Stars of "Private Affairs"

Hugh (Woo Woo) Herbert, Roland Young and Nancy Kelly have three of the four starring roles in "Private Affairs", which heads the double bill coming to the Cool Rialto theatre for Sunday and Monday. Modern and breezy in spirit, its action is played in counterpoint against a staid Boston family with a "snooty" background. Young is cast as the aristocratic "black sheep" and Miss Kelly portrays his daughter who sets out to herd her cast-out father back into the tribe. Hugh Herbert plays a taxicab driver and a Scottish nobleman and Robert Cummings has the fourth starring role as a young lawyer in love with Miss Kelly but on the outs with her family. Others in the cast of the year's funniest comedy include Montagu Love, Granville Bates and Dick Purcell.

"Military Academy", featuring Tommy Kelly, Bobby Jordon, David Holt and Jackie Searl, will play as the companion feature with "Private Affairs."
