Adventist Church Scene Of Wedding Sunday Evening

Miss Virginia Hight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hight became the bride of Clair Vogel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vogel at a pretty ceremony read Sunday night in the Seventh-Day Adventist church. Elder Adolph Johnson officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of white slipper satin with full tulle veil held in place by a coronet of glazed orange blossoms. She carried a spray bouquet of pink rosebuds and bouvardia.

Miss Mary Hight was maid of honor. Her dress was of aqua blue swiss suzanne and she carried a fan bouquet of white gladiolus. The Misses Marlene Cartwright and Helen Beasley were flower girls.

Roy Carothers acted as best man for Mr. Vogel and ushers were Gerald Pearce, Mark Hoefft, Bob Wild and Norman Carothers.

Vows were exchanged under an arch in a garden setting decorated with baskets of pink gladiolus and ferns. A reception followed the ceremony. The couple will be at home to their friends on the Old Stage road.

Mrs. Heath Home From California

Mrs. Fred L. Heath, Sr., returned to Medford by train this morning from Los Angeles, where she visited for the past three months.

Vitamin A goes far away — B & C cross the sea

THE WORLD OVER, eating habits have only one thing in common—people like food. Give your Eskimo his blubber and he does not ask for fruit salad. Your Arab—whose land is no vegetable garden—usually goes vegetableless. Yet in desert-covered Saudi Arabia this Company has 350 American-trained mouths to feed.

Anyone with American eating habits likes his vitamins. So it's up to us to send along certain American dishes. We tell the market man to wrap up 1000 cases of string beans, carrots, peas, spinach (ah, there, Popeye!)—an entire alphabet of vitamins.

We add 100 cases of artichoke hearts, asparagus tips, mushrooms. We throw in, for variety, 1200 baked hams and a couple of tons of bacon. It's an order that sends our money to the grocer, farmer, cannery worker, and the front brakeman on many a freight train.

Still, it amounts to little compared to the food bought daily by our 19,000 employees. Daily, too, they order clothes and cars and everything else that's nice—enough for a fairish-sized city. Thus, at home, Standard's payroll provides widely those economic vitamins so essential to the well-being of every community.

Newlyweds Will Make Home Here

In an impressive home ceremony Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, Miss Frances Renzema, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Renzema of Ashland and Ralph Van Zyl of Medford were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents in Ashland, with the Rev. James H. Edgar, pastor of the Presbyterian church there, reading the service.

The bride wore a white lace gown with finger tip veil held in place by a coronet of flowers. Her bouquet was composed of pink roses. Her sister, Miss Grace Renzema, was bridesmaid and her frock was pink chiffon.

Andrew Waterman, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man.

Prior to the ceremony, John Renzema sang "Until," accompanied by Miss Grace Renzema, sister of the bride.

The young couple are now on a wedding trip in southern California. They will return to make their home on a farm in this vicinity.

Prospect Couple Wed Saturday
In the presence of members of each family, Miss Leatha Mae Clark and Allen P. Collingwood of Prospect, were united in marriage Saturday morning in the First Methodist church in Ashland.

Attendants were the sister of the bride and a brother of the bridegroom, Dr. George W. Bruce, pastor of the church, officiated.

The bride wore a gown of white and carried a bridal bouquet of pink and white roses. After the ceremony, the couple left for a wedding trip to southern coastal points. They will return to Prospect to reside in their attractive new home.

PACKAGE BOMB? DON'T MOVE IT
Albany, N. Y. (AP)—Empire State citizens have been warned to be wary of suspicious-looking packages.

A special warning to residents is that if a package is observed—whether the size of a cigar box, over-night bag, valise or satchel—lying in a place where it should not be, consider it dangerous.

The police said "such a package might be found in the factory where you are employed, in a place of public assembly such as a church, synagogue or a movie theater, particularly if that theater is presenting a picture of controversial, political, racial or religious character."

"Railroad stations, trains, ferries, bridges, tunnels, river locks also may provide locations for planting of bombs."

Within the past few months state police said subversive and destructive elements "began instituting a reign of terror by placing, in various places, infernal machines, maliciously designed to explode and destroy life and property."

And It Worked
Logan, O. (AP)—Not having the money to buy one, Elmer Neil and Glendale Robinson made a bull findle out of cheese boxes, orange crates, a hickory limb, a mop handle, a wash tub and an old fence post. It worked so well that they used it with the high school orchestra.

Boysers Have Boys
Logansport, Ind. (AP)—Mrs. Charles Boyer of Logansport and Mrs. Charles Boyer of nearby Walton both gave birth to boys the same day in St. Joseph's hospital. The women are not related.

Dwarfs Steak
Rincon Valley, Cal.—(AP)—Gisto Galeazzi would have had mushrooms and steak for dinner only he could not get any steaks big enough to match his mushrooms. He discovered mushrooms measuring each 12 inches across the top and weighing 10 1/4 pounds.

Job Enough, Too
Spartanburg, S. C. (AP)—A woman who enrolled for the recent Democratic primary filled in the occupation blank space with one word—"Mother."

Tubby, Tame Quail
Tucson, Ariz. (AP)—Meet Tubby, perhaps the only domesticated quail in Arizona. Tubby is a 6-year-old bird belonging to Virginia Atkins of Tucson.

BOY SCOUTS PLAN PATRIOTIC EFFORT AT FRIDAY MEET

In line with a nation-wide "Program of Action" for doing their part toward strengthening and invigorating democracy, a picked group of Boy Scout leaders from the Crater Lake Area Council, will meet Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the Boy Scout office according to Larry Schade, council president, who has called the meeting.

The Boy Scout organization with its nation wide membership of 1,500,000 men and boys can make a vital contribution to our country at the present time and in strict keeping with Scouting principles and policies. We are not a military organization, but we are a patriotic movement and we do intend to intensify all of our work, perfect our technique, so organize ourselves that we can definitely contribute through strengthening and invigorating our democracy," said Schade.

The Boy Scout office also announced today the appointment of J. K. Hoey as district commissioner for district two of Medford. He will have general supervision over all scouting and cubbing units in the city north of Main St. A. C. Holmes has accepted appointment as organization and extension chairman for the district according to the Scout office.

A full executive board meeting of the local area council is scheduled for October 11 when Robert Hayes, deputy regional Scout executive and I. E. Vredenburg, assistant national director of health and safety will be present.

"Lost" Turtle Found
Enid, Okla. (AP)—F. M. Lamar is looking for one Bill Statham to return Statham's pet terrapin. Lamar found the terrapin near his home. On its back painted in red enamel were the words: "Bill Statham, August, 1918." The letters were legible despite the apparent 22 years they had been on the terrapin's shell.

Hitch-Hiking
Buffalo, N. Y. (AP)—When it comes to hitch-hiking Keyes Carson, Texas A. & M. student, will take a back seat for no one—unless it be an obliging motorist. Carson, a native Texan, holds an unofficial record for hitch-hiking, having traveled from New York to California in four days time.

Exploration work has been progressing at the cave for weeks, with S. M. Wheeler, archaeologist, carrying on the project and camping near the cave. Robert A. Allen, ex-officio state park superintendent, is supervising the work.

The site may be included in the Nevada state park system. Existence of the cave has been known for years and many Fallon residents, as well as outsiders, have visited and entered the caverns, but no official exploratory work had been done until recently.

VENEREAL DISEASE TOPIC SLATED FOR CO. HEALTH MEET

Next bi-monthly meeting of Jackson County Public Health association will be held Thursday, September 26, it was announced last night at an executive board meeting at the Jackson County Health department. Control of venereal diseases in Oregon will be discussed and the address of the afternoon will be supplemented with motion pictures, Mrs. J. C. S. Wells, association president, announced, extending an invitation to all interested groups.

Mrs. Wells reported to the board on her recent trip to Portland and Salem, where she made a study of the work of the health departments and the Oregon Tuberculosis association.

Twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the Oregon Tuberculosis association will be formally celebrated next spring, Mrs. Wells stated, and plans are underway to gain the participation of persons active in the organization of the various county groups. Mrs. Lewis Ulrich was appointed by Mrs. Wells to head a committee from the board to contact all founders of the Jackson County Public Health association.

BEAVER COLONY REBUFS TOWN

Stockbridge, Mass. (AP)—Beavers are protected by the state but they don't return the compliment—not in Stockbridge at least.

In fact, town officials are becoming discouraged by the perseverance of the animals, who continually build a dam that floods the road from Lake Mahkeenac. Frequently an emergency crew has to be dispatched to the spot and break down the dam so the water can flow under a bridge instead of over it.

On one occasion, however, the rising water wasn't noticed soon enough and it cost the town $150 for highway repairs.

The water usually flows through an opening five feet wide, but the beavers apparently think they are not getting enough water and constantly are adding twigs and debris to their beaver dam.
