KEEPING UP WITH the world, fellow citizens of that particular planet, is no longer child's play.

This is the job of management: to match stride for stride with the speeding times.

Until recently the most economical way to move petroleum products from refinery to widespread retail outlets was to dot the countryside with distributing plants.

Here management must keep up with a world that demands long-range trucks operating on improved highways.

Miss Whitney Home From University Of California

Miss Valeria Whitney, who makes her home at the Royalcrest Orchard, returned Saturday from Berkeley, Cal., where she has been attending the University of California.

Miss Whitney will be remembered for her work in Noel Coward's "Hay Fever," which was produced by Robert Stedman at the Senior high school last November.

Among interesting lectures which she attended was the course on the history of the dance by the famous etcher and painter Paget-Fredericks, who toured with Pavlowa as her designer.

Miss Whitney was fortunate to be a guest of Lady Paget at receptions which she gave for Mrs. Alma Spreckles Aul, who donated the palace of the Legion d'Honneur to San Francisco; Mrs. Lorna Williamson Tobin, one of the patrons of the San Mateo Symphony; Louisa La Gai, the famous danseuse; Madame Clerfayt, and Baron George J. Altman, director of the Berlin Opera company.

The San Francisco opera ballet was the guest of Paget-Fredericks at the Greek theatre, where a performance was staged for his class. Medford was well represented, for Miss Whitney met Janet Reed, now prima ballerina of the company, Zoe Dell Lantis, former pirate girl of the exposition, now one of the ballerinas of the company, and Ruth Luy, a student of the Opera Ballet school.

In addition to the university work, Miss Whitney visited Yosemite valley and the Lick observatory on Mt. Hamilton.

Scene In "As You Like It"

Even in the days of William Shakespeare, the question of love was of paramount importance. Here, in a scene from "As You Like It," Jacques is giving Rosalind a lesson or two on the finer points of attack, while Celia listens in.

Shakespearean Play Schedule

Tuesday, Aug. 13, "As You Like It." Wednesday, Aug. 14, "The Merry Wives of Windsor." Thursday, Aug. 15, "Much Ado About Nothing." Friday, Aug. 16, "The Comedy of Errors." Saturday, Aug. 17, "As You Like It." All plays begin at 8:30 o'clock in the Ashland Civic Elizabethan theater.

AUSTRALIAN CRASH KILLS ARMY CHIEF

Sydney, Australia, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Lieut. Gen. Sir Cyril B. B. White, chief of the Australian army staff, and three commonwealth cabinet ministers, died with six other persons today in the flaming crash of an airliner near the Canberra airport.

The ministers, en route from Melbourne to Canberra to attend a cabinet meeting, were: Brigadier Geoffrey A. Street, defense.

J. V. Fairbairn, air. Sir Henry Gullett, vice-president of the executive council.

Other victims were Sir Cyril's chief aide, Col. Thornthwait, Street's secretary and the four members of the crew.

The plane was a Lockheed Hudson bomber. The pilot, forced to land, made what at first appeared to be a successful pancake landing on the side of a hill, but the plane burst into flames almost immediately and the occupants, believed to have been alive when the plane hit the ground, were unable to escape.

BERGDOLL OBTAINS WRIT FOR HEARING

New York, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, World war draft dodger, obtained in federal court today a writ of habeas corpus permitting him to appear in court August 19 to ask release from military prison on the grounds that he has served his sentence.

Bergdoll, who fled to Germany after escaping army guards who had seized him for dodging the war draft, was sentenced by a court martial to five years in Fort Jay prison. The writ will be served on Maj. Hugh A. Drum, commander of the 2nd corps area, and Col. Converse E. Lewis, commandant at Fort Jay.

ERRORS COMEDY IN PLAY SERIES WINS APPLAUSE

A humorous and complicated plot, fast moving narration and skillful handling of characterization combined to please those witnessing William Shakespeare's "Comedy of Errors" in Ashland's outdoor civic Elizabethan theater last night.

The performance will be repeated Friday night, August 16. As a motive for the recently adapted "Boys from Syracuse," the original version was full of complications centering around mistaken identities of four characters. Richard Farmer and Richard Schuchard handled the characters of Antipholus of Syracuse and Antipholus of Ephesus with smoothness and deftness.

James Baughman, as Dromio of Syracuse, the "good man Friday" to the Syracusan character, took top honors in handling a dual role.

Excellent performances were turned in by Harry Moses, as Solinus; Delmar Solem, as Pinch; Douglas Hubbard as Angelo; Burk Yaden, as Balthazer; Joe Beach as the Merchant, and Eldridge Gray as Dromio of Ephesus.

In the feminine roles, La Murle Beck was outstanding as Adriana, the harassed wife; Harriet Uecker took equal bows as Luciana. Smooth characterizations were given by Ninon

King, Doris Danford, Ann Dean and others.

Tonight, in the civic Elizabethan theater, one of Shakespeare's best known plays, "As You Like It," will be given. This, together with the "Comedy of Errors," was held over from the 1939 repertoire by popular demand and is expected to draw a capacity crowd.

In the cast are Delmar Solem, Harry Moses, Phil Honselman, George F. Smith, Don Shanahan, LeRoy Lindner, Richard Farmer, Doug Hubbard, Burk Yaden, Eldridge Gray, James Baughman, John Reischer, Ethel Mae Robinette, Dorothy Lee, LaMurle Beck, Ninon King, Joe Beach, Jerry Vawter, Arden Hall, Robert Childers, Eugene Bennett, Dr.
