms.

Harold Langham, head stereotyper and his assistant, George Reed, sat on the railing in their workroom this morning while Editor Woods and his son handled mats, plates and molten metal.

RUSSIA FINISHES GRAB OF BALTICS

Moscow, Aug. 6.—(P)—Russia completed the process of absorbing the Baltic states into the Soviet union tonight when the supreme soviet (parliament) voted to admit Estonia, Lithuania and Latvia previously had been admitted.

The supreme soviet sitting in the great white-walled council chamber of the Kremlin, approved Estonia's petition to enter the union as the sixteenth republic by a show of hands, amid ovations for Joseph Stalin, who sat at the back of the officials' tribune.

This action, on the fifth day of the parliament's session, swelled Russia's population to 193,000,000.

Los Angeles, Aug. 6.—(P)—The coroner wrote suicide today after the name of Fred J. MacIsaac, 54, widely known author of mystery and adventure novels, whose body was found in his Hollywood home yesterday with a bullet wound in the head.

Detective Lieutenant William Chase said there was a note on MacIsaac's dresser which said: "This is a case of suicide. I'm ill, tired and going broke."

MacIsaac was born in Cambridge, Mass., in 1886, attended Harvard and worked on newspapers before turning to fiction. His widow survives.

GUFFEY RAPPED FOR 'DIRTY POLITICS' IN WILLKIE ASPERSION

Washington, Aug. 6.—(P)—Senator Van Nuys (D., Ind.) asserted in a formal statement today that Senator Guffey (D., Pa.) had been guilty of "dirty mendacious partisan politics" in declaring in the senate yesterday that Wendell L. Willkie, Republican presidential nominee, was "born and baptized Lewis Wendel Wilkus."

"Having known Wendell Willkie since his birth, visited in his parental home, practiced law at the same bar with his father and mother for many years and being proud of the success of this Hoosier boy, I denounce this attack of Senator Guffey as untrue and as dirty, mendacious, partisan politics," Van Nuys said.

"I do not know or care from what source Senator Guffey obtained his alleged information, but as a native Hoosier, with three generations of Hoosier ancestry behind me, and speaking from personal knowledge, I know that Wendell Willkie never changed nor had any occasion to change his name and that he and his forebears never deserted America or American ideals and tradition. . . ."
