CLEVELAND AGAIN IN LEAD AS SOX DEFEAT DETROIT

Gallant Grove Hurls 13-Inning, 6-5 Boston Victory—Phil Catcher Beamed

By the Associated Press. Life does begin at 40 and Lefty Grove, the gaunt ghost with a magnificent past and doubtful future, has returned to haunt the trembling American league as proof.

Old Mose maneuvered through 13 innings yesterday to conquer the Detroit Tigers 6-5 and cast the chaotic pennant race into greater confusion with Cleveland again in front.

Yesterday Grove was up against the leading pitcher of the league, Buck Newsom, winner of 18 games against three losses, and a gallant team that was on the hot end of a five-game winning streak and in first place in the league.

Greenberg Gets 30th. Grove gave up three hits, one of them Hank Greenberg's 30th homerun, for three tallies in the first inning. But after that he allowed only one run in the next ten innings and was never behind after his teammates tied up the score at 3-1.

He stopped Rudy York, hero of a couple of Detroit's recent triumphs. With the bases loaded and the score tied in the ninth he forced the slugger to ground to short for the third out, and in both the 11th and 13th innings he fanned York for the third out.

His victory lifted the Red Sox to within four games of the lead.

The Indians and Yankees were scheduled for a doubleheader today with Detroit tackling the Red Sox in a single game. Then tomorrow the clubs switch partners.

Sox Subdued. In the other American league action yesterday the Washington Senators subdued the Chicago White Sox 5-2, and the Philadelphia Athletics whipped the St. Louis Browns 6-4 in a night game.

The only National league games that escaped the rain were in a doubleheader that Pittsburgh captured from the Phillies, 11-3 and 11-1, in two big batting displays. Catcher Ben Warren of the Phils was "beamed" by one of Rip Sewell's pitches in the first game and hurt seriously.

WARD, CAMPBELL MOVE AHEAD WITH VICTORIES IN NATIONAL AMATEUR

Mamaroneck, N. Y., Sept. 11. (P)—Defending Champion Marvin (Bud) Ward of Spokane moved into the second round of the national amateur golf championship today with a 6 and 5 win over 54-year-old Ellis Knowles of Rye, N. Y.

Albert (Scotty) Campbell of Seattle and Leo Martin, New England champion from Boston, barely missed having to play off to make the match play grade, but this morning they found even indifferent golf sometimes pays. Campbell was six over par in beating Ed Meister of Cleveland, 2 and 1. Martin, five over, defeated Johnny Lehman of Chicago, 4 and 3.

Wilford Wehrle of Chicago nosed out Toby Lyons of Cambridge Springs, Pa., 1 up.

Tom Sheehan, last year's medalist, was taken to two extra holes before defeating Skee Riegel of Glendale, Cal.

Otto Greiner, young former public linkster from Baltimore, contributed the first upset by eliminating Atr Doering of Chicago, semi-finalist last year, 4 and 3.

OPENING OF DEER SEASON CLOSE AT HAND; LIMIT CUT

Honking of geese as they wing their way through Oregon, marking the beginning of the southern migration of these birds, has served to bring sportsmen to the realization that the annual hunting season is near at hand, it was pointed out in a news release from the Oregon state game commission today.

In just about a week, September 20, the deer season opens. Shortly thereafter, on September 29, the antelope season is on and on November 1, the elk season, both for bull and cow elk, will be officially open.

A new regulation is in effect on blacktail deer—reduction in the bag limit to one deer. There will be no doe season this year and the bag limit on mule deer continues at one deer. The season extends from September 20 to October 25, both dates inclusive.

Open territory for antelope includes parts of Lake, Malheur and Harney counties. The season for these fleet-footed animals extends from September 29 to October 6, both dates inclusive. Special tags have been authorized by the game commission and a limited supply is still available. Any sportsman wishing to go antelope hunting should obtain his tag by communicating with the Portland office of the commission at once.

Elk season opens November 1 and extends to the 16th, both dates inclusive. Bull elk with horns may be shot in Union, Umatilla, Grant, Morrow, Baker and that part of Wallowa county north of baseline and west of the Imnaha river. The cow elk territory lies within the bull elk territory but does not embrace the entire territory. Hunters should refer to the official hunting synopsis for the exact boundaries.

Decision of the game commission to throw open a number of game reserves for deer hunting has made new deer hunting grounds that will accommodate many sportsmen. Last year the commission opened Ochoco, Myrtle Park and Canyon Creek in Grant county and these three reserves will again be open this year. In addition, the following game refuges are also open to deer hunting: Mule deer, in southern Klamath and Lake counties; Steen mountain, in southeast Harney county; Mt. Emily, on boundary of Umatilla and Union counties and that part of the Warner game refuge lying outside of the Heart Mountain antelope reserve in southeast Lake counties.

In Canyon Creek refuge, only bow and arrow hunting will be permitted from the opening of the deer season until October 3.

Tiger Athletes Finally Select College Choices

It's Bob Newland to Oregon State, John Saulsbury to Oregon and Al Barrow to Oregon State, according to the latest (and probably final) dope. . . . Newland isn't planning to play football, concentrating on basketball and track, instead. . . . Saulsbury and Barrow, of course, are gridder. . . . Newland and Saulsbury, we learn, were undecided right to the last which school to attend, and both, it is understood, received fine (and legitimate, Mr. Ather-ton "rides") . . .

That Northern California Baseball league pennant battle is all tied up now, due to McCloud's 3 to 0 blanking of Mt. Shasta City last Sunday. . . . Mangini of McCloud allowed only four hits to best Rex Cecil in a pitchers' duel. . . . the third and deciding game will be played next Sunday. . . . since getting himself a wife, Slamm'n' Sammy Sneed has won three of four golf tournaments he has entered, and finished second in the other. . . .

Here is one reason why the Cincinnati Reds are leading the National league pennant race: Up to this week, the Reds had won 33 games by one run and lost 13 by the same margin. . . . in other words, McKechnie's Rhinelanders possess that ability to cop the close ones, the test of a champion. . . . Medford's Bob Hinman leaves for Willamette university soon to play some more football for Spec Keene. . . . Bob was picked on the all-Northwest conference first eleven last season and should repeat. . . .

Corvallis high, which meets Medford's Black Tornado here September 27, will rely on a couple of transfers to make the team click. . . . they are Ralph Lesh, an end at Dunsuir in 1939, and Dale Humphries, a half back from Goldendale, Wash. . . . Dixie Walker, Brooklyn's slugging outfielder, is the only National league player with a butler on his payroll. . . .

When they get around to naming the minor league manager of the year, Rogers Hornsby of Oklahoma City of the Texas league will probably come in for his share of the voting. . . . the "Rajah," taking a cellar club long after the season started, has boosted them into fourth place and a chance at the playoff title. . . . Seattle's Jack Lelivelt is another minor league skipper who has done a whale of a job this season, although he did have considerable material. . . .

Dick Dunkel, in Life recently, selected Texas A. and M. and Cornell as the two top grid teams of the coming campaign. . . . Johnny Petrovich, the southern California prep star who was barred from a large California university by Atherton's university headed for Santa Clara. . . . Minnesota has 23 returning lettermen, but Coach Bernie Bierman is gloomy regarding his team's chances. . . . Ohio State is rated the probable Big 10 big-wig. . . .

Should Marvin (Bud) Ward win the national amateur now being played, he will become the seventh player in history to turn the trick twice running. . . . the late H. Chandler Egan was one of those other six, doing it in 1904 and 1905. . . . the others were: H. J. Whigham ('06-'07), W. J. Travis ('00-'01), and Jerome Travers ('07-'08 and '12-'13), Robert T. (Bobby) Jones ('24-'25 and '27-'28), and Lawson Little ('34-'35).

NO UPSETS IN OREGON SENIOR GOLF TOURNEY

Portland, Sept. 11.—(P)—Favorites survived first-round matches yesterday in the Oregon senior golf tournament at the Waverley course here.

Dr. C. H. Manlove, Portland, medalist, medaled a 76 to down F. M. Stokes, Portland, 2 up. Oscar Furset, Portland, defending champion, defeated R. S. Farrell, Portland, 5 and 4.

The last census of Turkey, in 1935, showed 7,900,000 males and 8,220,000 females.

PORTLAND WOMEN UPSET FAVORITES

Seattle, Sept. 11.—(P)—There were two casualties among the favorites as the women's western golf tournament went into its second day of match play over the hilly, tree-lined fairways of the Seattle Golf club course today.

Dorothy Traug, 1936 women's western champion, bowed yesterday, one-down, to tiny Mrs. Mary Moezel Wagner of Portland, Ore., the 1940 Pacific northwest women's champion.

Kay Pearson of Houston, Tex., lost 3 and 2, to another Portlander, tall Mrs. Omar Anderson.

SEATTLE, ANGELS SCORE VICTORIES

By the Associated Press. The final week of the 1940 Pacific Coast league baseball wars was underway today with full programs on the slate after a slow start that saw Seattle and Los Angeles continue their winning ways at the expense of the third and fourth place clubs.

While the bottom four teams were idle last night, Los Angeles clinched second place by nipping Oakland, 3-2, before a home-town crowd, and the pennant-winning Seattle Rainiers held their lead of 10½ games by trimming San Diego, 6-3, at the latter's park.

Lou Novikoff, mighty Los Angeles batsman, clouted his 39th home run of the season. Lou Stringer also connected for a homer as Lee Stine held the Oaks to three hits for his 18th win.
