

COUNTY CHAIRMEN OF G. O. P. ATTEND ROSEBURG MEET

Southern Oregon County Campaigns Drawn—K. F. Visit to Hear Wilkie Urged

County chairmen, with various members of their executive committees, representing Coos, Curry, Douglas, Josephine and Jackson counties, met in Roseburg yesterday to lay plans and perfect the program for the 1940 Republican campaign. Some 50 persons attended and great enthusiasm was shown.

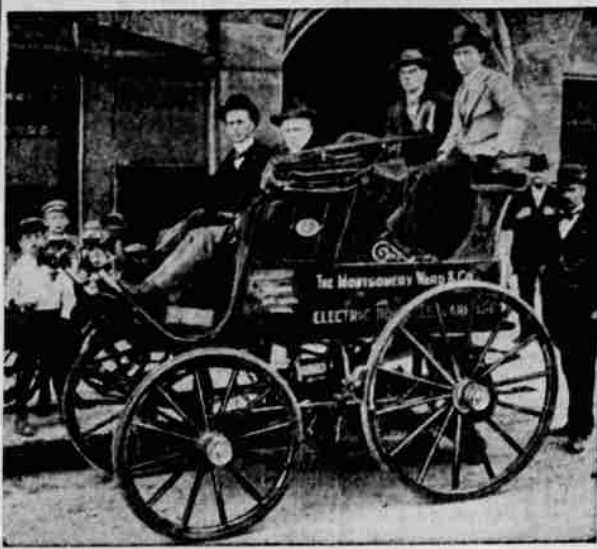

State Chairman Kern Crandall presiding, outlined the campaign and gave many timely suggestions as to methods to be followed. The meeting was followed by a banquet in the evening.

Jackson county was represented by Kenneth G. Denman, chairman, Rosa Galey, vice-chairman, Marie D'Albini, secretary-treasurer, and G. M. Roberts and Alice Peil of the local executive committee. They returned to Medford after the banquet.

Registry Urged

It was emphasized that voters who have not registered have to October 5 in which to register at the county clerk's office in order to be able to vote November 5. Precinct committees were urged to bend every effort to see that each voter is registered in his respective precinct. It was also emphasized that all precinct committees should see that every Republican voter reached the polls on election day.

Crandall assured the group that the state organization would do everything possible to cooperate with the various county groups.

It was brought out at the meeting that Wendell Wilkie will be in Klamath Falls October 2, at about 8:30 a. m. and will speak at that time. It was urged that everyone in the southern part of the state who can possibly be at Klamath Falls do so to hear the Republican candidate. Plans will be announced later of any further detail in this regard.

CARL D. LOBLEY DIES IN ELKTON

Word has been received here of the death at Elkton, Ore., last Saturday of Carl D. Lobley, former well-known Medford resident. His death was caused by complications following an emergency operation for appendicitis. He was buried at Scottsburg, Ore., Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Lobley operated a garage here before leaving for Elkton 11 years ago. Both he and Mrs. Lobley were members of the local Presbyterian church, and his death will come as a shock to a host of friends here. The Lobleys and Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Scripser of this city were especially close friends.

Besides his wife, Marjory, survivors are two young sons, Corland and Delver.

HOUSE FAVORS BARRING REDS, NAZIS FROM VOTE

Washington, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Without hearing a word of opposition, the house passed and sent to the senate today legislation which sponsors said would bar communists, nazis and fascists from naturalization as United States citizens. Passage came on a voice vote.

M-T SUBSCRIBERS URGED TO AVOID LAST MINUTE RUSH

Bargain Days Deadline Is 7 P. M. Next Monday; Phone Call Will Bring Boy

With the large increase in Bargain Days subscriptions this year partly due to more regular subscribers than ever before taking advantage of the special yearly rate, the Mail Tribune circulation department urges those planning to subscribe at the Bargain Days rate to do so as soon as possible in order to ease the inevitable last-minute rush to get in under the deadline, 7 p. m. next Monday.

Those wishing to place their subscriptions with a carrier are asked to telephone the Tribune office, 2141, and a boy will call. The Bargain Days rate for a year by carrier is $6, a saving of $3 over the regular monthly rate by the year, and by mail in Jackson, Josephine and Siskiyou counties is $4.50, a saving of $4.50 over the regular monthly rate.

Russell Has Route 12

Among the 44 city and rural carriers employed by the Mail Tribune is Roy Russell, 16-year-old junior in senior high school, who delivers route 12 in Medford. This route embraces the north side of Main street from Oakdale avenue to Summit street, Summit street, Ross Court, Rose, Quince, Peach streets, and North Orange to Fourth street. Roy delivered papers to 114 regular subscribers yesterday, and he hopes to have between 70 and 80 per cent of them take advantage of the Bargain Days yearly rate.

Roy started selling Mail Tribunes on the streets in 1935 and obtained a route in April, 1937. In addition to delivering his route, he sold papers Saturdays for Bigelows for several years. He also was one of the first boys to sell candy at the packing houses.

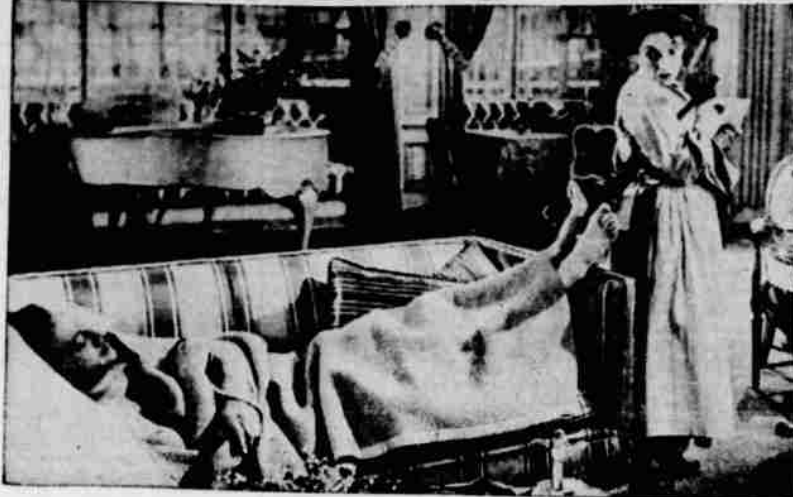

Roy now lives at the edge of town, and with his earnings from his route and other jobs he has purchased a cow and a pig. Roy states he does not know just now what he plans to do after being graduated from high school.

MEIRING SPEAKER AT 20-30 DINNER

Captain H. J. Meiring of Medford's National Defense committee addressed the weekly dinner-meeting of the 20-30 club at Valentine's cafe last night, stressing the opportunities offered young men by their enlistment in the national guard.

Captain Meiring pointed out that everybody could do their part for national defense by encouraging any eligible acquaintance they might know to join the guard. He also told of the national guard's history.

Loretta Young, Melvyn Douglas in Sunday Hit

One of the greatest comedies of the year is hailed as "He Stayed for Breakfast," co-starring Loretta Young and Melvyn Douglas and coming to the Craterian theater Sunday for a three-day run. With the same flair for comedy that has made William Powell and Myrna Loy,

Irene Dunn and Cary Grant, Gary Cooper and Jean Arthur and Claudette Colbert and Clark Gable the screen's top comedy co-stars — so it is with Miss Young and Melvyn Douglas, for as an estranged man and wife in gay Paris, who fall in and out of love, get into a scrape with the police that causes Douglas to go into hiding by posing as his wife (scene above) and their mad-cap escape to America after an all-night jamboree on the Eiffel Tower—they outdo the other teams for out-and-out comedy. Others in the cast include Alan Marshall, Eugene Pallette and Una O'Connor.

FORESTRY CHIEF TELLS PROGRAM AT ROTARY MEET

A discussion of forestry and the economic importance of forests to southern Oregon was presented before the Medford Rotary club Tuesday noon by Karl Janouch, supervisor of Rogue River national forest. Mr. Janouch outlined in detail the comprehensive program suggested for public regulations of forest lands to Rotarians and guests who met at the Hotel Medford.

Mr. Janouch urged Rotarians to interest themselves in the comprehensive forestry program which will result in legislation next year. This suggested program will embrace a sustained yield program affecting all timber lands in the interest of complete fire protection, insect and forest disease control and far-reaching cooperative marketing assistance for mill operators. Counties will be reimbursed for taxes which might be lost through transfer of private timber lands to the government, Janouch pointed out. Reforestation by the government of pri-

PETTICOAT FEVER TRYOUTS SLATED

Tryouts for the all-community play, "Peticoat Fever," will be held next Monday and Tuesday evenings at 7:30 in the Medford high school auditorium, according to Bob Stedman, play director and drama coach of Medford junior high school. The play will be presented here about October 25 for two nights, according to Director Stedman.

Medfordites who viewed "Hay Fever" last year were assured of Mr. Stedman's ability as a director and in general are anticipating this future venture. "Peticoat Fever" is similar to "Hay Fever" in plot and the crazy dialogue and quick action. All persons interested may try out for the play, Mr. Stedman revealed today, adding that new talent is always desired.
