FLUID DRIVE ON NEW DODGE LINE

"If there were news of an automobile that would run without having any engine, it could not provoke any greater interest than the announcement made a few days ago, that 1941 models of Dodge cars will be available with the Fluid Drive," says L. C. Taylor, owner and manager of Pierce-Allen Motor Company, Dodge dealers here.
"Ever since the release of that information we have had a veritable deluge of inquiries regarding what the Fluid Drive is like, how it operates, why it is an improvement over the conventional drive and of course, how soon new Dodge models will be here for local inspection and trial.
"Fluid Drive is one of the things that are difficult to describe in words; one must experience it by seeing and feeling the marvelous improvement it makes in the way the car handles and acts.
"Basically, the Fluid Drive is a drive through oil, with no fixed mechanical connection between the engine and the rear wheels. The oil does it better than it could be done through any fixed coupling. Some of the things that can be done with the Fluid Drive are almost uncanny. For one thing, it makes driving almost unbelievably simple. It enables you to drive all day under average conditions without touching the gearshift or the clutch pedal. You start, stop, then start again, all in 'high.' Think of what it means to drive a car with that kind of silky, smooth performance! And you slip out of soft mud and ease out of snow heaps where formerly it took a tow car to free you.
"On hills you can slow the car down to a mile an hour without stalling the engine. Going downhill, the engine acts as an efficient brake through the Fluid Drive. With all of it, there is nothing new to learn about operating the Fluid Drive Dodge; it is simply much less work at the wheel and at the controls.
"While the Dodge Fluid Drive is undoubtedly the most dramatic of the advances found in the new 1941 models, there are other improvements—so many of them as to make the cars one of the most interesting new-season offerings—even without the Fluid Drive."
