

ORIGINATOR 6-MAN FOOTBALL NAMED SOUCE DEAN OF MEN

Southern Oregon College of Education, Ashland, Aug. 20.—(Spl.)—Stephen Edward Epler, originator of six-man football, has been secured as instructor in education and dean of men at the Southern Oregon College of Education, according to Dr. Walter Redford, president of the college.

Mr. Epler is widely known in the United States as an authority on the originator of the game of six-man football and is chairman of the National Six-Man Football Rules Committee. He has written a book entitled "Six-Man Football: the Streamlined Game," which was published in 1938 by Harper Brothers. He has also published the official six-man football guide and rule book, which has been released annually since 1935 by the University Publishing Company of Lincoln, Nebraska. Mr. Epler has given instruction in six-man football at a number of coaching schools, including those at Northwestern University, Colgate University and Indiana University.

For the past year Mr. Epler has had the honor of working as a staff member for the Commission on Teacher Education of the American Council of Education. In this work, he worked directly under Dr. Karl E. Bigelow, director of the commission. Mr. Epler received his undergraduate work at Cotner College, where he received the bachelor of arts degree in 1932. His master of arts degree was taken at the University of Nebraska in 1934. For the past three years, he has been studying at Teachers' College, Columbia University for the Ph. D. degree, which will be awarded next summer.

From 1932 to 1936, Mr. Epler was connected with the secondary schools in Nebraska and served in various capacities as instructor in mathematics, science, and athletics. From 1937 to 1939 he was engaged in personnel work in charge of general correspondence and information at Teachers' College, Columbia University. In 1938 and 1939 he served as instructor in sociology at the nurses training school in St. Luke's Hospital, New York, and as assistant in educational foundations at Teachers' College.

At the Southern Oregon College of Education, Mr. Epler will handle advanced courses in educational administration and educational sociology. He will also take an active part in guidance work and serve as dean of men for the college.

Bevy Of Maidens To Participate In Acquadade

Although Billy Rose, famous acquadade maestro, has no part in the formation of the Moonlight Acquadade here Wednesday evening, it is anticipated that never-the-less the spectacle will be one of beauty. The event is scheduled for 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred S. V. Carpenter on the Old Stage road.

And to the Jackson County League of Women voters goes all of the laurels for instigating such a unique form of entertainment as the acquadade. It's a benefit and tickets may be obtained from any League member or from Miss Gertrude Butler at the courthouse.

All League members and friends of the League are invited to attend. It is doubtful even if Maestro Rose himself could have located the dozen or more lovely maidens who will perform in the water event. The following will participate:

The Misses Helene and Jeanne Salade, Peggy Gardner, Jean Schuler, Susan Vilas, Nina Tuttle, Patricia and Colista Farrell, Lois Pringle, Nan Tengwald, Deborah Tummy, Julie Carpenter, Peggy Scherer of San Francisco, Cal., and Ruddy Hale of Lake Forest, Ill.

Also a feature of the evening will be rhythm and team swimming by Miss Marjorie Kelly and Dick Sleeter, both of whom are experts. Other valettes participating during the evening will be Harry Thurman, Wilson Church, Billy Salade and Harlow Carpenter.

After the program guests may swim or play badminton and cards.

To alleviate the parking problem, persons are asked to attend the affair in groups to lessen the number of cars.

Mrs. Culbertson Visits Parents

Mrs. Emory Culbertson arrived here early this morning by plane from her home in Alameda, Cal., to spend a week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rogers at their home on South Orange street.

The movie "Broadway Bill," which is playing today and tomorrow at the Rialto theatre, features Mr. Walburn in a leading role.

DEMOCRACY VALUE TOLD KIWANISANS

Spokane, Aug. 20.—(P)—Attacks by totalitarian states on democratic nations and the surrender of France to Germany have brought to Americans a responsibility such as they never faced before, Mark A. Smith, Kiwanis International president from Thomaston, Ga., said here today. "And," he added in an address to the 23rd annual convention of the northwest district. "I have faith that the 110,000 members of Kiwanis International will do their part to live up to that responsibility." The greatest contribution Kiwanis could make to democracy, he continued would be development of a full realization of the values of democracy among the young people of the country.

Protest Longer Season Portland, Aug. 20.—(P)—A proposed five-day extension of the commercial fishing season on the Columbia river drew a protest yesterday from Celilo Indians, who charged it would decimate the autumn run at Celilo falls, below The Dalles.
