

LARGE FRESHMEN CLASS EXPECTED AT ROGUE RIVER

Rogue River, Ore., Aug. 27.—(Spl.)—With the largest freshman class ever enrolled, Rogue River school will open the fall term Monday morning, September 2. Buses will leave on the morning run using the same time schedule that was in use last year.

Walter V. Dennis, superintendent, recalling that 43 eighth graders graduated from Evans Valley and Rogue River schools last May as against 25 the year before, was confident in predicting an increase in high school enrollment. He did, however, indicate that no increase is expected in the elementary school. The number of instructors is to be 11; last year the number was 12. Students will be registered Monday morning, September 2, and buses will make the home-ward trips just before noon. With the regular classes beginning the next morning, students are asked to consider the importance of the first days of school and attend all week.

For high school students, the book exchange offers rental service at a substantial saving. Books will not be issued from the exchange until the student has paid the fee or has made arrangements for time payments.

Three new teachers will be on the staff this year to fill vacancies left by resignations. Miss Alice Hoffman, graduate of University of Oregon, will teach music. Mr. E. V. Lincoln, also a graduate of University of Oregon, will teach English, wood-working and classes in grades seven and eight. Miss Anna Bell Heath, graduate of Southern Oregon College of Education, will teach grades two and three. Members of last year's teaching staff who will return are Myrtle McGregory, Vivian Widmer, Nell Perrine, Herb Lewis, Edith Knox, Alyce McLaren, Arletta Tyrrell. E. C. Root, orchestra leader will conduct music classes every Friday with the same schedule used last year. Walter V. Dennis, superintendent, will begin the fourth year of service in the school.

W. A. Beck, janitor for 14 years, has cleaned and refinished the floor in both buildings, cleaned the grounds, and redecorated the inside walls and ceilings there where necessary.

Lloyd Smith, bus driver for nine years, has been promoted to assistant janitor and will now be employed full-time by the district. He will operate bus No. 1, and assist the head janitor.

Mrs. Lucy Young, leisure arts instructor who works under WPA, will be in charge of leisure arts classes with the same schedule used last year. Mrs. Young's salary is paid by the Work Progress Administration.

SPEEDY DELIVERY DESTROYERS PLEA

Portland, Aug. 28.—(P)—The immediate dispatch of 50 obsolete American destroyers to Great Britain "right now" was urged by Niel R. Allen, Oregon Legion commander, yesterday.

"Let's get those destroyers steamed up, put Canadians on to run them and send them over right now," he said in a talk before the Rotary club.

The Legion commander said the selective service act was "the only democratic method of raising an army" and declared that "all men and all property should be placed on call during national emergencies."

"There is only one language you can talk to those fellows across the water, and that is organized force," he said.

Fascinating Flower Arrangements Easy Says Author

In recent years the idea of flower arranging has become increasingly popular among women everywhere. Indeed, with many, this is now their favorite hobby. The possible combinations and arrangements are endless and the fun comes in the originality with which one's own thought and personality can be expressed.

Oliver Gustafson, manager of the Coca-Cola Bottling company of Medford, states, "Undoubtedly this interest in flower arranging is responsible for the phenomenal popularity of a book called 'Flower Arranging—A Fascinating Hobby'—recently published and being distributed by the Coca-Cola Company, Atlanta, Ga."

The book is written in a light and fascinating vein by Laura Lee Burroughs, one of the recognized experts in this field. Her ideas and suggestions are illustrated by 48 photographs of flower arrangements exquisitely photographed in full color. It is said that literally thousands of flowers "posed" for their pictures before the final groupings were selected.

At first glance you would think the flower combinations are only for the experts, so strikingly beautiful are the arrangements. But Mrs. Burroughs comments simply on each grouping in a way that is very easy to understand and it isn't long before you begin to see that the only limit to the pleasure and variety of expression in this hobby is your own imagination.

Mrs. Burroughs sums up the whole matter very neatly.

"This book," she says, "is for flower lovers everywhere. It's for Aunt Jane who loves flowers but never knows what to do with them; for the beginner who still thinks roses and asparagus ferns are inseparable; for the hostess of the little hotel where you stopped last summer, who rarely has an opportunity to see what others are doing with flowers; for garden club members who have long been studying this subject; in short for every woman who wants to make her home a pleasanter place to live.

"For flower arranging is a fascinating hobby. Why not try it? Once your enthusiasm and interest are aroused, you will never again be able to place flowers carelessly in a vase. You will develop a critical eye. You will want to make a beautiful picture instead of a haphazard grouping.

"For this hobby, the size of your budget doesn't matter. Use your ingenuity to create beauty with inexpensive material. Study line arrangements and learn to make a few flowers tell a story as eloquently as dozens.

"There are weeds along the roadside that need only to be touched by your imagination to add distinction to your living room. Common mullein has captured prizes in recent flower shows, to the great chagrin of floral aristocrats. Queen-Annes-lace can be as dainty as a bridal veil and pokeberry as ornamental as streamlining.

"If you live in an eighteenth century house, you can make your arrangements as authentic as your highboy by massing them in containers of the period.

"For that early American room, your flowers in a copper lustre pitcher can be as quaint as your hooked rug.

"If your home is just comfortable, no particular style or period, let flowers add distinction.

"Finally, if you are young and your house or apartment is modern, you can literally swing your flowers in the tempo of the times."

Mr. Gustafson said that an idea of the widespread popularity of flower arranging as a hobby may be realized from the fact that almost a million copies of the book already have been distributed. If you are interested in getting a copy for yourself, you can secure one by simply writing the Coca-Cola Company,

Atlanta, Ga., enclosing 10 cents in stamps or coin to help cover the cost of handling and mailing each book ordered.

AXIS DIPLOMATS RUSH TO VIENNA TO CALM HUNGARY

Salzburg, Germany, Aug. 28.—(P)—Adolf Hitler conferred today with axis diplomats in his lofty Berchtesgaden retreat and sent them off to Vienna where, starting tomorrow, they will try to induce Hungary and Rumania to compose their territorial dispute lest it flare into war.

Foreign Ministers Count Galeazzo Ciano and Joachim von Ribbentrop, representing the two ends of the Rome-Berlin axis, lunched with the fuhrer and then took a plane for the capital of old Austria, there to meet the foreign ministers of Rumania and Hungary and their aides.

Adding urgency to the peace-making attempt were reports of Rumanian and Hungarian frontier incidents and of bloody clashes between Rumanian and Russian forces.

The unofficial guerrilla conflict involving red army forces occupying a large area of former Rumanian territory recently ceded to the Soviet union underlined Moscow's position as interested in the outcome of the Vienna conference but uninvited.

Spokesmen of the axis partners were most anxious to tell the world that von Ribbentrop and Ciano would not browbeat the Hungarian and Rumanian representatives into signing on the dotted line any document prepared in advance.

At the same time they left no doubt that differences between Rumania and Hungary must be settled quickly.

JOSEPHINE NEEDS HOP PICKERS NOW, ULRICH REPORTS

There is an active demand for pickers in the hop yards of Josephine county this week according to Lewis Ulrich, manager of the local office of the state employment service. All growers in the area are actively cooperating with the state employment service this year to recruit workers as necessary and to assign them to the various yards as they may be needed so that all workers within the area may be assured of steady employment. Josephine county growers are well pleased with the results obtained through this cooperative system so far this year. The hop yield will be very good this year and pickers are reporting better than average earnings. Price for picking has remained at 1 1/2c per pound in most yards with a bonus of 1/4c per pound to those pickers who stay throughout the season. One yard is offering 2c per pound with a bonus of 1/4c per pound. Space is still available in the Farm Security Administration camp for pickers and their families. The camp is centrally located in the hop yard area within easy commuting distance of all yards. Ten houses, stoves, and fuel are provided camp tenants but they are required to furnish their own beds, bedding, and cooking utensils. Showers, laundry trays and sanitary facilities are provided within the camp area. A full time nurse is on duty to conduct a first aid and health clinic. Ample quarters are provided for 200 families in the camp. Hop picking provides an excellent opportunity for whole families to combine a vacation camping trip with an opportunity to make substantial earnings during the next few weeks said Mr. Ulrich but workers who anticipate moving into the picking area should do so immediately.

They can be assured of camping space within the Farm Security Administration camp, and of a job by reporting immediately to either the local employment office at 45 North Fir Street in Medford, or to the temporary employment office in the Chamber of Commerce in Grants Pass.
