The impressive double ring ceremony took place at the First Christian church in Corvallis with the Rev. C. W. Reynolds officiating.

The stately bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin fashioned semi-princess style with lace yoke and train. Her shower bouquet was composed of gold band lilies and bavaardia. A finger tip veil of silk tulle fell from a wreath of bavaardia.

The bride's three sisters acted as attendants. Mrs. Harold Prindle as matron of honor wore a pale pink chiffon frock with matching hat of tulle. Her bouquet was of pink lilies. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Wanda and Lovelle Shirley dressed in gowns of pale blue, were the bridesmaids. Their small tulle hats matched the dresses and they carried bouquets of pink gladioli.

Dean Ford, the bridegroom's brother was best man and ushers were his cousin, Charles Gilmore, Carl Blood and Rae Crabtree.

Prior to the 8 o'clock evening service, Mr. Crabtree sang "Because" and the Misses Eileen and Jean von Lehe sang a duet of "I Love You Truly". Mrs. M. Moorhead played the wedding music.

Vows were spoken at the altar which was decorated with palms, tall baskets of white gladioli and matching tapers in candelabra. A reception for 125 guests followed in the church parlors.

The couple left later on a wedding trip to the coast. The bride chose a navy blue and white redingote for her going-away ensemble. With this she wore matching accessories and a corsage of white lilies and Blue delphinium.

They are making their home for the present time on the Jacksonville star route here and plan to resume their studies at Oregon State college in Corvallis in the fall. Mrs. Ford is affiliated with Delta Zeta sorority and is a member of the junior class.

ANSWER IS FILED IN ACTION OVER CHILD'S CUSTODY

A return on the writ of habeas corpus in the application of Wilma Hansen against Walter Lipes and Ida Lipes, residents of the Gold Hill district, was filed today in circuit court. The action is for custody of Vernon Houk, eight, by the grandparents.

Exclusive custody of the boy is sought on the allegation the mother is not a fit person to have it. The document cites Wilma Hansen was married at the age of 14 years to Gordon Houk, and in 1935 divorced him, that she then married Chris Hansen, a man 30 to 33 years her senior, and later married Hansen's son, now in the marine corps. Other alleged reasons are cited.

It is further claimed the boy has physical ailments, which require the motherly care now ministered by his grandmother, and that it would be best for the lad if he remained in his grandparents' custody until further order of the court.

Attorney O. H. Bengtson represents the Lipes in the action.

NEWSPAPER FOLK ENJOY BITS FROM FESTIVAL PLAYS

Highlights of the four plays to be given during the sixth annual Shakespearean Festival which opens in the Ashland civic Elizabethan theater Friday evening, were shown before newspapermen, their wives and special guests last night.

Scenes from "As You Like It," "The Comedy of Errors," "Much Ado About Nothing" and "The Merry Wives of Windsor" were enthusiastically received. New sound equipment, full make-up, costumes and lights emphasized the scenes and brought widespread favorable comment. A special orchestra was recruited for the "Much Ado" sequences and will be used during the formal presentation of that play.

Final arrangements are being completed for the formal opening, with "The Merry Wives of Windsor" as the first play. Tickets are available for both sponsoring memberships and single reserved admissions at Pruitt's Music Center in Medford and the Shakespearean theater in Ashland.

The official souvenir program, listing names of all participants, casts and other pertinent information concerning the Festival, will be available for Friday night patrons. Director William David Cottrell announced.

Current indications point to a more elaborate and successful season than has ever been experienced in the past. Committee heads handling the sponsoring membership drive report that reception is much more favorable this year than in the past.
