

NURSE FROM CHINA GIVES COMPARISON WITH HEALTH HERE

Jackson County Health Assn. Board Hears Interesting Talk by Miss Carlyle

Cows are scarce in China, but babies thrive on soy bean milk—if they can get it. There is no old age assistance, no aid to dependent mothers, no crippled children's clinics, no child guidance clinics, as in Jackson county.

Hospitalization of tuberculosis patients is for men and boys and orphanages are filled with girl babies—this is in part the story of China's health and public welfare problem as told to members of the executive board of the Jackson County Public Health association Tuesday afternoon by Miss Elizabeth Carlyle.

She was guest speaker yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Leonard Carpenter entertained at the executive board of the Health association at her attractive Retreat Orchard home.

Returning in March Miss Carlyle plans to return to China in March "if conditions are such that I can get there," she told members of the board. She left China last February and expressed much concern for that country yesterday because of the recent action of England and France in closing the Indo-China and Burma road, through which China has gained supplies, which have enabled her to fight on.

Chief progress made in Pekin toward public health has been in the field of maternal and child welfare, Miss Carlyle stated adding that Jackson county has such a well established program, that one coming here from China is unable to suggest any needs.

There is much tuberculosis in China and but 200 beds for tubercular patients in Pekin with a population of more than a million and a half people. These beds, Miss Carlyle made clear "are for men." Hospitalization is limited and not to be wasted on women. There is much syphilis "the old disease" but no free clinics for those afflicted. There is but one small city hospital in Pekin for mental cases. There is not as much insanity in China, however, as there is in the United States, it is Miss Carlyle's belief. The women take poison frequently, she added, with suicidal intent, but it is not because of insanity, "usually mother-in-law trouble," the speaker explained. This is the Chinese woman's method of revenge. She takes the poison and dies on her mother-in-law's doorstep.

With the backing of the Rockefeller Foundation, a health center was established in Pekin. Miss Carlyle stated and beautiful buildings constructed at Nanking after the Nationalist government came into power. These have been taken over now by the Japanese as headquarters and the trained nurses are now scattered about China with the armies. "That is the way it is in China," she added. "She tries so hard, then war comes and destroys all that she has done."

Miss Carlyle was introduced to the board by Mrs. J. C. S. Weills, association president, who conducted the business meeting preceding her talk. Question after question was asked the speaker by the interested board members.

MARY LOU MANN SUFFERS INJURY IN CAR SMASHUP

Mary Lou Mann, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Mann, of 47 Rose avenue, suffered a fractured nose and a badly bruised face early this morning when the car in which she was riding, driven by Charity Hart of Central Point, was struck head-on by a machine operated by Albert B. Cooper, 42, of Grants Pass, on the Pacific highway a short distance north of the Big Y market.

Miss Hart, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hart, escaped with minor bruises. Miss Mann was reported resting comfortably at her home today.

Following the accident, which occurred about 1:15 a. m., police placed Cooper under arrest and lodged him in city jail. District Attorney Frank J. Newman said today that a complaint charging Cooper with driving while intoxicated "will probably be filed this afternoon."

According to a city police report of the accident, the car operated by Miss Hart was traveling north on the Pacific highway and that operated by Cooper was moving south. The Cooper car was on the wrong side of the road, police said they learned, and crashed almost squarely into the northbound machine. Both autos were damaged considerably.

21 PURSUIT SHIPS REFUELED HERE IN HOP TO FT. LEWIS

Twenty-one fleet, single-seat Curtiss pursuit planes were refueled at Medford municipal airport this noon. They were divided into small formations for the landing here so as not to interfere with local traffic.

The planes comprised a composite squadron of the 20th pursuit group at Moffett field, near Sunnyvale, Cal. They were being flown to Fort Lewis to participate in the army-national guard maneuvers now being staged in Washington.

While the planes were being serviced, the pilots came to town for lunch in the Hotel Holland. Capt. T. S. Olds was in command of the squadron. The other officer-pilots were Capt. H. L. Sanders, Capt. J. W. McCauley and Lieut. R. M. Loe, L. F. Dusard, J. A. Morris, G. W.
