Rialto Comedy

Hugh Herbert brings a new kind of Romeo to the screen in his hilarious portrayal of a romantic gold brick salesman in the new farce-comedy, "Slightly Tempted," which plays today and tomorrow only at the Rialto theatre. Although the popular "woo-woo" man contributes his usual array of rib-tickling antics in the picture, the script also requires that he wage a torrid campaign for the heart of a wealthy spinster while attempting to sell her one of his fantastic "get-rich-quick" schemes.

"One Crowded Hour," a film into which has been poured all the thrills and trials of a lifetime, plays as the companion feature with "Slightly Tempted." Billie Seward, J. M. Kerrigan and Emma Dunn have featured roles.

Pa Jones Role

Jed Prouty plays the jovial head of the Jones Family in their newest picture, "Young As You Feel," which plays tomorrow and Thursday as the added family picture with "Blondie Brings Up Baby," starring Chic Young's popular comic strip characters in their fourth hit.

Hillbilly Picture Here Wednesday

There's one sure way to get a sleepy, lazy, good-for-nothing hillbilly onto his feet and that is to let a pretty girl go straggling by—especially one with a bathing suit on. At least Bob Burns, in his new picture, "Comin' Round the Mountain," opening a four day run tomorrow at the Craterian theatre, thinks it's the fastest way.

Besides Burns and his ba-zooka, the cast of this feuding, routin'-tootin' mountain epic includes Una Merkel, Jerry Colonna, Don Wilson, Pat Barrett and Harold Peary among others.

A two reel special starring Bing Crosby in "Swing With Bing," with Bing playing golf with a group of America's leading professionals, and singing a brand new song number, "The Little White Pill on the Little Green Hill," will be an added attraction on the same program.

pressure continued, and the talks are now progressing more amicably.
